Drop-outs Face a Dead End; Jobs Disappear

The doors are slamming rapidly for the thousands of young Canadians who leave high school before graduation.

Once the dropout could make it without a diploma. If he had the brains and the determination. Today his chances are little different for the diploma is more than just a certificate. According to an August Reader's Digest article, it has become "a ticket of admission and more often important a passport to the job you seek for the first time."

That first job used to be easy to get. No super Today most firms insist that even their stock clerks and office boys come equipped with high school diplomas.

Much has been written about automation's impact on our society. For the skilled worker automation means a golden opportunity to move upward. For the dropout, it means more dead ends and disappearing unskilled jobs.

The situation, however, looks hopeful in New Brunswick where the department of youth and welfare report rewarding results from a mixed bag of dropout schemes. Whenever a student reports that he is quitting school his perspective counselor makes many attempts to keep him in school. Failing that, he tries to find him employment. Many dropouts don't know of courses which are available to them. Others don't know of opportunities which exist. We supply this service.

| TOTAL PAYMENT IN EACH YEAR FOR 20 YEARS | | $ 5,798.42 |

BASED ON 1965 ASSESSMENT, WOULD REQUIRE 1.38 MILLS

|---|---|
| 1963 Assessment | $ 4,282,120.00 |
| 1964 Assessment | 4,371,275.00 |
| 1965 Assessment | 4,897,780.00 |

It is noted from the above information that the need, in the Town at large, of the 1965 construction program to new mineral requirement, will be an annual payment of $5,798.42. This amount based on the 1965 assessment would be .388 mills or slightly more than one-third of a mill.

In the proposals for the financing of the construction of the Fire Hall and Public Works Building it is noted there could be annual requirements of $46,440.00 in grants. This assistance from Federal Government, by way of capital Works Program in the amount of $83,761.00 and Provincial Development Loan and Grant program in the amount of $13,769.00.

The Federal Government has announced that the Federal Provincial Winter Works Incentive Program is in effect for 1965-66, ending on April 30, 1966. No announcements have been made for future years under this program.

The Federal Government announced early in July 1965 that the program under the Municipal Development and Loan Act would be changed to provide that the grant would not be deducted or otherwise affected by grants received from other sources. Under this program loans obtained on any construction will have 25% of the loan cancelled if the building is not completed by March 31, 1966, then the percentage of the cancellation will be reduced accordingly. If for any reason, the building program is not completed by March 31, 1967, then all of this cancellation is not allowed and must be repaid with all needed interest. The conference at all the cancellation is earned, then the total borrowing would be reduced by $69,651.00. However to cover this possibility the council is authorized to borrow the amount necessary up to the sum of $82,380.00

Assuming that all grants are received, the yearly amount required on a loan of $69,651.00 would be $5,798.42. Again under the 1966 assessment this would require a mill rate of 1.26 mills.

Elsewhere in this issue of this paper is the advertisement regarding by-law 624, which if passed would authorize the council to borrow the sum of $69,651.00.

Best Bucker, Best Rider At Kinsmen Rodeo

Classic pose in saddle bronc riding, keystone of all rodeo competitions. Horse and rider tangle for ten seconds under standardrules which favor the animal. To withstand the jolting leaps, a cowboy must spend long hours of practice, developing timing and coordination.

Ornery Brahma Bulls At The Kinsmen Rodeo

Crown Blaster curving three quarter ton of cat-quick muscle and bone — plus the unstable disposition of a cornered bear — the cross-bred Brahma bull is the most formidable foe in the rodeo arena. To bring the cowboy escape unscathed, the baggy-clothed clown darts to divert the bull when the 8-second qualifying ride is over.

UNICEF and Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en is that magic, mystical night of the year when even grey-beards become young in heart. Knocking at the door are ghostly or fantastic figures, costumed, wearing mother's high heeled shoes, false faces, funny noses, and carrying the UNICEF Hallowe'en collection box.

The traditional treats given the youngsters are taken with gay abandon. But to the fun has been added he joy of sharing Canadian good fortune.

UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) monies collected at Hallowe'en go to the International UNICEF budget. Funds are used to provide food, finance welfare clinics, equip hospitals and schools, fight the enemies of helpless children — hunger disease and ignorance

Hallowe'en in Canada is not only a night for fun and frolic but also an occasion for sharing Canadian good fortune with those who have so little. The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) is the bearer of good tidings. The dispenser of friendship, the helping hand freely offered and gratefully received.

Support the Kinsmen Rodeo

This week-end sees the staging of the Kinsmen Indoor Rodeo, a show which travels the length and breadth, not only of Canada but of the North American continent.

The Kinsmen bring the rodeo to Vermilion people as a form of real top notch entertainment, and as a means of raising funds to assist their community projects. Even before the doors of the stadium are opened on Friday evening the Kinsmen Club is obligated for $3,500.00 in expense and prize money.

Every person should make it a point to attend. No one will ever get better entertainment for their dollars

The Rodeo is actually an advertising production, every act is one of real action, and there is never a unit between items. One is no sooner completed than another begins. The Kinsmen club is well worthy of the support of 6,000 people, let us fill the arena both nights, Friday and Saturday, October 15th and 16th.

A Cause For Celebration

Completion of the extensive construction program undertaken on the streets of Vermilion during the past summer is a just cause for a celebration or an observance in keeping. Not every town can boast of adding nine blocks of paved roads to those already in use, along with 10 blocks of curb and gutter, and the installation of a storm sewer four blocks long, which drains eight blocks in the town's centre.

Vermilion was fortunate in having the co-operation of the Alberta Department of Highways in this laudable achievement, and it would be fitting if the Minister of Highways took part in any observances planned.

RURAL TESTING

Soil tests taken this fall would indicate an overall lower nitrogen level than normal. The same situation in 1964 caused quite a storm of controversy between rural scientists and farmers alike. Impatience of what was said farmers who followed the 1964 recommendations had excellent yields. The one exception was where the wheat variety was Garnet or Red Bobs.

Soil test results vary between farms. Results vary greatly even when two farmers apparently cultivate the soil at the same depth at the same time, etc. There is no substitute for a soil test. A soil test isn't infallible but coupled with the past and the future plans for the field can result in sensible fertilizer practices. Soil testing kits are available at the D.A. office in Vermilion.

VETERINARY STUDENTS

The director of Alberta's Veterinary Branch says that with more Alberta students the same consideration as those from Saskatchewan will be given. Applications to veterinary students will be discontinued. Thirteen Alberta

Edmonton, Alberta

Dear Editor:

As we grow up in Vermilion and our parents still reside on a farm there, we are frequent visitors by your city usually once a month.

Due to construction in downtown Vermilion and on the hill leading to the bridge and to Highway 41 north we are astonished on three trips we followed the detour off Highway 16 east, past the auction mart and down the rugged hill and the road past the park.

Saturday night at 12 o'clock as we were nearing Vermilion and were becoming anxious to get to the farm, we again met the detour sign on Highway 16 and faithfully took the old detour that as we approached the bridge we were startled to find a huge highway 41 north we were astonished to see a car come flying down the lovely completed highway stage that they are not even to Sedley.

It's late, but if your community would like to sponsor a study group, clinic or school, do not talk it over with either Mercury Doujlas or Marion Bladen

VERMILION EXTENSION

There are people who wonder what a District Agriculturist does with his time Especially when the farmers are busy with the harvest. Lately the D.A. staff and Miss Marion Bladen, District Home Economist have been sampling, surveying, counselling for the community interest. Interest in what kind of an extension program will do the most job for the community. A D.A.'s community includes everyone in his area. Last week, armed with this information, we sat down with all the D.As and DHEs in Northeastern Alberta to plan short courses, schools etc., for winter. Such a bargaining session does have a little of the auction mart about it and a little strategy sometimes pays

CARD OF THANKS

Having now been released and home from hospital after lengthy treatment for what was described by the doctor as a severe heart ailment with its complications, I am pleased now to be in a condition so as to be able to express my appreciation and gratitude to all who so kindly assisted in getting me to hospital during the night of Sept. 13 via stretcher and ambulance. A special thank you to our M.L.A. whom I was informed, was just home long enough to be asleep following his vacation, having stayed with the patient right on to hospital

And now a thank you to Dr. King for prompt action in subduing the severe pain and the giving of instructions to those responsible for further treatment and to all the nurses who assisted in this case. They were a fine group and did everything in their power, according to all my leaving nothing to be desired in working for improved results

On leaving, the doctor assured me that full recovery depended on self, by adhering to plenty of rest, quiet and sufficient sleep

United Church Scene Of Colorful Fall Wedding

First United Church, Vermilion was the scene of an early fall wedding when Mary Ann Grant, daughter of Mrs. Pauline Grant of Vermilion exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Bruce Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brock of Dewberry. Rev. Orrilon Millie performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with a novel arrangement of fruit, bullrushes and with grass in tall glass vases.

The guest pews were marked with orange bows and golden bearded wheat.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Ralph Whitlock, the bride looked radiant in a floor-length gown of French imported lace over nylon net and taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a low neckline and short sleeves, with bow trim at front of waistline which draped at back and a bouffant skirt. Her pouff veil was held in place by a pearl-trimmed crown and she carried a semi cascaded bouquet of red roses and orange blossoms with white satin silver sparkle ribbon streamers. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, a gift from the groom.

The bride's attendants, her sister Mrs. Ralph Whitlock, matron of honor, Mrs. Vincent Fisher and Miss Betty Mathison, were identical street length dresses of emerald green velvet. They wore matching petal hats of velvet and nylon net and carried crescent bouquets of bronzed roses and bearded wheat sprays, with gold ribbon streamers. Their only jewelry were amber bead necklaces, gifts from the bride.

Groomsmen were Messrs. Jack Brock, brother of the groom, Raymore Blakely and Gilbert Mathison. Mr. Bill East and Mr. Elmer Jones were the ushers.

Mr. Jack Brown played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Miss Shirley Bloomingdale sang "O Perfect Love". For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Grant wore a gold two-piece mohair suit trimmed with fox fur, black accessories and a corsage of bronzed roses. The groom's mother chose a peacock blue jacket dress with beige accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Greenacres ball for three hundred guests.

The bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake decorated with red roses and topped with a white nylon crowned-shaped floral ornament, flanked by orange and gold tapers and vases of flowers.

Mr. Jack Brock was master of ceremonies. When the guests were seated at the tables Mr. Russell Dodds sang "Bless This House", accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Fulton. Mr Max Madden asked the blessing. Mr Tom Applegate proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. Mr. Gib Mathison proposed a toast to the bridesmaids.

Miss Dorothy Mathison was in charge of the guest book.

Later in the evening a dance was held in the hall in honor of bridegroom-elect Brock and the young couple.

For travelling the bride wore a light blue three-piece suit with black accessories and a black corsage of pink rose corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock will live at Brock where the groom is operating a grain elevator. Mrs Brock, a nurse, plans to work in the Viking Hospital.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Grande Prarie, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, Lloydminster, Riverhurst, Viking and Lougheed.

Greenlawn Goodwill Club

The September meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill Club was held at the home of Mrs Doris Jones with fifteen members and one visitor present. Owing to the rainy weather the president invited the ladies to her home instead of holding the meeting in the hall as planned. Some of the ladies took the longest road around for the surest way there.

The main topic for discussion was the reception for Bruce and Mary Ann, which the ladies had decided to cater to. Blanche Stone invited the ladies to her home on Tuesday evening to a shower for Mary Ann.

The meeting came to a close with a lovely lunch served by the hostess and daughter Darlene.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Annabelle Sikora.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Esther Meyer, a 50-year-old owner of a small store who makes $5,000 a year.

If Esther continues to earn the amount from her business until age 65, she and her husband, who is disabled and cannot work, can look forward to a retirement income of $1504.17 from the Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $179.17 a month. When her husband reaches Old Age Security, their income will be $254.17 a month.

Should Esther die anytime after 1967, having contributed until her death, her husband will receive a disabled widower's pension of $64.66 a month until he reaches age 65. At that time, or if he is already 65 when Esther dies, his pension under the Plan will be $62.50 a month plus $75 a month Old Age Security, their income will be $254.17 a month.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The annual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If, like Esther, you have self-employed earnings of $5,800 a year, you will pay $156.40 a year which is 3.8%, of $4,600, the maximum amount upon which contributions are payable. Payment will be at maximum is the same way you pay your income tax.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada.
The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Manville U.C.W. Appeals For Children's Clothing

MANVILLE — The United Church Women met for their September meeting in the Christian Education Rooms. President Mary Smith welcomed Mrs. Richards and Beatrice Wilson.

The worship service led by Annie Hubbard opened with the old favorite hymn "Stand Up For Jesus". She referred to the book of Luke where it said Jesus wept over Jerusalem.

A short mission study on Brazil was led by Mabel Finlay. Ethel Chrysler, Mae Panter and Mabel Gamble assisted. All people are our fellow men and we should help them. Brazil has mastered the art of combining nationalities without bitterness. Some in Brazil are very wealthy but many are nearly starving. The Christian Church has long neglected its duty to Brazil so let us help here and now to make up for this neglect.

Mrs. Tredger, program convener for St. Paul Presbytery may speak at the next meeting.

Clothing is badly needed for children from two to eight. Please leave donations at the United Church. $5.00 was voted for the Overseas Blanket Fund.

The president Mrs. Morris Smith and the treasurer Mrs. Linda Smith attended the Presbytery executive meeting and reported it very much worth while.

Letters were read from Mrs. Peterson and Mrs Whitford.

Mabel Gamble reported on the C.G.I.T. leader's retreat at Pigeon Lake. Leaders ages range from 21 to 43 and the majority had no special training.

Pretty Wedding At Holy Name Church

A very pretty summer afternoon wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, August 24th, at 2:30 p.m. at Holy Name Catholic Church when Father Keenan united in marriage Vernelle Eleanor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Budzilka and Kenneth James Graham, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walling, all of Vermilion, in a double ring ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father walking to a flower banked altar, where the groom was waiting.

She looked charming in a full length white peau de soie sheath gown with a lace bodice and a round neck. A short full circular veil was held in place by a white flowered head piece. A sparkling bracelet — a gift of the groom — was her only jewellery. She carried a bouquet of red roses. The bride-maids were Mrs. Olga Madill of Calgary a sister of the bride and Miss Judy Locker of Edmonton, who were identical long sheath dresses of dark blue brocade with chiffon head pieces held in place by a matching flower. Each carried yellow mums in bouquet with white streamers and matching earrings — gifts of the bride were their only jewellery.

The groomsmen were Zig Budzilka, brother of the bride and Frank Knox, a friend of the groom.

The flower girl was little Theresa Budzilka niece of the bride and the ring bearer was Brent McFayden, nephew of the bride.

Robert "Rod" Graham brother of the groom and Don McFayden, brother-in-law of the bride usher-ed the guests to their seats.

Out of town guests were Mr and Mrs Allyn Cameron, Alex and Gordon Cameron, relatives of the groom from Peace River; Mr and Mrs. Chris Wallington from the same district; friends from Cardston; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgett, Mr. Dewberry, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fargeau, Viking; and Lloydminster.

A reception was held in the Legion Hall after the bride's table was centred with a two-tier wedding cake decorated with red roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Flanking the cake were white tapers in crystal candelabra and vases of red roses. Mrs. Budzilka and Mrs. J. Dewberry, friends of the bride, assisted by Mrs. J. Knox, presided.

Mr. Bagshaw was master of ceremonies and read telegrams from friends far and near.

A dance to the music of Mr. Lambert and his orchestra followed the reception.

For travelling the bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham will live in Vermilion where the groom is employed by Imperial Oil.

Utility Companies Unveil New Mobile Generating Unit

A mobile generating unit capable of providing emergency electric service for a town of 1,500 to 1,500 people was unveiled in Edmonton Wednesday by J. C. Tait, president of Canadian Utilities Limited and Northland Utilities, Limited.

The unit was designed by the two companies for use in their service areas in Alberta, B.C. Saskatchewan, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon. The generator was supplied by R. Angus Ltd. of Edmonton, installation of the unit and all switchgear was carried out by Bennett & Brown Ltd. of Calgary. Installation of the unit and all switchgear was carried out by Bennett & Brown Ltd. of Calgary. Installation is by Edmonton Trailb Body Ltd. The estimated cost of the project is $80 000.00.

The Caterpillar V12 (twelve cylinder unit is turbo-charged, after-cooled operates at 1,200 r.p.m. 2,400 volts, and is equipped to operate unattended. Its constant generating capacity is 600 kilowatts, but it is designed to handle 800 kilowatts during periods of emergency.

The case of the unit includes the provision of on-site power generation for emergencies such as storms and floods which may cause major power breakdowns, temporary power during rebuilding of lines and substations, and service to rural areas during major line changes. It is particularly suitable for hooking up isolated northern plants in case of generator breakdowns.

Initially the unit will be used in the Peace Hills area, while workmen carry out a scheduled conversion change in the transmission line it will carry the unit on to Camrose, Alberta, 60 miles southeast of Edmonton, during a scheduled power outage so the result of a severe ice storm last spring, and it will be used for thermal up generation capacity at Jasper Alberta, this coming winter and spring.

Although this is the first of this type of unit to be operated in Alberta, Canadian Utilities did have a railroad generating plant (First of its kind in Canada) which they put into service in Alberta and subsequently in the spring of 1958.

American Educational Director Guest Speaker At Rotary

Dr. Richard Miller shown above, was the guest speaker at the A.T.A. Vermilion convention recently and addressed the Rotary Club while here. In his talks he outlined the various factors forcing change on Education, and gave some present and future direction of American Education. Dr. Miller is director of the program for the Study of Educational Change at the University of Kentucky, and his program is focussing on how ideas and innovations move into the mainstream of American education.

"The explosion of knowledge or the 'information revolution' is perhaps the most important single factor forcing change upon education", Dr. Miller emphasized. In his opinion, coverage of a field is no longer difficult; it is impossible. He states that serious critics of education, both in schools and in colleges, are not as concerned over the amount of knowledge that students possess as they are concerned about lack of understanding of what they know.

Opportunities For Veterinary Students

Alberta students have been assured of some opportunities for entering the College of Veterinary Medicine in Saskatoon as announced from any other western province.

Dr. J. G. O'Donoghue, Director of Veterinary Services, Veterinary Services Branch, reports that the Department of Agriculture has agreed to share instructional costs. Under this agreement the College will receive an annual grant of $2500 for each student enrolled from Alberta.

According to Dr. O'Donoghue, thirteen Alberta students have been accepted for this fall out of a total enrolment of 32. With facilities not yet completed, the College has decided to limit its students to this number during its first year of operation.

Up to now the Department has provided assistance to veterinary students in the form of direct grants of $300 a year. Although these grants have been discontinued, the 24 Alberta enrolled at colleges in Canada and the U.S. before 1965 will continue to receive the grants until they graduate.

The grants were originally started to encourage Alberta students to take a veterinary career and to compensate for the lack of educational facilities in Western Canada. When grants were first started in 1945 there were only twelve veterinary practitioners in the province compared to this today.

Dr. O'Donoghue points out that veterinary students, like other students, are eligible for grants, loans and bursaries under the Students' Assistance Act According to the survey which administrators like Act, 11,600 awards and loans totalling $8,970,000 were made last year. With the recent increased assistance policies, the total is expected to increase substantially in the future.

Mannville Nurse Appointed To Important Position

The following story is taken from the Edmonton Journal with the central figure being Miss Louise Tod, a Mannville lady. Miss Tod is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tod of the Scotstown district, south-east of Mannville. She took her early schooling at the Scotstown public school, later attending the Mannville high school, then taking her nurses training at the Royal Alexandra hospital in Edmonton.

Miss Tod is now the employment relations officer with the Alberta Association of Registered nurses.

The Journal story follows:

There is a strong move to ward collective bargaining among registered nurses across Canada.

In Alberta, nurses are being encouraged to form local negotiating groups; while the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses strive to have the Nursing Act amended to allow it to act as a legal bargaining body.

"There's been a need for change for a long time" said Miss Louise Tod, employment relations officer with the AARN.

NEW POSITION

Miss Tod was appointed to the newly-created position by the AARN in July.

"I was hired by the AARN as committee co-ordinator a year ago — one of the committee dealt with employment relations," she explained.

She found that most of her time was spent with the problems faced by nurses in employment relations and the AARN realized the need for a full-time position.

The employment relations officer, a graduate of the Royal Alexandra Hospital School of Nursing and holder of a bachelor of nursing with a major in nursing administration from McGill University, is concerned with providing and developing the managerial level nurse associations within individual hospitals.

NEGOTIATE

These associations would negotiate with the individual hospitals regarding working conditions and salary levels.

"The AARN recommends I am ing these associations on a voluntary level," said Miss Tod "if necessary, however they can become compulsory.

Once the association has been certified by the Board of Industrial Relations as a group negotiating body the employer must meet with it.

Alberta now has three certified groups — at the Royal Alexandra, Calgary General and the Lethbridge Municipal hospitals and about 20 initial groups.

REACTION

How have the hospitals reacted to the formation of these associations?

Some have been very cooperative and have met with the nurses to discuss their problems, others have not and have refused to negotiate or have not even recognized the efforts of the nurses.

If a recognized nurses association becomes organized or certified under the Alberta Labor Act, Miss Tod will assist in the development of constitutions and bylaws.

However the AARN does not come the official bargaining body for all Alberta nurses.

A Commendable Job By Agricultural Service Boards

Alberta's 28 agricultural service boards administer legislation and provide many other services to municipalities and their residents. Their operations are financed largely by provincial grants. According to W. Lobay, Supervisor of Agricultural Service Boards, there are 1,200 employees in the province, including 1,000 seasonal workers. Mr. Lobay is chief of Soils and Weed Control.

Mr. Lobay has very experienced staff with which he can call on a number of service board units every year in the province. The following are typical of the kinds of jobs done in making herbicides, fertilizer applications, pasture improvements, pasture development, insect control, plant disease control, brush spraying operations, and the management of land taken under supervision or reclaimed because of weed and soil problems.

PLAY IMPORTANT PART

Although some of the projects are being carried out on a small scale because of limited funds and jobs exist, Mr. Lobay feels that they play an important part in pointing out to farmers how, when, where and why certain activities must be undertaken by landowners as part of the privilege of owning land.

WEED CONTROL

As a result of a concerted promotion by service boards, about 67 per cent of last year's cereal crops were treated with 2,4-D and related compounds. This year's figure is expected to be about the same. In the same period last year about 1 million pounds of soil amendants were supplied to weed patches and approximately 7,000 miles of road sides were sprayed and seeded to recommended grass mixtures to prevent erosion and weed growth.

During this past summer about 27,000 acres of Alberta's woods were treated to landowners, and seeding was conducted on about 25,000 acres because of Board's perennial weed infestations.

LAND RECLAMATION

The ARDA Land Reclamation Project is another program which has been undertaken by service boards. Most municipalities are doing some work on a limited scale in co-operation with the farmers concerned to reclaim land damaged by wind and water or seriously infested by perennial weeds.

RECREATION PROGRAMS

In addition to the above AS boards agricultural service boards are involved in pest control and brushbreak programs. They are also responsible for a great many regulatory duties and for making recommendations to the

Kinsmen Rodeo Plays To "Turn Away" Crowd

Vermilion Kinsmen's fifth annual rodeo is history, but for the spectators it is history of pleasant memories.

An above average first night audience of 1500 Friday was a good start. Saturday was even much more of the same with approximately 2500 jamming the Stadium by the 8 p.m. starting time. A further 300 to 400 were turned away because of the lack of room.

Several district riders and rodeo fans entered one or more of the events, with many of the area performers appearing in the arena semi-weekly. Bill Cranston of Marwayne was top district man in this event, a good third Vermilion district cowboys were also represented in the all roping events both nights. Jim Tattersall of Wainwright, Don Henry of Paradise Valley and Jim Hines of Marwayne all filling entries for this event.

We owe overall direction of this year's rodeo was the responsibility of Johnnie Arnett, President of the Kinsmen Indoor Committee and all the Kinsmen and their families helping involved on two or even three rounds.

The Kinsmen Club would like to take this opportunity of thanking everyone of the business men of Vermilion for their support and donations of prizes. Without them it would be impossible to put on a rodeo. Thanks also goes to all the ranchers whose stock was used.

Vermilion Value Days

Vermilion Value Days, sponsored by the business men of the Town of Vermilion, presents a real opportunity to obtain all the needs of the family and the home at unusually low prices. In fact Vermilion merchants claim that during these three days the dollar regains its old time value and buying power in Vermilion.

It will be of benefit to everyone to survey this special issue of the Standard very carefully. It is in fact a catalogue of all the leading stores, garages and business services in Vermilion, all very anxious and willing to serve and to the best of their ability. Without the co-operation of these advertisers it would have been impossible to publish this value days edition which is distributed directly to local families in the shopping area with a possible population of 10,000 people. The market reached by this issue of the Standard is a tremendous one, and each and every person is invited to visit Vermilion and to take advantage of all the bargains offered.

More Grain Cars

The Canadian National Railway is converting 1,000 hopper cars, by installing grain gates and roofs, to make them suitable for hauling grain. This is being done to help alleviate the shortage of suitable grain cars and thus facilitate the vast movement of grain necessary to fill Wheat Board commitments during the present crop year.

These cars will be used for the movement of wheat to Fort William as only certain elevators including four Pool terminals at the Lakehead will be equipped to unload them. The western movement from Alberta will benefit, however, in that an equal number of regular grain cars will be released and some at least will be put in service to the West Coast.

PICTURES OF FAIR NEEDED! Society in distress of taking part Dear Editor:

The Western Canada Fairs Association is soon to meet in annual session at Regina at which time Mr. Orton A. Strome of Vermilion will officiate as president, and the Vermilion Agricultural Society is desirous of taking part in an evening devoted to the promotion of the town from which the president comes.

With this in mind the Agricultural Society desires to obtain, on loan, either slides or movies of Vermilion Fair including the parade. The Society will take care of and return the pictures as soon as the meeting has been concluded and will greatly appreciate the co-operation of those assisting.

Available slides or movies should be turned in to S. C. Heckbert as soon as convenient and receipts will be given to friends who make such pictures available.

Thanking you for your valuable space.

Yours truly,

MODEL BARN AND GRAIN STORAGE SCHEMES

The country must be still full of suckers or there wouldn't be so many ministers around. Last winter and spring well spoken salesmen obtained the signatures of many farm families on water contracts. There was no down payment and with the contract said the fabulous oil-based company would deliver running water to the house for a stated number of years. There was no payment required until the water ran.

This water ran through a drilled hole at the end of a half inch plastic hose that may or may not have been adequate. The pitiful amount of moisture capacity with this outfit a little enough pressure.

Now a smooth talking salesman has been selling model barn and grain storage schemes. Bruce Farmer and Better Business Bureau director says these salesmen can only exist around the fringes of the farmer's situation. They suggest that your farm will be sold and other people (of course you will get a discount) will be brought in. Rush tactics are used with the threat that if you don't do it the whole thing will be sold elsewhere.

WHAT YOU GET

What do you get? 1. over-priced 2 year guarantee; 2. very poor materials; and 4. if you are a progressive type there are not to a lending agency that will provide remodelling. Legal advisors of the Edmonton Better Business Bureau suggest:

Don't be panicked into signing anything you don't understand. Take your time and read the contract carefully. Check the reputation of the company with your Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce. Don't sign a contract that has any blank spaces in it. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite completion date. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite price. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the work to be done. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the materials to be used. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the guarantee. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the warranty. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the insurance. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the bonding. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the arbitration. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the dispute resolution. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the termination. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the renewal. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the assignment. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the subcontracting. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the insurance. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the bonding. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the arbitration. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the dispute resolution. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the termination. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the renewal. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the assignment. Don't sign a contract that does not have a definite description of the subcontracting.

DEAL LOCALLY

The advantage of dealing with local businessmen as opposed to this hasty at the door buying and contract signing is that the reputable are cheaper in workmanship better and the decision is not rushed under high pressure tactics. At least the local businessman will be around to complain to if the product isn't any good.

BRUCELLOSIS

Dr. H. E. Morris tells us that the certification of the County of Vermilion River as a Brucellosis Control Area expires next March 1st. He asks that to remain in this area all previously infected herds must be retested. The Brucellosis Control Area certification is dependent upon this retesting of previously infected herds and also two preventing programs which operate continuously throughout the period of certification. These accompanying programs are the Brucellosis Ring Test on dairy herds and cream marketed throughout commercial creameries and the Stockyard Cow Test on cattle marketed for slaughter purposes. These accompanying programs are further indicators that may be detected and traced to the farm from which the product or animal originated.

The Blood Cow Test depends on herd tagging of market cattle and blood taken and it is the farmer's responsibility to see that slaughter cattle are herd tagged.

Dr. Morris says that retesting of previously infected herds will be completed this fall and by using the two preventing programs the Canada Department of Agriculture, Health of Animals Branch, will continue to keep the County of Vermilion River a Brucellosis Certified Area.

WEED FLAVORED CREAM

Mr. L. R. Beckett, Provincial Dairy Specialist, urges cream shippers to guard against production of weed flavored cream. At this time of year many cows are allowed to graze on stubble fields and often find luscious stinkweeds and other weeds to tempt their palate. The result is a very objectionable flavor in cream which can only mean less money for the producer. By moving cows from stubble three to four hours before milking will help to overcome objectionable cream flavors.

While returning to his home four miles south of town, on his bike following school on Wednesday, Dale Hollen, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hollen, was hit by a car on the Wainwright Highway in front of the south side residence of Harry Elliott.

Five lost Thursday evening at the Grizzley Bear Ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright, caused some $800 damage to the house and a further loss of $1200 in clothing.

Reg Spencer was displaying some beautiful ring-necked pheasants last week-end, trophies of a hunt in the Brosda area.

A capacity enrolment of 300 students will register at the Vermilion School of Agriculture next Tuesday and Wednesday, 135 boys and 65 girls. The student coming the greatest distance will be Alex Jackson whose home is in Deer River.

Whitwell who has been harvesting binder-ads in the Vermilion district threshed half a million bushels of No. 1 wheat since, an average of 19 bushels per acre. He also threshed 4000 bushels of oats. This man evidently followed a splendid shooting for a short year.

Business Bureau ask consumers to be sure to have the words non-negotiable typed into all promissory notes and to take time to think before signing.

Britannia Rebekah Lodge Celebrates 50th Anniversary

It was a momentous occasion for the members of the Britannia Rebekah Lodge No. 68 on Monday evening Sept. 27th, when they gathered at the Italian Hall to celebrate their 50th anniversary.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the affair and the invited guests numbering approximately one hundred, began arriving about 7.30 to be met by the receiving committee, District Deputy President Mrs. Beryl Smallwood and Mrs. Madge Calnan. They were asked to sign the guest book by Mrs. Grace Jack and given souvenir menu bags by Mrs. Doris Martin.

BOUQUET OF ROSES

The presentation to the Noble Grand, Mrs. Edith Logan, of a beautiful bouquet of golden roses, by the members of the Ladies of Lodge of Wainwright, started the evening off on a very happy note.

PRESENT TABLEAU

The two charter members in attendance, Miss Beth Witherbe and Mrs. Annie Cameron, presented a tableau during the evening. It depicted the first meeting night in 1915, stirring up many happy memories.

Miss Witherbe read the minutes of the Britannia meeting which were in her own handwriting. These having been written fifty years ago, on July 26th, 1915. Miss Witherbe was installed that evening as secretary, an office which she held for many years.

This travelling back in time was much appreciated and very well received by the large audience. They were then given the present by being made acquainted with the many accomplishments of Rebekah Oddfellowship in Vermilion.

FIFTIETH TRIBUTE

Corsages and boutonnieres were presented to the two charter members and to the oldest guests, Mrs. Addie Mead was commended and presented with a corsage for her faithful service as lodge pianist for the past twelve years.

A short but very impressive service followed, honoring the departed members.

The Rebekah Degree of 1965 was exemplified, with the members looking very dignified in the costumes of that period. The participants in this degree received high praise from Grand Master E. Neilson and the many guests.

SPEECH PRESENTED

Miss Beth Witherbe and Mrs. Annie Cameron having been faithful members since the inception of the lodge, came forward to receive their "Fifty Year Jewels".

It was a very happy occasion for Mrs. Cameron as she had members of her family present to witness her honor. Her daughter Mrs. Jean Kinz of Hanery, B.C., and her son and daughter in law, Ray and Esther Cameron of Ottawa.

Miss Witherbe also had a special guest present, in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Dewar of Big Valley, Alberta, a lifelong friend.

Two other members were also recipients of jewels, Mrs. Mable Martin, her 20th, and Mrs. Edith Logan, her fifteenth.

GUEST SPEAKER

Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Alberta, Elmer Neilson, was the guest speaker of the evening, and brought congratulations and best wishes from the Grand Lodge. He addressed the gathering on the topic "Why I am glad to be an Oddfellow".

Telegrams, cards and letters of congratulations were received from several lodges, while Ray Cameron extended congratulations from the Grand Lodge of Ontario.

The gift of a beautiful anniversary cake plate was received from the Fern Lodge at Innisfree.

A vote of thanks was made by Mrs. Edith Logan, acting Noble Grand, for the success of the evening. She in turn thanked all those who had served on committees and Mrs. Olga Eide and Mrs. Berberena Hutton for the lovely duets.

The evening was brought to a close by the serving of a delicious lunch. A beautiful three-tier anniversary cake, baked by Mrs. Marie Martin and decorated by Mrs. Ann Carne, centred the table flanked by golden tapers.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. A. Cameron, Miss Beth Witherbe, Mrs. Edith Logan and Mrs. McCarty.

The evening of Sept. 27th, 1965 was an outstanding success and one that will be long remembered by all present.

Britannia was honored to have as their guests, Grand Master Neilson, Calgary, Grand Master of Grand Lodge of Alberta; Grand Marshall A. Cook, Edmonton; Lady Clark, Past President of the Ladies' Auxiliary Patriarchs Militant, Edmonton; Past Grand Master Fred Hill, Irma.

Out of town guests and delegations from the following lodges brought congratulations and good wishes: Mrs. Roy Dickerson, Ottawa; Mrs. Jean King Wetherell and Mrs. Elizabeth Dewar, Big Valley, Alberta; Mrs. Isabel Pickett, Mrs. Doris Martin Edmonton Rebekah Lodges Maple Leaf and Jewel, Edmonton Princess, Fort Saskatchewan, Silver Link, Killam, Adeline Wainwright and Fern, Innisfree.

High School "Marauders" On A Winning Streak

By Margo Bixby, P.R.O.

LOCALS WIN WAINWRIGHT BY 19-13 SCORE

The first game for the R.H.S. Marauders was played Saturday, Oct. 2nd at Robson High. Although the Marauders did not play up to their usual form, they managed to stay ahead of the Wainwright Commandos and win by a 13 to 12 score.

Blake Tisdbury scored for Vermilion early in the first quarter. Len Isley converted and Marauders led 7-0. An unconverted touchdown later in the half made the score 13-0. However, the second half was dominated entirely by Wainwright, as first Tom Shaw, and then Mayne Miller crossed the Vermilion goal line. Neither touchdown was converted, and the score read: Vermilion 13, Wainwright 12.

With two minutes remaining in the game and the Commandos at the Marauder 5-yard line, Wainwright was penalized and moved back to the 20-yard line. Bill Isley intercepted a pass and Vermilion remained in possession of the ball until the gun sounded.

Outstanding player of the game was rookie Bill Isley. Ron Jones, Rick Young, Blake Tisdebury and Gary Tisdebury also played well

MARAUDERS WIN OVER LLOYDMINSTER 23-15

Things looked grim for the "Mighty Marauders" for most of the game on October 11 against the Lloydminster Border Bruisers. Few of the plays seemed to click and the boys were behind until the last quarter. Twice they failed to score from within the Lloydminster 10-yard line.

The Lloydminster Border Bruisers opened the scoring early with a safety on the kick-off. An unconverted touchdown by Baron quarterback put them ahead 7-0. Vermilion retaliated soon after as Rick Young scored and Gary Tisdebury converted to tie up the game. The Barons put on the pressure again in the second quarter and made another TD which was unconverted. Two rouges made the score 13-7 at the end of the half.

Both Marauder offense and defense came alive in the last half as the Barons began to tire. A goal line plunge by Darwin Heinemann and the convert by Gary Tisdebury shortened the gap to 1 point. Minutes later a 30-yard pass and run play from Darwin to Gary put the Marauders ahead. Gary ran the convert and the score read 21-15 for the final buzz. A safety touch seconds before the final whistle made the score 23-15.

As indicated above Darwin Heinemann and Gary Tisdebury played very well despite an injury to Gary in the first half.

Pretty Autumn Wedding At Mannville Church

MANNVILLE — The McQueen Memorial United Church was the scene of a pretty early autumn wedding on September 6th when Janet Eleanor second daughter of Mr and Mrs. Wm. Gerhart of Mannville became the bride of Stephen James Richards, son of Mr and Mrs. J. Austin Richards of Calgary.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. A. Richards in a church decorated with bouquets of fall flowers.

The wedding music was played by Mrs O Willes who also accompanied Miss Fay Ellen Peden as she sang during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a floor length gown of white peau de soie fashioned with lily point sleeves and a full skirt which was accented with lace applique and brilliants. The lace bodice was designed with a pretty scalloped neckline which high lighted the new Empire waistline. Her chapel veil, misted from a crown with a single pearl drop bit. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses. Her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bridal attendants, Mrs. R. Chrysler, sister of the bride, as bride's matron and the Misses Sharon Bassett of Edmonton and June Weaver of Lavoy as bridesmaids, were identically gowned in jade green crepe, with shoes of the same color. The dresses were styled with Empire waistlines lace bodices with elbow length sleeves. The attendants each wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The groom's attendants were his brother John of Calgary, as groomsman with Fred Trotter and Donald Richards, also of Calgary, as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social room of the church. Receiving with the bride and groom were their parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gerhart of Mannville and Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin Richards of Calgary.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Candles lighted on either side of the cake added to the beauty of the setting.

The Rev. H A. Richards asked the blessing. The brother of the bride, Walter Gerhart, was the master of ceremonies. Mr. R. Weaver Jr. proposed a toast to the bride which was appropriately responded to by the groom. Mr John Richards proposed a toast to the bridesmaids.

Miss Judy Gerhart, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Guests were present from Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Hinsburn, Brightview, Dayton, Grande Prairie, Whitecourt, Tofield in Alberta and from Regina and Bentley in Saskatchewan.

For this happy occasion the bride's mother chose a blue two-piece dress in lace-weave repeat, the colourless jacket was accented with scrolls of lace. She wore white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Richards will reside in Calgary.

Highway Progress Still Lagging

Hon. Gordon Taylor Minister of Highways for the province reported this week on progress of main highways as follows:

63 per cent of the grading program or 2291.98 miles, has now been completed (in 1964 67% was completed at this time.

39% of the base course or 738 miles, has been completed (last year 204 miles of base had been laid at this time.

85 per cent of the asphaltic plant mix or 1677 miles, has now been completed (last year 1551 miles was completed at the same time.

The seal coat program has now been completed for this year and 2685.92 miles of surfacing treatment would.

It is noted that progress has improved greatly because of the better weather during the last short while. However much work is still lagging, generally, as compared to last year.

"The closing conditions at this time of year are not nearly as good as they would have been, had the weather co-operated."

It now appears that it will be impossible to open the new north-bound highway south of Lethbridge this year.

the man, the boy and the donkey

A man and his son were driving a donkey to market. Presently they met a party of travellers who laughed at them, saying, "How stupid to walk when they have the donkey!" So the man put his son up on the donkey. The next party of people they met said, "What a selfish boy, riding while his poor tired old father walks!" The man and the boy changed places and went on until they met more people, who said, "What a cruel man, to let his little boy walk while he rides!" So the man picked up his son and they both rode. But still the passers-by were not satisfied. "Poor exhausted beast," they said, "that strong boy and his father could well carry it instead of riding it." So the man and his son ended up carrying the heavy donkey, and their progress was so slow that they were too late for the market.

Which just goes to prove that you cannot please everybody at the same time, and when you have a good way of doing things you will be wise to stick to it.

Alberta, for example, has a good way of doing something very important. Nearly eighteen years ago, M.S.I. was instituted by Alberta doctors to meet the special needs of Albertans. Since that time, M.S.I. has steadily increased it. benefits and reduced its administration costs.

With the services provided by existing medical insurance programs (of which M.S.I. is by far the largest) and with the existing Alberta Medical Plan, plus the assistance of the Welfare Department in certain special cases, all Albertans, regardless of their financial status, can now get needed medical care.

M.S.I. is the best and cheapest medical care coverage.

Place A Book in The Hands of Your Child

Five-year-old Colleen Smith is a lucky child. She has a book and she loves it, too!

Too many children live in homes where books are not considered important; some with no books at all. The result can be utterly tragic in terms of unfilled minds, school dropouts, bu-

This month Canada's vast Home and School movement launches a $30,000 public information campaign to combat the problem. The objective: to reach every parent over the next two years with urgent messages about the profound importance of books in the growth of their children.

It's just one part of a Centennial project made possible with donations pledged by the greater number of Canada's 3000 local Home and School Associations. Those donations from outside groups and individuals have been received and are most welcome.

The appealing photograph of Colleen Smith is one visual aid in the kit of the campaign. You'll see it often together with the slogan Place a book in the hands of your child. If you read the papers, look at billboards, listen to the radio or watch TV that is. All media including bus cards and short window posters will be enlisted to give new life to an old truth: children need books in order to grow.

The topic of a parent's guide to children's reading has been posted in the form of a bright, illustrated pamphlet which gives expert and practical advice on such subjects as Helpful Hints for a Home Bookshelf, The Purchase of Reading Aloud, The Role of Poetry, Your Child and Encyclopedias, Let's Look It Up and Paperback Books.

Let's Look It Up is produced by librarians collaborating with the Canadian Home and School Mon-

Alcoholics Anonymous . . . Help For The Hopeless

From Bassano and Brooks to Bashaw and Bluffmore from Camrose and Carbon to Viking and Wainwright . . . more than 1000 Alberta alcoholics and their friends made their way to Calgary the week-end of Oct. 1 to 3 for the 15th conference of Alcoholics Anonymous.

The get-together, held every year, opened Friday night at the Calgary Inn with a huge meeting. It finished Sunday with more meetings.

In between informal fellowship, a banquet and dance there were day and evening meetings covering all aspects of the illness alcoholism — its diagnosis and treatment, as well as its effect on the individual, his family and the community.

BEST PROBLEM DRINKERS

This year, for the first time Alcoholics Anonymous was holding a special effort to reach medical doctors, clergymen and social workers. It's a team effort to help suffering problem drinkers of this province.

There were three guest speakers at Calgary. They included Dr. Earl N. of San Francisco, Chief Lawyer H. of Raleigh, N. Carolina and Ed D. of Toronto. Each was the special Al-Anon speaker. Al-Anon is a fellowship for wives, friends and relatives of alcoholics.

All meetings at the Calgary Inn were open to the public and Inn were open to the public.

THE SIGNS IS ON

Alcoholics Anonymous was founded in 1935 by Bill W., a stockbroker from New York and the late Dr. Bob S., an Akron physician.

Bill Wilson had been dead nearly a year, was in Akron on business. One evening he felt an almost overpowering desire to have a drink. He knew from past experience that he could overcome the desire by talking to another alcoholic. A series of desperate phone calls put him in touch with Dr. Bob and ultimately led to the birth of AA.

Today AA has a membership estimated at more than 250,000 of whom approximately 20 per cent are women.

AA is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience strength and hope with each other in order to solve their common problems and help others to recover from an alcoholism.

MEMBERSHIP RULES

The only requirement for membership in AA is a desire to stop drinking. There are no dues or fees for AA membership. The fellowship is self - supporting through contributions of its own members. AA is not allied with any sect, denomination, politics, organization or institution, does not engage in any controversy, neither endorses nor opposes any causes. Its primary purpose is staying sober and of helping others to achieve sobriety.

Alcoholics retain their anonymity at the public level. This principle anonymity is a sign of humility, ever reminding them to place principles above personal ambitions.

WHERE TO GET HELP

Those in the AA program have a personal desire to respond to calls for help at any hour of the day or night. Call your AA contact or her when [illegible] you [illegible]

ATTRACTIVE TABLES

Choosing china, silver and crystal which blend together will take careful thought. The amount of decoration as well as type of decoration must be well considered. Some designs are light and delicate while others are bold and dramatic.

Plain may be used with plain. In this case, color may be introduced to give an added touch. This might be in the form of a pale colored linen cloth or in a plain colored china.

Include one plain element in elaborate setting. Too much pattern may be confusing. If the silver and crystal are decorated, a fairly plain china may be the note of simplicity

Textures and patterns in the same mood go best together An informal china should not be combined with a formal design in silver. If the china has a small delicate floral pattern, it could match well with silver that also has a small delicate pattern.

Don't repeat a certain pattern too often. A wheat motif on china, silver and glass would be monotonous.

Background materials should also be coordinated with your table settings. An informal mood may be created with heavy woven placemats or gay checkered cloths. If the table arrangement is more formal, the table covering should be finer textured and more elegant Fine linens, lace and damasks all create that atmosphere Avoid using patterned cloths when there is a pattern on the dishes. Colors in a casual setting may be bright and gay, but a formal setting suggests soft, subdued colors. Only white damask is used for really formal dinners.

Table decorations can add much to the appearance of your table. Arrangements can be made of flowers fruits, gourds or vegetables Attractive color combinations are possible by repeating the color of your china pattern in your centrepiece

Most centrepieces can be seen from all sides, so should be attractive from all angles. Arrangements should be low enough to see over when seated. If candles are used as part of the centrepiece they should be tall enough so flames do not flicker in the line of vision.

Containers for table decorations should be in keeping with the atmosphere of your table setting. Silver or crystal containers are formal in mood. Pottery or wooden bowls, on the other hand, fit in well with casual dishes and bamboo mats [illegible] bled about them and someone came to them and shared a meeting. Now AA conferences reviewed the status of AA services to alcoholics and attempted to evaluate our growth and problems in the movement. In addition, the conference elected a new delegate to represent Al-Anon on the world-service board of AA in New York.

TO TRAIN SEWERS FOR G.W.G. COMPANY LTD.

A new venture in educational and industrial co-operation was launched in Edmonton recently when the Hon. R. H. McKinnon, Minister of Education and Mr. J. G. Godsoe, president of the Western Garment Co. Ltd., signed an Industrial training contract.

Under the terms of the contract, the Division of Vocational Education will allow 7 instructors, made available by the provincial Government to enable 99% of the basic minimum wages paid also to trainees and instruct two taking the course in garment sewing and other skills The Division will provide certificates of achievement to successful candidates and reserve the right to approve course content and trainees selected by the company

The company will be responsible for providing training facilities courses, instructors and trainees The National Employment Service will collaborate where possible on the selection of trainees. It is expected that the company will offer a minimum of 50 trainee positions per year to provide employment to successful candidates.

This step is being taken by Alberta's Division of Vocational Education in an effort to bridge the gap between employers seeking qualified employees and unqualified people seeking work. It is hoped that such training schemes will go far in meeting the needs of both

A basic contract form has been drawn up by the Division of Vocational Education to cover all primary and secondary industries with room to include specific needs applying to individual cases.

It is believed that many industries in the Province have retention plans held back due to lack of trained personnel, and many individuals in employment are held back due to lack of training programmes Such cooperative between industry and education is expected to overcome this deadlock

Stereo Under-Dash Reverberation System

Add to-all "Stereo" sound for the automobile makes its bow with the introduction of Stereo-Magic, a compact reverberation unit produced by the Texas Corporation.

The system unit's compact size enables it to be mounted under the dash instead of in the trunk where most conventional units are mounted.

The very-tasteful Stereo-Magic hook-up is the car radio or tape speaker to produce a realistic two-source Stereo effect. Sound said to be far superior to that of any model on the market today. It works on the delayed signal principle used by radio announcers to produce a resonant voice or musical effect. Stereo-Magic's elegant fiberglass of bright chrome, brushed aluminum and walnut wood-grain look is designed to complement the interior of any car

Available a most attractive Stereo-Magic brochure, radio and TV owners, for further information contact the Texas Corporation, 1600 Terminal Tower, Cleveland, Ohio 44113.

FARM FIGURES

By C. J. HARRIS

One farm worker in Canada today is able to produce enough food for the annual requirements of 32 persons, compared to only 10 persons in the 1930s, according to an Ottawa release The same source states that Canadians spend only 25 per cent of their disposable income on food, as against 50 per cent in Britain, 45 per cent in Italy and 69 per cent in the Soviet Union.

An interesting set of related figures was used in a speech made a year ago by Edson L. Hazard an American businessman. "A nation's standard of living," Mr Hazard said "can be thought of as being inversely proportional to the percentage of its labor force required to produce food. Compare the United States' seven per cent on the farm with Canada's 10 per cent, West Germany's 13 per cent Japan's 33 per cent, Russia's 39 per cent, India's 70 per cent, and Communist China's 87 per cent."

Since then the proportion of the Canadian labor force employed in agriculture has dropped to about nine per cent. Back in the mid thirties, when per worker productivity on the farm was less than one-third the present level, 30 per cent of the Canadian labor force was employed in agriculture.

The main factor in the increased productivity of the Canadian farms, of course has been increased mechanization. If machines had not taken over so much of the work formerly done by horse power and manual labor, food production would still require a very large part of the labor force. the cost of production would be very much higher. As would be prices to consumers These factors to be weighed in the "automation argument" in a new agricultural industry has been automated here in Canada and a good thing it has.

"We must overcome the factors in our society that have resulted in a breakdown of authority. By this I visualize strengthening our enforcement establishments, provincial, federal and municipal" he stated. He also sought revision of laws, particularly in respect to drinking and driving. "We need a uniform traffic code in all parts of the country and consistent enforcement of that code," he said

Mr. Martonald cautioned that millions of visitors to Canada for 1967 would travel by car and told the delegates that what they think of Canada on their return will be greatly influenced by the courtesy of our drivers. "We want them to think of us as friendly, considerate Canadian people. If our highway manners reflect courtesy they will remember us in this way."

News from Allandale District

The warm weather has been most welcome. A number of farmers have completed their harvest. The yield was good considering everything. Some wheat is grading No 3, but mostly 4 and 5.

Though it was a cold day, a number of riders turned in the final ride on the afternoon of first. 25th. It was good to see riders from Elk Point. At the close of the ride a wiener roast, baked beans and other delicious goodies were enjoyed at the home of Mr and Mrs. Tom Smith. Their hospitality was appreciated. The ride was sponsored by the Vermilion Saddle Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Theodoson and Mr and Mrs. William Arvanetz from town were out sightseeing on the afternoon of Sept. 26th. It was a lovely autumn day and though retired, their interest is still on the farm. They both have relatives in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. August Short (Ruth) celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary Aug. 9th when a large number of relatives and friends joined them at the Elks Hall for this happy occasion. August and Ruth worked at the farm of the late Mr and Mrs. L. Edwards in 1936.

The day was additional to many and August and many friends and relatives as that day was the funeral of a dear friend who was suddenly taken away, Mrs. Sam Olson (Betty Christian). Years ago the Christian family lived at Smoky Is and are well known to many. Among other distant relatives and friends who were present were Mr and Mrs. Orbey Oneson from Vermilion.

Mr and Mrs. Orbey Oneson attended church in Marwayne on Thanksgiving Sunday. A delicious dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C Laird was enjoyed later.

Mrs. Stella Mayres set up a quilt, a lovely Dresden Plate pattern, at Thanksgiving time, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orbey Oneson. Those helping were Mrs. Florence Hagen, Mrs. Eunice Lee, Mrs. Mabel Lee, Mrs. Erma Armstrong, Mrs. Elmer Farley and Mrs. Nora Renaghan.

Closing Thought: "May we be thankful for our many blessings this "Thanksgiving Day" and all ways.

This About Medicines You Should Know

There have been frequent reports about serious consequences resulting from overdoses of medicines given to infants and children. A five grain tablet of aspirin can be a poisonous dose to an infant. Almost any household remedy can be dangerous if improperly taken.

Subject to variation, it is important to know that an average dose for a one month infant is 1/20th of an adult. For a one year child it is 1/7th and a five year old about ¼rd. Now you can see why it is important to read directions carefully and follow your physicians instructions exactly.

Notice to Farmers and Ranchers of the County of Vermilion River No. 24

Compulsory vaccination of all heifer calves for brucellosis control continues to be in effect through 1965.

In order to conform with a Federal Provincial decision, the upper age for calf hood vaccinations has been lowered to nine months or 270 days.

Therefore, the Brucilosis regulation should read, 120 days to 270 days instead of 4 to 11 months.

Animals vaccinated after having reached the age of 270 days will not be considered as official vaccinates by the Federal Health of Animals branch when interpreting blood test readings.

Alberta Agriculture Centennial Program

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture has started the "ball rolling" on what is hoped will be an extensive Centennial program for Alberta agriculture.

Different farm organizations have asked the Federation to take steps in this regard and as a result the Federation called a special committee meeting which was held in the Farmers' Union of Alberta board room on September 9th.

Most of the large farm organizations were represented along with the Faculty of Agriculture and the University Extension of Edmonton and the Provincial Exhibition Committee.

Mr. Jim Findlay, Provincial Extension Coordinator, addressed the meeting. He outlined the provincial centres and the role township this committee would take with the provincial body.

He also made suggestions as to how the committee should proceed and provided ideas for worthwhile projects.

He stressed the fact that 1967 was our one hundredth birthday and all segments of our society should celebrate in an appropriate manner.

He concluded by outlining the many projects that were being presented and financed by the Provincial and Federal Centennial Committees.

Those in attendance agreed that the committee should be known as the Alberta Agricultural Centennial Committee.

Mr. James R. McFall executive secretary of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture was named chairman and Mr. Gerald Ethel Jr., assistant director of PFU & FDA was appointed secretary.

Mrs. Smith's grocery shopping this week included peas, potatoes, cereal, flour, butter, eggs, milk, cheese, bread, beef and bacon – all grown or produced in Alberta

Alberta's farms provide virtually all the food required by Albertans. To bring this vast amount of food to the table requires an orderly system of food production that involves thousands – growers, processors, marketing personnel and homemakers, assisted at every stage by the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Everything is new in this fine business. The building was constructed especially for a bakery. The front store quarters are spacious and allow for an attractive display of the fine pastries, the buns, the bread and the many tasty things produced in a modern bakery.

The bakery itself is large, clean and spacious, providing ideal working conditions for the staff. The equipment is all new and the large oven, installed at a cost of $7000.00, immediately attracts attention. It bakes 240 loaves of bread every half hour, and to see the loaves, all baked to the same lovely golden crispness, is a sight well worth observing.

The bakery does produce pies, sweet pastries, doughnuts, cakes, buns, etc. Mr. Klementovich invites the residents of Vermilion and district to visit the bakery and solicits the continued support of everyone in town and district.

The new building was constructed by Wm H Boulton and contracted to Mr. Klementovich.

Mr. Klementovich himself is a master baker as is his first assistant Mr. Carl Jackaitz. Aiding in the baking department are Mrs. Klementovich and Mrs. Jackaitz. The retailing of the tasty produce is done by Mrs. Marian Noonan and Mrs. Evelyn Carroll.

The Town of Vermilion is more in the eye of the public this week than ever before and for this distinction is indebted to the two Charts of Foresters in Vermilion Lookout and Hill-Top. Never was there a more carefully arranged event held here than the Provincial Convention of the Canadian Order of Foresters. It was a day long event, every minute was organized in a very interesting way, the public was kept informed and given the opportunity to add welcomes at breakfast, luncheon, banquet and dance

From all reports and appearances the co-operation received was 100 per cent but credit for bringing an important provincial convention to Vermilion, and for preparing for it in such a way that officials declared it the best convention in the history of the Canadian Order of Foresters, reflects unlimited credit to the local Foresters.

The Centennial — A Chance For Thanksgiving

Rather than consider Canada's Centennial an opportunity to secure something, it should be looked upon as a chance to show our thanksgiving for living in a land like Canada. Thanksgiving for the facts that we are celebrating the 100 years free from the trials, tribulations and hardships faced by many countries of the world. These include the ravages of war and death, the perils of flood and hurricane the fear of starvation and wide-spread disease, a land in which freedom of enterprise and of religion reign supreme. All of this and much more for which we should give thanks, and be willing to sacrifice a little to see that there is a suitable project completed in Vermilion to celebrate our country's centennial

Greater Value Than Dollars

The recent multi-million dollar sale of wheat to the Soviet Union may prove to be more valuable to the Western world than the actual dollars involved, which are certainly beneficial to Canada's balance of payments. Implicit in the purchase is a confession of failure of the Communist system of collective farming, which destroyed whatever sense of independence farmers may have had. It seems obvious that if the Soviet Union is to take full advantage of its vast agricultural assets, some way will have to be found to put the farms back on a free enterprise system to provide the private initiative impossible to obtain under a rigid bureaucratic system. There are signs that this is occurring in Russia now, not only in agricultural production but in industrial areas, too.

Thieves were foiled in their attempt to break into Wasser's general store about 2 a.m. Saturday, but made good their escape without being identified. When leaving the heavy front door the culprits dislodged the large plate glass door light. This fell with a resounding crash and wakened Vic Dancer who was asleep upstairs in the building next door. Dancer shouted at them and they fled running as they did so and left empty-handed. No one was hurt.

NITRATE POISONING

Cattle, grazing the frost killed aftermath of immature grain and forage crops, may be in danger of nitrate poisoning this fall. The same is true of cattle being fed hay or silage made from these crops.

Nitrates tend to accumulate in immature plants, especially when growth is slowed down or arrested by poor growing conditions. The cool weather earlier this fall probably resulted in this nitrate accumulation and the hard frost stopped all further growth (regardless of the high nitrate content). Excessive nitrates in forage have toxic effects as well as interfering with the conversion of carotene to Vitamin A. Nitrate poisoning is most likely to occur upon the sudden introduction of a high nitrate feed.

How only way to be certain of the nitrate content of a feed is to have it analyzed. The Soil and Feed Testing Laboratory in 325 Scotia Street, Calgary, will test a few weeks before you know the results of the tests. If it is necessary to use forage which might have a high nitrate content it should be introduced gradually and diluted with good hay and supplemented with grain. Green oat forage is probably the most common troublemaker but almost all forage crops can give trouble when conditions are right for nitrate accumulation in the plants.

Forage testing kits are available at the D.A. office and we urge anyone suspecting forage of being high in nitrates to use the services of the Soil and Feed Testing Laboratory

REINSTATEMENT LAWS

Lawyers should be prepared to go into the winter by continuing clipping until the end of October. If the lawn was not fertilized since the middle of summer a dressing of Ammonium Phosphate Sulphate (16-20-0) at the rate of 100 lbs. per 1000 sq. ft. or Ammonium Nitrate (33.5-0) at 50 lbs. per 1000 sq. ft. is in order. Watering as necessary should be continued until freezing up. The lawn should not go into the winter dry. Keeping the lawn clipped in fall should help to combat the lawn disease known as snow mold

WINTER PROTECTION FOR TREES AND SHRUBS

While spending a few minutes of each day now, thoughts naturally turn to other essentials as well. Probably the most winter damage to evergreen shrubs is done by dehydration rather than cold. In fact, all trees and shrubs seem to survive the rigours of winter better if they are really well watered just before freeze up. Some of the more delicate plants might benefit from mulching or other protection, but the hardiness of many of them is truly surprising if they are not allowed to dry out over winter. Long hardy evergreens are protected by a 6" to 10" mulch of loose moist soil or peat moss

Dear Editor

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the people of Vermilion for the wonderful response to the Red Feather Campaign. I refer especially to the Canadian Order of Foresters, Provincial Assembly, Delegates and Chairmen as far north as Thorhild, west to Calgary and east to Lone Rock.

Members were invited to Paint Creek, south to Calgary and east to Lone Rock.

These visitors were delighted with the way they were treated here and at the close of the sessions proclaimed Vermilion the best organized and most successful Canadian Order of Foresters Provincial Convention ever held.

For this honour to be bestowed upon our town and our rural neighbors was only possible through the fine co-operation of the people of Vermilion, especially the two local Forester Clubs the Chamber of Commerce, the local detachment of the R.C.M.P., the Royal Canadian Legion Pipe Band, the Stadium Committee, The Vermilion Standard, the Elks Club and the Ladies of the Royal Purple, Vermilion Beverages, Floyd Clarkson, Dale Wilson, Mayor S.C. Heckbert, Cliff Smallwood M.P., Arthur Appleyard M.L.A. and the Town Council of Vermilion.

To these people especially I say a great big "Thank You".

L. Engstrom
Convention Chairman

FARM MACHINERY MARKET PLENTY HAPPY

Sales of Canadian farm equipment industry will reach $825 million this year, up from $770 million last year, but would be the third time sales have topped $800 million. This is a forecast made by Massey-Ferguson Ltd. vice-president F. G. Bridges recently. Canada's record wheat crop plus the recent sale of wheat and flour to Russia have prolonged the equipment-buying spree. Canadian farmers have been on for the past four years. Sales have climbed steadily from 1957's $350 million. These figures also include the cost of repairs.

After the course is completed, ten one-hour periods, an examination is written and the successful candidates will be awarded the St. John Home Nursing Certificate. The classes include care of the invalid, injured and care of the sick child.

If you are interested please contact Mrs Teasdale at No. 2 Nest 1397's 2250 million. These figures also include the cost of repairs.

Providing & maintaining Alberta's public buildings

Spanning a growing province like Alberta is a big business, a business that entails administration, education, hospitalization and maintenance. Each year sees the construction of hundreds of public buildings with the required operational facilities for these activities in the care of the Department of Public Works.

In the past decade the Department has carried out or supervised construction of a building program of more than $210 million. By far the greatest proportion of the program has been of direct benefit to Alberta citizens. In the field of education, twenty large new buildings have been erected for the University of Alberta campuses at Edmonton and Calgary. The Northern Alberta Institute of Technology and the technical program at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology are two further examples of public buildings for the improvement of Alberta's educational facilities. Hospital building has been carried out at the Alberta Hospitals in Red Deer, Claresholm and Provost. $16.6 million has been spent on the construction of senior citizens' homes throughout the province. Alberta's two Jubilee Auditoriums are symbolic monuments of the growing appreciation Albertans have for cultural activities.

Design and construction of public buildings are carried out by private consulting firms in those cases where it is in the public interest for the Department's own architects and engineers to concentrate on other projects.

TABLE COVERING

A table covering is the background for your china, glass and silver. The correct choice will complete the mood of the occasion

Today's table coverings are made not only of linen but of rayon, cotton, plastic coated fabrics, cork and paper. They may be in the form of a cloth, place mats or runners. As well there is a wide variety of colors and designs.

When buying table coverings, consider fiber content, color fastness, ease of care, workmanship and cost.

Fiber content will make a difference in price, wear and care. Good linen wears well and its appearance may even improve with the years. If you are buying a cloth you should be assured it is a lifetime investment and buy the best you can afford

The best quality linen is woven with long uniform fibers. Shorter fiber make up into coarser, uneven yarns. These result in cheaper and poorer quality fabrics. A good linen is heavy and cool to the touch. It does not lint or become fuzzy

Damask is a type of linen, both which may be plain or fig ured. Double damask is heavier and more lustrous than single damask but it will cost more and still. This is because of the long loose threads in the pattern

Damask may be bleached or dyed. There are white cream, deep cream and pastel-dyed damasks. The cream and pastel damasks wear better than the pure white.

Cotton, rayon and other synthetic fibers are less expensive than linen. Often these fabrics are given a finish to resemble linen. Many coarse cloths are made of cotton. They are also being made of synthetic fibers. The finest laces are made of linen but they are also the most expensive.

Place mats are made from many fabrics. As well plastic coated fabrics, bamboo and cork are used. Of course, these are more casual and are usually used for breakfast or lunch. More formal mats of lace, linen or organdy would be appropriate for dinner.

Check the home on any cloth you consider purchasing. The stitches should be short, even and straight. Handstitched hems are more attractive than machine stitched ones. Hemstitching, though very attractive, is not as serviceable as a plain hem.

Many cloths have some sizing or starch when you buy them. However if there is too much your cloth will be limp after washing. Rub the fabric between your hands. If it becomes limp then the firmness may be due to the sizing.

Buy the correct size for your table. A cloth should overhang the table by at least 10 inches on all sides. Place mats are large enough to hold a complete setting. Dinner napkins are about 20 inches square. Luncheon napkins vary from 15 to 18 inches square.

To keep linens looking their best they should be cared for properly. Any stain should be removed before laundering. Linens should be washed and [illegible] to avoid stains. Linen will look best if it is ironed first on the wrong side then on the right side. Fold as few times as possible. Rolling tablecloths on a cardboard tube is a good way to store large ones. Store them away from heat

Mannville Teacher Reports On Trip To Hudson's Bay

MANNVILLE. — From August 2nd to 30th Miss Mann and her daughter Mrs. Naomi Gilfen travelled from Saskatoon to Churchill. They were members of a party of sixty passengers on an excursion to the Hudson Bay. Mrs. Rea reported that although some were not many New York City, Stratford and Toronto, Ontario, and Penticton, B.C., most were from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. She also said "Since our return we are now refused members in good standing in The Company of Hudson Bay Explorers".

The trip was a wonderful experience in friendship and hospitality. For most part many very friendly people at Moosonee, The Pas, Flin Flon, Thompson and Churchill.

At Churchill they were greatly impressed by a number of things Churchill isn't beyond the tree line, although it may be close to the fringe; Churchill has as many modern conveniences as most cities in Canada; the Eskimo section, though small is modern as far as houses, electricity and the plumbing go; the Indian section is to have a fine Athletic and as it stands there is much to be desired. from the centre of Churchill is 1100 miles closer to European markets than is the route via Fort William. Churchill has an ideal natural harbour, 3 large basin were now loaded with Canadian wheat while they were unloading four ships were to sail for Yugoslavia, Denmark and Greece. The elevators are immense when a person gets to Churchill he can get all sorts of myths further west and remain in Canada, what a lot of people in the east.

Canada's northland includes more than 40 per cent of the total area of Canada. It has more lakes than all the rest of the world combined. The late Lake Hazen, in the largest body of fresh water in the world no near to the North Pole It is 45 miles long and 400 feet deep. Fort Prince of Wales and Henry Kelsey are two names Manitobans cherish. Henry Kelsey because he is the province's first poet and Prince of Wales, the explored from Hudson Bay too, about 1930 Fort Prince of Wales, the great stone fortress of Hudson's Bay Company at the mouth of the Church ill River is 70 to 40 feet thick. No wonder the attempt for two days to blow up the walls in 1782 was abandoned. This site was discovered by Jacob Christian Jens Munck (in 1619. In fact he spent the winter of 1619-20 at this spot. However it was during the years 1731 to 1772 that the present fortress was built Not only is Fort Prince of Wales one of the oldest forts in West ern Canada, but it was also from this site that the first network of astronomical observations in Canada of which there is any record were made. On June 3, 1769, seven members of the European scientific world observed Transit from this fort It was also from the fort that Samuel Hearne set out on his explorations in 1771 Later, in 1775, he was the governor and gave active leadership in northern Canada. Today the interior ruins of the old fort are being rebuilt as they were used by Hearne in 1775.

Mrs Rea and Naomi were surprised to learn that 21 now Grade twelve students were in Churchill from Vulcan County, Alberta. They have been there for a week as Centennial Exchange Students. Three railroads at Churchill students were at the train to bid their friends goodbye.

It was cold and windy the day Mrs. Rea and Naomi were in Churchill as they didn't have a series in Hudson Bay as the students had left on the 28th so the missile base where the students went through.

Truly a trip to Churchill is a rewarding experience.

the cat and the fox

A fox was boasting to a cat one day about how smart he was. "The hunters' dogs will never catch me," he bragged, "I have at least a hundred clever plans for escaping them!" "I have only one plan," said the cat, humbly, "I wish you would teach me some of your clever tricks." Just then they heard the yelping of dogs. In a flash the cat was up a tree. "This is the trick I told you about," she called down to the fox, "my only one. Which of your plans are you going to use?" But before the fox had time to think which plan he should use, the dogs were upon him. The moral of the story is: One good plan that works is worth a hundred doubtful ones.

M.S.I. is a perfect example of a simple, commonsense plan that works well. Known and trusted for nearly eighteen years, M.S.I. has become a household word in Alberta for prepaid medical care. It is a voluntary and democratic institution created by Alberta doctors in a spirit of cooperation to meet the special needs of Albertans.

Year by year, M.S.I. has widened the scope of its coverage Today this coverage includes all doctors' calls, whether at the patient's home, in the doctor's office or at the hospital, wherever the patient may be, surgeons' and anaesthetists' fees; diagnostic procedures and maternity services.

At the same time, M.S.I. has steadily reduced the cost of its administration. Now, less than eight cents of each subscriber's dollar goes for administration costs. More than 700,000 Albertans, or nearly half the population of the province, now enjoy the protection of M.S.I.

M.S.I. is the best and cheapest medical care coverage.

Tea Held In Honor of Mrs. C. W. Stephens

Mrs. Hilda Cross and Mrs. Annabel Robinson were co-hostesses to a tea at the home of Mrs. Cross on Saturday, October 9th for Mrs. Esther Stephens and close friends.

It was a delightful gathering but carried a note of sadness as it was a farewell for Mrs. Stephens.

Mrs. Lenora Clarke recalled many happy festivities in the church and in the community when Esther had willingly given of her time and talents, and expressed how very much she will be missed. She then presented her with a parting gift from the ladies. Mrs. Stephens replied with words of sincere appreciation and said that the Vermilion people will always be welcome when they get settled in a new home in Victoria B.C.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Joan Rose presided at the coffee urn.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephens leave during the coming month for Victoria, B.C., where they will spend the winter months.

THANK YOU

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all who have been so kind to me over this past year while I have been in hospital so much, and more recently, correspondence at home. A very special thank you to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for the many kind things they have done for my family and myself. Thank you for all the letters, cards, flowers, parcels, etc. received over these many months. Those acts of kindness have been appreciated very much and will never be forgotten.

I would like to thank Dr Stephens and all the staff at the Vermilion Hospital for their kindness to me while I was a patient there before I was transferred to the University Hospital. Many thanks for all considerations and thoughtfulness to me that sad day.

Time may pass, but memories remain
You left us, and were called away
God knows best, it was His Will,
But in our hearts you dwell still
Years roll by, but memories stay
As sweet and dear as yesterday;
Resting where no shadow fall,
In perfect peace you await us all
Silent thoughts, tears unseen
Keep her memory ever green;
We sigh, but no one hears
one tear
How much we miss you every day
Wonderful memories, woven in gold.
Those are the memories we tenderly hold
Deep in our hearts there room
we are kept,
To love and to cherish and never forget

Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that night

We've had a lonely life without you mother
And sad has been the day

Since you were called away.
It was a sudden ending too sudden to forget,
For those who loved you dearly
Are the ones who do not forget."

You Should Know This About Medicines

There have been frequent reports about serious consequences resulting from overdoses of medicines given to infants and children. A five grain tablet of aspirin can be a poisonous dose to an infant. Almost any household remedy can be dangerous if improperly taken.

Subject to variation, it is important to know that an average dose for a one month infant is 1/20th of an adult. For a one year child it is 1/7th and a five year old about 1/3rd. Now you can see why it is important to read directions carefully and follow your physician's instructions exactly.

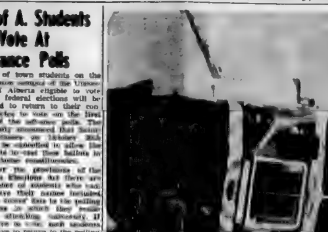
Transport, Rack, Bales and Tractor In Highway Melee



72,000 pounds of transport truck, trailer and cargo turned over in the ditch along Highway 16 last Thursday, following a collision with a hay rack loaded with hay and pulled by a tractor. The collision took place at the intersection of highway 16 and 41. Drivers in the transport were shaken up but not injured. The impact wrecked the rack which broke clean away from the tractor and did not injure the driver, Alfred Attfield, nor the tractor. The transport ran into the ditch and stopped, remained upright momentarily and then turned on its side as the lower wheels sank into the soft bottom of the ditch.

1966 Volkswagen owners are going to get a big kick out of this.

The new Volkswagen has a bigger engine.

It's about 20% more powerful than this year's model. So it accelerates much faster. And it doesn't get short-winded cruising hilly country.

Surprisingly enough, our 1966 engine doesn't drink any more gas than the old one did. Volkswagen owners will still get around 38 miles to the gallon. The only difference is that they'll get them faster from now on.

In case you think we've just gone power-mad, we'd like to make it clear that the engine isn't the only thing that's new about the 1966 Volkswagen.

For instance, we've also put in a new, thermostatically-controlled heater booster to keep VW owners warmer in winter. We've fitted sturdy locks to the front seat backs so they won't tip forward when the car brakes quickly. And we've added a four-way emergency flasher to make it stop less hazardous.

There are some other new features, too, but we're saving those to show you when you come in.

One last thing. Some people thought we'd changed the shape of our car this year. They needn't have worried. It's still pretty difficult to tell a 1966 Volkswagen from a 1965 or even a 1955.

Unless you're driving it, that is.

Health Unit Notes

WHAT IS INFLUENZA?

Influenza has been known to man since ancient times. Italian astrologers thought it came from a few stars in the constellation of Aquarius. That's why they used the word "influenza" as a name for the disease.

Today we use "influenza" to mean a specific sickness in which the throat and windpipe are very sore and hurt. Muscles are weak and aches. Usually a lot of people in the community have it at the same time.

Influenza is a fairly brief and severe sickness that is very catching. It is spread from one person to another by one of a family of viruses. When flu strikes it causes disorder in the lining membrane of the breathing tubes. Then it may spread to the air cells of the lungs. Tissues become swollen and inflamed. They may also crack into little sores causing the discharge from your nose or throat to get streaked with blood. But these tissues are not damaged permanently. They are repaired after 9 to 15 days provided no other germs take over

Anyone can get flu, especially when it is widespread in a community. But children are most vulnerable. The sickness is most dangerous among folks over 65. Even those on iron are less and less likely to die. But many adults of course don't with flu and have to take time off. Those with some sickness of the chest or kidneys, disease and old people who are weak are also prey to it.

The secret is rest. Adults that actually go to bed for 3 days to develop. Then it comes on it the next you may notice chills fever, headache, back ache, and sometimes pains in all parts of the body. Other common discomforts include a dry feeling in the head, sore throat, dry cough weakness pain and burning in the eyes, sensitivity to light and nausea.

Temperature goes up quickly during the first day. Then it reaches a peak probably not higher than 103. Your temperature then may go down gradually for a few days. Fever usually lasts about three days but it may go on for as long as seven.

As your temperature begins to go down you'll probably notice more stuffiness in your nose. Your cough may get worse and there may be pus in the discharge from your nose or throat. From that point on you'll probably get well fast but don't be surprised if you feel overly tired for a week or more. Even enough for a few weeks is also common.

In most cases flu leaves no permanent after - effects but too often people do develop other things. The most common complication is pneumonia. When your body is weakened by something like flu pneumonia germs can easily invade your lungs. Other sicknesses that follow flu are persistent cough or bron chitis sinus trouble and ear infections.

Your doctor will probably suggest bed rest. He may also tell you to take something like aspirin to ease the pain and bring down your temperature. A good glass of fluids if your fever is high. Doctors say you should stay in bed at home as long as the sickness is severe and probably for two days after the fever is gone. The temperature of your room should be moderate and the humidity should be kept high.

Vaccination is the only safe factor's way to prevent or control flu. The vaccine now in use contains substances that are effective against pats flu viruses as well as those currently causing the epidemic. A vaccine is [illegible] to prevent you [illegible] flu in preventing the disease by the Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service. In 1961, he said vaccine might have prevented [illegible] deaths that occurred during the epidemics from 1958 to 1961.

If you have symptoms of flu Doctors say should

1 Call your doctor 2 Go to bed. Even if your aches and pains and fever don't turn out to be nothing but a cold, bed rest will help you get well sooner 3

Isolate yourself from other people. Don't go to work or school or visit friends. Stay home and rest. Keep warm and dry. Eat nourishing food. Drink plenty of fluids. Don't smoke. Don't drink alcohol. Don't overdo it when you get well sooner 3

Clandonald 4-H Club Tour Salt Plant, Hutterite Colony

(By Madeline Conway)

On the morning of August 13 the Clandonald 4 -H Club met at Clandonald where we gathered into groups and started on our tour.

At 10:50 we arrived at the salt plant at Lindbergh where the manager of the plant had provided five guides for us. The guides took us through the plant explaining at every step in the processing of the salt. We saw the process by which the salt is taken from the ground. Then we witnessed the lime evaporating process. Next we proceeded to the purification of the salt. The step in the making of the stock salt blocks proved very interesting because we saw how the hydraulic press formed them into shape. After we toured the packing section of the plant we continued on our journey.

Our next stop was at Whitnes Lake where we had lunch, then some went fishing and swimming.

Our next stop was at the site of the Frog Lake Massacre. There we saw the graves of the victims of the 1885 uprising. We also saw the site of the old church.

We then drove to the Hutterite Colony. On our way there we had our first unplanned stop. It was Sandy MacMillan's flat tire.

At 2:30 we arrived at the colony where we were provided with two men guides. They took us around their very modern colony to the farm. We were fascinated by the way these people lived. We saw the kitchen by which the salt is toured everything. harms to the Hutterite Colonists for their hospitality and last but not least machinery, egg grader, church, the parents who made this tour kitchen. They showed us their living quarters, kitchen and the milk house. then we saw their possible by letting us use their farm for transportation school. We are very thankful to these people for their great hospitality.

At 6 o'clock we left the colony and stopped at a campsite to have lunch and the junior leader had our first unplanned stop. It was Sandy MacMillan's flat tire.

The winner of the quizz was Irene Strome and she will receive a 4-H pin at our achievement day.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of the colony for their kindness.

To Explore For Potash In Vermilion Area

Three companies have been granted permits to explore for potash in Alberta, the first such permits applied for in many years. All are for exploration work in the Vermilion area.

This news was confirmed by officials of the Provincial mines and minerals department last week.

R. A. Seaton, assistant director of the minerals division, said the permits were granted to Bayfield Oil and Gas Limited, two permits covering 10,000 and 30,000 acres, National Trust Ltd., to 640 acres, Can Savings and Trust Ltd., 10,000 acres.

Mr. Seaton said he thinks the interest was the result of recent potash development at Saskatchewan. There are no geological indications that potash exists in Alberta, and none has been discovered to date.

The permits expire on application for a lease, and are for periods of three years, after which time the right to apply for a 21 year lease.

One Question Mark In Election Picture

After absorbing reams and reams of articles and commentaries on election summaries it seems to be accepted that in this, the election which no one wanted, and which was very unpopular from the announcement, there is only one hope that the Liberal government has of gaining their much coveted majority, the main election plank in their platform. That of course, is the Province of Quebec where there are nine Social Credit seats and 13 Creditiste seats in the area of uncertainty. Should the larger number of these swing to the Liberals then Prime Minister Pearson will have his majority government. There and only there, the experts who have been following the election from day to day, give the Liberals any chance of picking up extra seats, with the exception of a possible three seat gain in the Maritimes. Against this they face a loss of a possible five seats in Ontario and could lose their lone seat in Alberta, and have a reduced representation from B.C.

All this will be finalized on Monday next, Nov. 8th, when an end will be called to the most popular guessing game of the past month, the election results.

The Home and Farm Business

There are a lot to be said for making money but there is more to be said for getting more satisfaction out of money. The last part of the statement is the message the province of Alberta provides in the District Home Economist service

The district agriculturist, Miss Morley Douglas, Wild Cody, Bill Dunnin and Neville Ashberry of the last two at Wainwright, are all oriented toward agricultural production and economics. Miss Marion Hope, a job covering the same region as district home economist, is to teach people ways toward better living and better homes.

Mr George Gadsd, D.A. at Athabasca, speaking to a large gathering of extension and agriculture people at Edmonton said farm women are often neglected.

Mr. Gadsd added that too often the home is neglected, the wife is treated as a hired man mostly or to everyone, a bookkeeper, but seldom a partner

He pointed out that the census told how many tractors, combines, seras, bushels are on the farm, but never a word about plumbing, new homes, central heating, etc.

George asked what is a person's goal in life. He said his main minimum happiness and he isn't sure money alone will achieve this end. The answer, he said, lies in teaching people how to make a better home, better family relations and better use of money. He suggested this the place where the district home economist should fit in He challenged Extension to get the food for the young people girls to work in the field where relatively nothing has been done by them. Morley Douglas, D.A. at Vermilion, is in full agreement with Mr. Gadsd's attitude Morley says he is planning to to the District Home Economist service into the Farm Business Analysis program this winter Morley adds that as soon as a farm comes under the F.B.A. program that people may expect to be contacted by Miss Hinden. Nothing will be forced upon them but the woman of the household will have an opportunity of understanding what services are available

FARM BUSINESS ANALYSIS

Thirteen farmers in the Vermilion area had their 1964 farm business analyzed by the Alberta Department of Agriculture Extension Branch. This gives these farmers a check on the overall business how each enterprise is going and a comparison of their operation to average Those are the bare facts, but in addition the program gives suggestions as to where future expansion, alteration or conversion of the business may take place The D.A. who is the farmers program over with the farm operator using the analyzed facts, personalities and goals to guide the farmer's decisions. Finally the District Home Economist services are offered to the homemaker to improve family living The D.H.E. service deals with new home planning, furnishing, plumbing and painting. 29 of these things are often neglected

The D.H.E. service may deal with frills as well as the needs of the house is concerned, but they are important to Miss What's important to Miss is important to everyone because she hopes things going that they don't necessarily cost a lot of money Farm families may learn more about Farm Business Analysis by contacting Morley Douglas at Will Cody Box 400 Vermilion.

BUDDING STEMBLE

While travelling around this country the past few days we noticed a great deal of stubble burning going on. Many people realize and admit that the heavy crop of straw produced this season will be difficult to handle, however in most areas the fire hazard is not before an honest effort is even made at working the straw under. Overdue heat is a privilege and like other privileges, has responsibilities connected with it. Land is becoming a scarce resource and must be passed on to succeeding generations. We have the responsibility of using all the soil conservation practices we know. Stubble burning is contrary to known methods of soil conservation

FALL FERTILIZER

On the basis of the Agricultural Service Board's fertilizer demonstrations over past years it is apparent that forage yields can be appreciably increased by applying fertilizer to the forage fields. Grass forage yields benefit most from nitrogen fertilizers while grass - legume mixtures will benefit from nitrogen and phosphorous. Suggested rates of application can be obtained from the pamphlet "Fertilizer Recommendations for Alberta" which is available at the D.A. office

Time may not be so limited in fall as in spring so there may be advantages in applying fertilizer to forage fields in the fall. The same may be said of broadcast fertilizer on cereals to be left as stubble land which is to be sown next spring. Also the problems of wet spots in the fields is avoided by fall applications.

Soil tests are an excellent and cheap method of determining with some accuracy which fertilizers and which rates of application to use. Disadvantages of the fall fertilization are that there are that once the fertilizer is applied you are committed to moving the land and also there may not be time to have results of soil tests before application.

WE GOOFED!

32 Years Ago Today

NOV. 2nd, 1933

Gleaned from Wilderness Wisdom "It stay, wintry as we have been having cold dark days. Roads were in very rough shape last Saturday after a brief chase fell issued by heavy frost, making them very rough.

A four-horse outfit belonging to J. H. Goodrich of Campbell Lake district staged a dramatic runaway while coming into town. When they stopped at the Alberta Livery they had ten bushels of wheat left out of the ten they had started with. The team ran at full speed down the long north hill, over the bridge and all the way up the south hill coming to a stop at the livery barn.

Miss Ethel Shields left last Saturday morning for Olds where she will attend the Olds School of Agriculture

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Having recently conceived the idea that a clock tower with temperature indicator would make an ideal Centennial Project for our town, and many other residents with whom I have discussed this idea are in favor of it. A clock is a reminder of Time. Present, Past and the beginning of a New Era, such as the beginning of our bi-centennial year on July 1, 1967. Moreover our lives are governed by "Time" with everyone, almost without exception, interested in the time and temperature.

One problem seems to be just where the tower should be located. Of course the ideal spot is the centre of town, but that might cause something of a traffic hazard because of space. Another suggestion is that it might be located just two blocks south at Webb's corner, which has the advantage of more space and no traffic from the south. Others thought the best location would be between the cenotaph and the Brunswick Hotel where there is still more space with no traffic problem.

This idea should not be too costly for us, as I understand we get grants from both the provincial and federal governments and there would be practically no upkeep involved. Not many of us want to see our town get further into debt.

There's hoping more Vermilionites will use your valuable paper to express their views on Centennial Projects for our town.

Meetings Of Interest To Beef Cattlemen

On Friday, Nov. 12, two meetings will be held in the district, one in the Legion Hall at Kitscoty at 1.30 p.m. and the other in the Masonic Hall basement, Vermilion, at 7:30 p.m. These meetings should be of great interest to everyone who feeds, or is in any way connected with the feeding and management of beef cattle.

The principal speaker on this occasion will be Dr. William Burkitt, director of the Nutrition Council of America. He is well known as not only one of North America's foremost animal nutritionists, but also as a most entertaining speaker.

On the program with Dr. Burkitt will be Mr. Ross Weaver, late of the Western Feedlots, Strathmore staff and several other well known Alberta beef feeding specialists. The sponsors are sure that there will be some thing of interest to every person in any way connected with the beef industry.

The meeting will commence at 1:30 and will end with coffee and doughnuts. Everyone is invited to attend. This meeting is being sponsored by Master Feeds Ltd., and the local dealers, Ken Greenwood and Gordon Ross.

C.G.I.T. CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

The C.G.I.T. will be holding their Christmas bazaar in conjunction with the United Church on Saturday, November 6th at the Elks Hall.

Fay Moore brought the meeting to order Jean Goddard played the piano while all sang O Canada. Fay then introduced their principal, Mrs. Goddard, who introduced Mrs. Whiteside and her family. Grades 1, 2, 3 and 4, nurst Mrs. McPhee and her Grades 5, 6 and 7, who entertained with a song. Lastly Mrs. Goddard introduced her own class. Grades 8 and 9 followed by this Mr. John David, assistant superintendent, was asked to say a few words to the pupils regarding the honor pins.

Mr. John Whiteside, representing the County of Vermilion River No. 24, congratulated the honor students and presented them with their pins. All were pleased, even though a bit late, with the pins. A motion by Mrs. Mr Sherk, school superintendent.

Since the grades 9 and 9 students were studying about South America, and particularly Peru, the honor students made an outstanding job of speaking on this project Gary spoke on the country of Peru, Allen on the Inca civilization: Keith told us of Pizarro, the Spanish conqueror of Peru, and lastly, Janet's talk was on the Amazon jungle, the vegetation, animal life and exploration. To make this all the more interesting, Miss Annie Shaw of Vermilion, was the guest speaker. She has spent several years as a missionary in the Amazon region of Peru. She is at present home on furlough. Miss Shaw showed quite a few interesting colored slides and spoke of the many different tribes and the need of helpers, not as missionaries, but to learn the language and act as translators, etc.

Just before 3:30, Fay, on behalf of the students and parents, thanked Miss Shaw for coming to show her pictures and also years from Peru.

The afternoon closed with Irene Strome playing the piano and all joined in singing "God Save the Queen".

It was rather disappointing to pupils and teachers to have so few interested parents present on such an occasion. Only about 11 out of the 100 odd home students, that is, to achieve an average of 80 per cent or better Clandonald Public School was done very well in turning out several such students each term in the past.

Incidentally, Miss Shaw's home was just two miles north of Peru, where her brother Bert and family now reside

the dog, the bone and the reflection

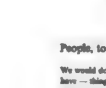
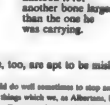
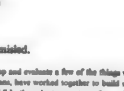
Remember the old tale about the dog who was hurrying home with a fine large beef bone in his mouth?



He had to cross a narrow bridge over a quiet stream.



Halfway across, he looked down and saw the reflection of the bone. He mistook it for another bone larger than the one he was carrying.



So he opened his jaws eagerly to snap it up, and of course the real bone sank to the bottom of the stream.

People, too, are apt to be misled.

We would do well sometimes to stop and evaluate a few of the things we have — things which we, as Albertans, have worked together to build up for ourselves. For example, consider M.S.I., the voluntary system of prepaid medical care coverage which was instituted eighteen years ago by Alberta doctors to meet the special needs of Albertans. Over the years, M.S.I. has worked constantly to increase the scope of coverage and to protect an ever-growing number of Albertans. M.S.I., standing high in the public esteem, has just enrolled its 10,000th group.

Non-profit and non-compulsory, M.S.I. is worth holding on to. You cannot get better medical care coverage for less.

M.S.I. is the best and cheapest medical care coverage.

Overflow Attendance At Old Timers' Banquet

MANNVILLE. The annual banquet and dance of the Manville Old Timers' Association was held in the Orange Hall on the evening of Oct. 23rd with a large crowd attending. Many of whom came from some distance away, taking advantage of the beautiful weather being enjoyed at the time.

OVER 300 ATTEND BANQUET

Over two hundred guests enjoyed a turkey banquet served by the ladies of McQueen Memorial United Church and at which Mr. W. Ray acted the honors as toastmaster.

The toast to the Queen was proposed by President Alec Henderson.

Mayor Haslauer brought greetings from the Village of Mannville, making note of the progress made within the organization and commending its progress made by the village itself, hoping that Edmonton will someday be a suburb of Mannville

TOASTS

The toast to the Old Timers was proposed by Hugo Kuhnle paying tribute to the senior citizens for the heritage they have given us.

The reply was given by Charlie Finlay who stated that while he was not a pioneer himself, since he did attend school in Mannville on the first day school was held there.

Robert Weaver Jr., proposed the toast to the ladies whom, he said, could not be done without, and who are respected by the younger generation for sacrifices they have made and for the fine memories of what they have done for us.

The response was given by Mrs Eber McFadden who went to school in Edmonton when there was only one school there Mrs McFadden has been in the district for 49 years and mentioned how her mother, when only 18 years of age, had been left with the family cow as part of a wagon train coming from Calgary to Edmonton She remarked that they didn't have as much trouble with the Indians then, in all that distance, as we now see in one hour on T.V.!

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the ladies of the United Church.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

After the banquet the business meeting was held, with the following elected as the performers for the long term: President, Ed Calder, Vice-Pres., Willie Rose; Sec.-Treas., Gladys Clark; Press Directors, Pat McLaughlin, Edith O'Connor, Robert Tod, with Maurice Smith completing the term of Len McLaughlin.

Mrs. A. Hubbard moved a vote of thanks to the retiring officers for a job well done

OORP Honor Departing Past Hon. Royal Lady

On a beautiful afternoon last week the Past Honored Royal Ladies of the Order of the Royal Purple Lodge held a farewell tea at the lovely home of Past District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Welsh, in honor of Past Honored Royal Lady Stephens who is leaving Vermilion.

Containers of yellow white and purple pansies were artistically placed around the room with a delightful arrangement at the back of the table consisting of two tall white lighted tapers in pyramid shape grouping at the base of the pansies mingling with the green and white of the ribbons.

The table was spread with a pleated white organdy cloth with a gift to the hostess on which was displayed a lovely collection of souvenir spoons, many of them gifts from the Royal Purple Lodge.

Past Honored Royal Lady Stephens, was presented with a handsome corsage by Past District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Welsh and was complimented on the beaming colors worn by the ladies.

Nearly all the members of the Royal Purple Lodge were able to be present and enjoy the sisterly social tea.

Past District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Jensen presided at the table and poured coffee which was served by Past District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Bell, assisted by the hostess and Past Honored Royal Ladies

All are sorry to have Past Honored Royal Lady Stephens move away as it leaves a gap in the lodge that will be hard to fill. Her untiring efforts did much for the happy life of the Lodge. Besides being an enthusiastic and inspiring member she held many important positions in the work of the Lodge. She was secretary for six years and got her pin in 1956. She received her Past Honored Royal Lady's Jewel in 1962 and her fifteen year pin in 1964. Besides her duties in the lodge she was historian and social convener for a number of years. Her talent in decorating the hall and tables for banquets and special occasions is superb and individualistic.

The Historian Lady Young snapped her picture to occupy a prominent spot in the 1966 history book. Past District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Welsh presented her with a guest book a gift from the Past Honored Royal Ladies carrying with it their best wishes and by signing in the names she could relive many of the events and exciting times during her years in Lodge work in Vermilion. Everyone invited her to come back and visit sometime Past Honored Royal Lady Stephens graciously thanked the ladies for it and the lovely affair since leaving was cut by request.

The table was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and pink candles.

Happy Birthday was sung for Mrs. Rankin when the lovely lighted birthday cake a s a s p r o p r i a t e b r o u g h t in. The gifts and cards were opened by Mrs. Rankin assisted by son Harvey, and passed around.

Mrs. Rankin thanked everyone for the big surprise party, the lovely corsage, the cards, gifts, and all that everyone did to make it such an enjoyable afternoon. She reminded everyone to sign the guest book as she would have much joy in looking at it in the years to come.

Honored On 80th Birthday

On Sunday afternoon Oct. 24th a very delightful surprise 80th birthday party for Mrs. Corn Rankin, was held at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Teasdale

Jim and Ellen Teasdale arrived on the week-end from Edmonton where they are employed, for the occasion also Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rankin, son and daughter-in-law Douglas, Doreen and Georgie from Stony Plain. The other guests were from Vermilion, all relatives of Mrs. Corn Rankin, and included: Mr and Mrs Robert Rankin, Sr. and Mrs John Stewart, Gayla and Joan, Mr and Mrs. John McLeod, Betty, Donna and Mervin; Mr and Mrs. Charles Pearman, Phillip Doris, Helen, David and Alice; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pearman, Robert, Terry, Kenny, Douglas, Brenda, Brian and Irene; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jensen.

Mrs. Jensen was the M.C. and prepared the program which was impromptu, varied and unique. All co-operated beautifully.

The program opened with all singing "Where There is Peace", Georgie Rankin gave a recitation of welcome, and from there on the program was on to a good start, consisting of piano solos, piano duets, accordion and piano duet, guitar and piano duet, bagpipe solo; group singing by families, duets, trio, talks, stories and recitations.

Mrs. Harvey Rankin and daughter Doreen presented two very unusual stunts that were very amusing. Old as a young adult took part in the program and when it was finished all sat down to a bountiful turkey dinner, served by Mrs. Teasdale and Mrs. Harvey Rankin.

The table was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and pink candles.

Happy Birthday was sung for Mrs. Rankin when the lovely lighted birthday cake a s a s p r o p r i a t e b r o u g h t in. The gifts and cards were opened by Mrs. Rankin assisted by son Harvey, and passed around.

Mrs. Rankin thanked everyone for the big surprise party, the lovely corsage, the cards, gifts, and all that everyone did to make it such an enjoyable afternoon. She reminded everyone to sign the guest book as she would have much joy in looking at it in the years to come.

GLEEMAKERS

Glamorous plays to important part in creating a successful table setting. For you, any one pressed glass is usually selected. This is produced by machine and is inexpensive. These double patterns are convenient to buy since broken ones can be replaced.

Crystal differs from glass in that it contains lead oxide and glass does not. The better the quality of crystal the higher the content of lead. Half-crystal has less lead than pure crystal. Crystal is also a harder product and more expensive than glass.

Decanters may be applied to both crystal and glass by several methods. This will likely add to the cost of this article, especially of crystal. It is very difficult to apply paint or enamel to crystal, so painted glasses are usually made of glass. Crystal can be decorated with gold. Cut crystal is formed in heating but is very beautiful because it reflects light from the cut pattern. It is usually heavier than plain crystal because it must be thicker for a pattern to be cut into it.

When you buy glassware, examine it for shape and balance. Any pattern should follow the shape of the glass. Good quality glass is clear and has a hung. Good crystal has a clear ring when tapped. Feel the edges for smoothness. There should be no bumpy or scratchy edges.

Colored glass is quite popular, but most homemakers will probably get best use out of colorless glass. Both glassware and half-crystal can be easily colored. True crystal is difficult to color and is expensive.

There are several shapes and sizes that can serve double duty. These will prove a better investment than a wide assortment of special glasses.

IN MEMORIAM

In Blessed Deed

"How blessed the dead who die in the Lord

For their works do follow them"

thus saith His word.

Though we cry out in anguish and sink in the way,

Still He giveth strength for the day.

His comfort, the heart, though broken, dim the eyes,

Of him who on God's precious promise relies

So may we look upward, our hope fixed on God

And follow the pathway our loved one has trod.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother

Marauders Tie Loyd Defeat Lloyd 53 to 6

(By Margo Healy, PRO)

With the 53 to 6 victory over Lloydminster Border Barons on Saturday, R.H.S. Marauders had the Wainwright Commandos for first place in the Greater Wheatland Football Conference.

Lloydminster played against strong opposition, not only from the Marauders but from a lack of players. Eight Barons were off and the boy playing in the quarterback spot had never played it before.

Ron Jones opened scoring in the first quarter. Gary Tidbury converted and the Marauders led 7 to 0. This began an avalanche of Vermilion TDs as Gary Tidbury crossed the line four more times in the first half. He converted three of them. A safety touch added to the score and it read 34 to 0 at the end of the first half.

In the third quarter Lloydminster's Larry Ball made a well-deserved touchdown. Keith Lees missed the convert. Fullback Ron Jones dashed into the end zone twice in this quarter. Gary Tidbury converted once. The three-quarter time score was 47-6 for Robson High. Lyle Duey ended the scoring with a TD in the last quarter. Final score 53-6

NEXT GAME NOV. 6

The next game is this Saturday, Nov. 6th at Robson High School. This is a play-off game between Wainwright and Vermilion for top spot in the conference.

A full program of ten races was run off despite the chilling wind and fast and furious competition between the drivers. The opening race, a consolation and drifting of each others cars and it is impossible to do anything other than give a list of cars which won races. Since there were no points or prize money at stake the boys found it an ideal opportunity to try out different types of cars, perhaps to help them decide what make of car to build up for next year.

MASQUERADE ENJOYED

The masquerade dance held in the hall in the 22nd was well attended. Quite a number were masked and in costume. For the costume event, the prizes went to 1st, Marion Carvery and Joan Nelson as the "gypsy" couple and an even more "active" policeman, 2nd, Ruby Lypony and Lillian Lawrence as two tired, travelling tramps, 3rd, an old bald-headed couple who loved to "eat 'em and dance. They were Dyr Dwyer and Bert Buhs.

In the best dressed event, 1st went to a pair of Africans, Geraldine Farberg, the medicine man, ready to cure all ills with her whomping and whooping, and Hazel Kada who was the other African and went to the cowboy lad who was protecting his little Indian maid. They were Dolly Trachuk and Patricia Covey. Shirley Hill and Betty Lawrence won third as Little Red Riding Hood, with her basket of goodies, the wolf didn't get her, but the Mad Devil with his silver fork lured her to come with him. It would appear from the prize list that no men were in costume, but such was not the case, they apparently just couldn't resist the women! One cute pudgy gal in her beach frock turned out to be Marvin Little of Derwent. The stunning tall "bar maid" in her sheer short gown was found to be Allan Farberg of Hazeldine and a beautiful nurse with her ever - ready hypodermic needle was Lloyd Hanna of Derwent, and there were many more.

The usual, the judges, namely, Mrs. Simonet, Mrs. Stanley and Frank Chupka had a hard time deciding on who should get the prizes and a big thank you to them from the sponsors, K. of C.

We were pleased to see Myrna Mazuga there. She is a nurse in-training from Oliver, and Jeanne Mattheson, home from Waterways, Lower LaSord from 300 miles north of Prince George. A big snow storm had shut down their work, and Louna Michael from Vegreville.

Novel Initiation Carried Out At Robson High

Thursday, October 7, was a day of initiation and fun for the new students in J. R. Robson High School. Approximately 75 initiates dressed in parties and outfits and everything were made to do everything from carrying pies of books to school to reading Shakespeare in the halls. The fun began early in the morning and ended at 11:15 p.m.

Kangaroo Court, miniature Track Meet and the Harvest Chamber were conducted all night. With the help of fourteen victims jurors, Honorable Judge Mannifest disposed of the crimes. Mannifest, The Track Meet a new idea this year was run by the house of Pendora. Events included pole vaulting (shoving a balloon over a pole); discus (throwing a tin plate); javelin (throwing a paper straw); and the 100 yard dash (eating a string around one finger as fast as possible. This provided lots fun in the initiation.

In the Harvest Chamber, run very aptly by Demmer the thrills never seemed to end. An electric chair branding iron, the hangman's noose and dentist's chair were only a few things.

The Vermilion Tremolos played for the dance which began at 9:00 p.m. and ended at 11:15.

One initiate said "It was fun but once a year is quite enough." At any rate, initiation is complete for one more year and Robson High can get back to normal.

It will take an old timer to recall all the buildings in this picture, looking west on what was then known as First Street South, now 49th Avenue. Many of the buildings shown fell prey to flames in the great fire of April 1918. One lone model T is noted parked at the extreme left of the picture. It appears that centre street parking was the rule in those days.

You Should Know This About Medicines

There have been frequent reports about serious consequences resulting from overdoses of medicines given to infants and children. A five grain tablet of aspirin can be a poisonous dose to an infant. Almost any household remedy can be dangerous if improperly taken.

Subject to variation, it is important to know that an average dose for a one month infant is 1/20th of an adult. For a one year child it is 1/7th and a five year old about 1/3rd. Now you can see why it is important to read directions carefully and follow your physician's instructions exactly.

One Social Insurance Number Is Sufficient

The Unemployment Insurance Commission has advised that the current registration for the Canada Pension Plan is apparently leading many Canadians who already have a Social Insurance Number to apply for a second one. The Commission emphasized that only one number is provided them for both Canada Pension Plan and unemployment insurance purposes and that the individual must not have more than one number.

Those who apply more than one may be building up future difficulties for themselves in regard to payments from either or both these plans. They may find that they have created more than one account for their contributions and thus have trouble obtaining their full entitlement when the time comes to obtain benefits.

The UIC noted that every effort is made to avoid assigning more than one number to an individual. However, when the individual is in-training from Oliver, and Jeanne Mattheson, home from Waterways, Lower LaSord from 300 miles north of Prince George. A big snow storm had shut down their work, and Louna Michael from Vegreville.

"Personal freedom should not be jeopardized in the interests of a political party."

Today we face a crisis. We must forego traditional political procedures and give precedence to a position dictated by the national interest. We must choose men of moral quality and ability, motivated men and women with the courage and energy required to take up the challenge of government.

"Where can we find such men?" Look to Alberta and the success story of Social Credit in this Province. Here are men of sincerity, integrity and ability—men who believe in personal freedom, economic freedom and security.

You have the choice on November 8th. Elect your Social Credit candidate, and give Alberta voice in Ottawa.

Attention Ratepayers of Vermilion

It is understood that a petition has been filed at the Vermilion Town Office in regard to By-law No. 53-65 which calls for the installation of a sewer outfall line to service the area north and east of the Vermilion Municipal Hospital. In view of this it is understood that the ratepayers of the Town of Vermilion will be voting on the issue in the very near future.

The area in question comprises approximately 30 acres which all lies within the present limits of the Town of Vermilion and can be subdivided into approximately 100 choice residential building lots if the necessary services are provided. If these are not provided the area will remain in its present state and will only be used for agricultural purposes.

Many people will probably not realize that there are presently only a very limited supply of residential building lots available at the east end of the Town and that further development in this direction will entail costs for the installation of services that will be approximately three times as great as the cost of the present proposed developments.

Provision of services to the area in question will provide excellent building lots to interested individuals at no cost to the Town of Vermilion except for the provision of services.

Vermilion Heights Development Ltd. is prepared to pay the capital costs of the land purchases and the survey charges and fees required to develop this area. Building lots will then be offered for sale on the public market in an orderly development, working in conjunction with the Town of Vermilion, for an approximate cost of $10.00 per average front foot. The annual tax revenues derived by the Town from this area as it becomes built up will more than offset the initial capital cost of the provision of the services.

If the development of this desirable property is not proceeded with in the immediate future Manville Granis now available will be lost, construction costs will inevitably rise, and land carrying charges negotiable. All of these charges will have to be passed on to the consumer in the form of higher land costs.

Get On With The Job

The election is over and it is quite apparent that calling it was a blunder. Never before were the results of two elections so similar as those of 1963 and 1965. Even the votes for the various candidates were about the same. The results of Monday's election can be taken as a rebuke to our members of parliament. By the decision the electorate is in essence instructing parliament to carry on under the same conditions but to make a good job of it. Electioneering should be well forgotten until the next election rolls around which everyone hopes is five years away.

Premier Calls For Total Centennial Involvement

Premier E. C. Manning has called upon the people of Alberta for total involvement in all celebrations to observe the Centennial of Confederation in Canada in 1967. In a message issued from his office Mr. Manning said

"In 1967, Albertans will join with their fellow Canadians in observing the one-hundredth birthday of their country. It is our hope that each and every resident of this province takes an active part in these celebrations.

"Many features and a wide range of activities are being planned now to emphasize in the minds of all of us the importance of this occasion. It is not simply an arbitrary date on a calendar proclaimed for the sake of festivities alone. It is rather a time when we all can pause to remember and take human pride in the contributions of those Canadians who have preceded us. Each and every one of them has given something of himself to help make Canada what it is today — a young, proud country, with traditions of self-respect and achievement that deserves to persevere for generations to come.

"Our participation in the many events — local, provincial and national — will demonstrate to ourselves our commitment to making our country's second century a period of growth and expansion that will enhance our reputation as one of the world's most progressive lands.

"I commend to you personal participation in the Centennial observances of your community, your associates and your country, as a good investment in the future."

DISCIPLINE — How You Can Guide Your Child's Behaviour

«Concluded»

The time comes when you are up against disobedience — what then? If your small child is reaching for a pot of boiling water, pull him away immediately. Be firm in a kindly manner without screaming, and do not hint in some other activity not so dangerous. The tougher disobedience involve decisions of a more subtle type. But firmness is still necessary, not the kind that says "You do this or else", but the kind that holds his respect because it's reasonable. "It's time to turn the lights out Phyllis," may be the finishing touch that the child insists needs and no several things not always will not some protest on her part.

Constant commands and repetitions usually get you nowhere, and there must be the child's sensitivity to your requests. Another way that "I think" fits better. It is much better where possible to let him accept this responsibility for control rather than attempt to do these. Necessary details should be followed through however. After a request to pick up the toys has failed, try "Please pick up — there's no one else in this way you've completed the child's failure to obey as well as the desire of the living room. Perhaps you even need to have a family a few things to help him get started. It helps her to know her room business.

Getting a child to do something by means of a reward or bribe does not instill responsibility. If you have previously mentioned a reward, you have unwittingly taught the child a lesson, you'll probably have to repeat it every time during the future.

Threats of punishment are equally ineffective. If it's just a threat (I'll get the policeman) and he calls your bluff, he has learned your word is not reliable. Or the punishment, if carried out, may not "fit the crime" and have poor results. As for beating a child, that's a long way from the love and understanding he needs, and the wise parent will not learn it does no good. Instead, the behavior for which the child was punished may become worse.

Firmness is all right with your child as long as he knows you are on his side and not against him. A winning child softens some parents and makes them more kind to others. But parents will respect a firm reasonable demand when it is backed up by the four guideposts already referred to. What about the exceptions that are bound to happen? Your snapped decision and quick temper will be passed over and soon forgotten if the fundamental attitude of respect and love for the child is there.

RUSTED CEREAL STRAW

For a long time some people have been knocking straw as feed and bedding feed was short and sometimes even when it wasn't farmers were inclined to feed straw anyway. Now days the straw and we feel that straw does have considerable feeding value after all. What's more we know in the first place and that if the straw is treated it might be even better.

This information on the feeding value of treated cereal straw is based on one study done at South Current on rusted barley straw last year. The results of this study indicate that such straw contains sufficient protein to eliminate the need of protein supplements. It also shows good energy supplying nutrient qualities.

We don't want to debunk cereal straw as a feed however it should be remembered that the experimental evidence is limited considering the small cost. It would be well worthwhile to have an analysis made by the Soil and Feed Testing Laboratory before launching into a program of feeding unsupplemented straw. Feed testing kits may be obtained at the D.A. office.

MANITOU WHEAT

The new variety of wheat "Manitou" should be in good supply by 1967. The yield of Manitou seed this year was 200,000 bushels, well above what was expected. With normal growing conditions in 1966 there 300,000 bushels should produce between 7 and 9 million bushels of seed for 1967.

The 1965 crop of Manitou was produced on a co-operative basis between the growers and the seed trade. The growers agreed to sell their 1965 production for not more than $3.75 per bushel and the trade to sell seed produced from the growers for not more than $4.50 per bushel.

Loan Payment Deferred

OTTAWA November 3 1965 Agriculture Minister Harry Hays and Veterans Affairs Minister Roger Teillet said today that farmers in areas which have suffered serious crop losses this year and who have outstanding loans with the Farm Credit Corporation or the Veterans Land Administration may apply for a deferment of the repayment of their loans. The Ministers said that borrowers in those areas who are unable to make their payments without undue hardship as a result of crop losses beyond their control will be permitted to defer payment of their current installments.

Farmers who with a deferment should apply to the area offices of the Farm Credit Corporation or the Veterans Land Administration for their province or to the headquarters administration in Ottawa

This is an Alberta Oilfield?

Can you find the oilwell? It is there, even though it isn't obvious. Actually this land has been reserved for agricultural purposes. While the surface was being used for mineral operations, the Surface Rights Reclamation Council, a branch of the Alberta Department of Mines and Minerals, administered maintenance-of-land regulations and, when necessary, imposed established standards for the reclamation of disturbed surface. The surface of all lands used for drilling, mining, quarrying and pipe-lining must be reclaimed to some Alberta's land for future use.

Since 1947 Alberta has experienced tremendous development of its oil and gas resources. Through policies established by the Legislature and administered by the Department of Mines and Minerals these resources have been developed in an orderly manner, for the greatest public good, netting Alberta 1,825 millions of dollars.

Mrs. Harriet Barwick Victoria's Oldest?

Victoria Daily Colonist

If she has been reading newspapers, a broad smile must have been playing across the face of Mrs. Harriet Barwick during the past few days.

While 94 and 98-year-olds have been extensively hailed as Victoria's oldest residents, Mrs. Barwick has been sitting pretty at 99.

And the word from West Bay Private Hospital is that she is in pretty good health.

Though unable to walk, she still has a cheerful awareness of what goes on around her and looks forward to her many visitors.

Her life is not restricted to hospital either, for she frequent ventures out in a wheelchair.

Not bad for someone who aged a year in a day.

To explain that phenomenon, it is recalled that friends and relatives of Mrs. Barwick were preparing to celebrate her 100th birthday February of last year when an important discovery was made.

Word came from her birthplace in Yorkshire, England that somehow she had dropped a year along the line. She was really 101.

Derwent Dance Success

Perryk and Mrs. J. Pankratow dressing as Negroes, Misses Cecilia Perryk and Lorraine Mainyshen as "Raggedy Ann and Andy", Mrs. Olga Lychak and Mrs. Chris Hewdel as Lazy Horn chickens, the clowns, already mentioned, and Mrs. Ed Polanka and Mrs. Betty Zayac as Indians.

Wainwright Commandos Claim Trophy; Defeat Marauders By 12-7 Score

(By Margo Hanby, P.R.O.)

By defeating the Vermilion Marauders 12-7 on Saturday, the Wainwright Commandos won the Grenier Wheatland Football Conference.

It was a hard-fought game from start to finish. A first quarter single gave the Marauders a one-point lead which they held for most of the first half. Then, in the second quarter, an elusive Wainwright player crossed the goal line to put the Commandos on top. Norrie Mills missed the convert and the half time score read 6 to 1.

VERMIL CATCHES FIRE

In the third quarter Vermilion burst into flame. The defense tightened up and offense gradually pushed its way up the field to the Commando 20 where George Garnett flung himself over the line and the crowd went wild as the Marauders went ahead 7-6. Gary Tidsbury missed the convert and the quarter ended on this note.

With three minutes remaining in the game a tricky Commando dashed into the end zone for Wainwright's final T.D. Mills' convert was again off so the score read 13-7. Despite several Marauder attempts they were unable to score again and the Commandos took the game.

Mr. J. Kulha, president of the Wheatland Football Conference, presented the trophy to the victorious captain, Andy Wiskinski.

The defensive line-up, most mentioned too much in previous games, did a good job against the Commando offence. Such as Bill Hall, Ron Fulbeck and Don Inman, Ron Herbart, Ernie Heinemann, Stan Welsh, Gary Tidsbury, Len Isley and Lyle Davy have little to be ashamed of as far as this game is concerned. George Garnett, Gary Heinemann, Murray King, Mike Smith and Ron Jones also played well. Rod Inman was removed from the game suffering a cracked collarbone in the last half.

This ends football season 1965 in R. H. S.

Lions Club Is Great Asset To Dewberry and District

ASSET TO DISTRICT

The Dewberry Lions Club is just over one year old, but already the people are glad that they have this active and community conscious service club in their village. The services rendered have added a great measure of liveliness, progressiveness and energy to the life of Dewberry.

The meeting was conducted by Floyd Orton, president of the Dewberry Lions. The District Governor spoke at some length, reviewing the activities of the Lions on both an International and a district level.

Deputy District Governor Mr. Dobson, introduced Mr Hay to the well attended meeting, and he was touched on many matters.

The Zone Chairman, Mr Shapicki, spoke briefly on club matters close to home.

PRESENTATION

During the course of the addresses of the visiting officials, many compliment(a) remarks were directed to the work of the Charter President of the Dewberry Club, Mr Ken MacLean Lion Lion John Anderson on behalf of the members presented Mr. MacLean with a handsome lion ornamented desk set. Mr Ashley Cooper M.L.A., and editor of the Vermilion Standard was guest speaker of the club on this occasion and addressed the members during the lunch hour.

FINE RECORD OF SERVICE

The Dewberry Lions Club seemed destined for an exceptional career right from its inauguration. This can be traced to the enthusiasm of the members indicated by the fact that no less than 85 men of the village and district became Lions at the institution of the Club.

Even though the club has only been formed since April 1964, the list of community activities and achievements is a very impressive one and includes the following activities

Sponsored and supplied coaches for all minor sport in Dewberry (including girls' and ladies' softball.

Spent $1136.60 for putting new fence around the skating rink last winter plus the volunteer help for building same;

Supplied baseball equipment to the Little League baseball clubs during the past summer to the amount of $215.75.

Sponsored a Student for Youth Exchange at a cost of $120.00. All of the clubs in Zone 3TB take part in this. The student is selected on the basis of a written essay which is judged by professors at the U of A. The student winning was in grade 12 at Vegreville.

Supplied a trophy for the student with the highest class average in grade 9. This is to be an annual event. The student winning the trophy this year was Ralph Davies.

In the operation of the Dewberry Community Hall the Lions Club repainted the interior not once but twice, and the cement sidewalks to both doors from the street, put in new floor covering on the kitchen floor and at present the men here are in the process of installing a new roof.

Mannville Students Hold Initiation

MANNVILLE: Around the beginning of October there is an annual parade of a shivering, suffering youth that may be seen wending its way through the streets of there on down through the village. These young people, dressed in an assortment of wearings apparel are the initiates of the current year at the Mannville High.

Those who did not wear their garb were penalized and required to do something socially as rather boss as these suggested after as a consequence.

Just as a sample of the penalties I had I guess that was mild enough, but it is funny and humorous to see. Wayde Rasmussen summoned Jim Mahon forward. He was then told a few sentences to recite to Mr. Wyatt and I guess certain Mr. Wyatt reminds one of the famous word spoons who lived a very famous.

The day was concluded by a well attended dance held in the school gymnasium. Music was supplied by the Rhumba Kings and a delicious lunch was served to conclude the evening.

A mission is for the soul what a clinic is for the body Everyone has heard the advice "See your doctor once a year". A doctor may demand more. He may order his patient to the medical clinic In a clinic one is thoroughly and scientifically X rayed examined and re-examined by a staff of medical experts. Finally, the doctors give their verdict. Either the patient is assured that all is well or the doctors may advise treatment or an operation

A mission is a spiritual clinic where the soul is examined thoroughly and expertly the revealing light of the eternal truths The Divine Physician our Most Holy Redeemer asks "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul" Mark 8 36.

Council proposes to extend the outfall sewer line to a point north east of the residence of Gordon Park. From this point the entire area as far as the auction market could be serviced if required, and on a frontage cost basis. Presently proposed to service the area nearest to it, frontage basis and entirely within the town limits. Proposal to extend the water line to the Hospital and connect with present line at the Hospital thus providing a water line to the Hospital. This causes a $4,500.00 increase over the estimate of 1964 for the water line.

A further note related to the difference in the by-law loan amount and the estimated cost amount

If work is not started and all materials on hand by March 31, 1966 and not completed by June 1, 1966, it is possible not to qualify for the entire grant from the Municipal Development and Loan Board. The Local Improvement Act would have to be amended before this possibility in the by-laws approved. Council only proposes to borrow what money is necessary up to the limit provided in the by-laws approved.

News from RIVERTON

Held over from last week)

The Hallowe'en dances were fine and merry and the farmers are busy stacking and hauling grain, straw and covering. There is a plentiful supply of feed this year and everyone is anxious to get in as much of it as possible after the cold and rain winter of a year ago.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Norman Fox (nee Betty Matthews) who were married on Oct. 29th at Vermilion. The reception was held in Lloydminster and the dance which followed was well attended. The happy couple will make their home in Edmonton where Mr Fox is a member of the city police force.

Mrs. Squire is at present in the University Hospital in Edmonton undergoing another series of tests. We all hope the results will be favorable.

A bridal shower for Miss Betty Mathison was held in the Riverton Hall on Oct. 25th. There was a good turnout and Betty received many useful and beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Wm. Hansen spent a most pleasant weekend visiting her daughter Linda Rose and family at Elnora.

Several Riverton residents attended the dance in Vermilion on Friday night but their luck was not liked.

Hallowe'en has come and gone with the usual visitations of tiny witches, goblins, etc., demanding tricks or treats. No one minds these little ones, in fact they are made welcome but when older ones, who should know better come around playing practical jokes they are not so welcome.

We Have A Responsibility

The 1965 election campaign is over — the minds made up, the votes cast — and a new government has been elected. But the political process does not end with the marking of a ballot. On the contrary, the physical act of voting is really only the beginning. We have chosen men and women to guide our country's destiny for the next five years and it is now our responsibility as citizens to make sure that these people know what we want them to do. This responsibility can be fulfilled in several ways. First, by individual action, which requires each citizen to follow the performance of his MP in Parliament, letting him know, by letter or personal contact, whether we support his actions or not. The second, and perhaps more effective way is through group action. Many associations such as community Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, are continually studying government actions and proposals and informing their elected representatives of their collective opinion on them.

This vital part of the political process can be as simple or as elaborate as one wishes. The degree of involvement is irrelevant — what really counts is that more people do become personally involved.

GERMINATION TESTS

It is not too early to think about next year's seed supply. The past weather which delayed harvest for so long has also had its effect on germination Many seed samples harvested after the delay are showing very poor germination This fall it is most important to have germination tests made early so that good seed can be obtained where necessary. Last year seed suppliers show a little reluctance to furnish about 5% varieties. This will be using next year. The past season is certainly good evidence that it pays to use the recommended varieties

RECTIFICATION

The certification of the Brucel vaccine by Ayrs County Council on November 24 expired on March 31 1965

Calfhood vaccination programs came in the Brucellosis Control Areas on April 1 1965 and Vermilion County Council has been carried on the programs very well to detect any further infection in the area In order to research the county as a Brucellosis Control Area for a further three years it is necessary to retest all previously tested herds in the county

The retesting of these herds will be completed this fall In the previously infected herds, all reactors be tested with the exception of steers calves under 8 months spayed heifers and vaccinated cattle under 20 months of age

Although the co-operation in Alberta has been excellent there are a few herds in the Vermilion district which are not co-operating fully, and it is the responsibility of the cattle owners to make sure that their slaughter cattle are back tagged in order that they will receive the benefits of the Market Cattle tagging program.

By using the combination of retesting previously infected herds and the two screening programs for Brucellosis carried out by the Canadian Department of Agriculture, Health of Animals Branch, will continue to keep the County of Vermilion River No. 24 a Brucellosis Certified Area

Cattle owners desiring further information on the Brucellosis Control Area program are asked to get in contact with Dr. H. E. Morris, Health of Animals Branch Post Office Building, Vermilion.

CATTLE LICE

Cattle lice may become a problem when cattle are brought in for the winter At the Leth Hills Livestock auction sales made this fall indicate the louse problem may be worse than usual this year Heavy attacks by lice weaken animals and can cause their death through anemia. In any case such weakening makes them more susceptible to disease Lice are most commonly found at the tailhead, brisket, neck and head of cattle coming off range Light infestations now will certainly increase unless treated.

Your Editor

This letter is to draw to your attention the unfavorable road conditions that the voters in the Cactus District were called upon to vote on, at the last civic election. For some obscure reason the facilities on this district which have already been voted for this date were not given consideration by the Commissioners Board

If the members cannot be trusted to the voters then in our opinion we should be given the privilege of voting in town

The other dwellers is not called upon to cast a vote in the Commissioners matters of this district as such a vote is not necessary. Therefore we can be voted down on any issue and have to pay the bill. Thank you for this space

Mannville Students Hear Remembrance Day Address

MANNVILLE — Mr. E. A. Krider, principal of Mannville schools, was master of ceremonies at an assembly in the auditorium at Mannville, held in observance of Armistic Day.

Each student, proudly wearing a poppy, was most attentive as they heard a fellow student, Chris Bauer, recite "In Flanders' Fields"

Dr. Kev Glover of Vermilion was introduced as guest speaker. He impressed upon those present the value of giving of themselves as those to whom tribute is paid on Nov. 11th each year, did in the years before and after that first Armistic was signed.

Dr. Glover stressed the value of the ability to think for ourselves, also stressing the value of taking part in community affairs. The speaker emphasized that if less than the best is done we break faith with those who died as stated by Lieut.-Col. John McCrae, who wrote "In Flanders' Fields" just two short weeks before he died. This says in part:

"To you from falling hands we throw
The torch, be yours to hold it high.
If you break faith with us we who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders' fields."

Dr. Glover pointed out the value of recognizing the depth of the matter. As an example he told of three workmen at the task of rebuilding a cathedral. When the first was questioned as to what he was doing, he said: "I'm laying stone"; the second said, "Getting $1.50 an hour"; while the third, quite realizing the depth of his work, said, "I'm helping to rebuild a cathedral".

He urged the students to know what they were about in this world of unrest, telling them of the 21 notable civilizations, and of the 19 that have perished from decay within

Dr. Glover proved to be a most able speaker, offering much good advice that everyone, not only the students, could well remember.

Agriculturists Form Institute Branch

Twenty-two professional Agriculturists from north-eastern Alberta gathered at the V.A.V.C. in Vermilion on Tuesday, 9 Jan. the purpose of forming a branch of the Alberta Institute of Agrologists. These men, coming from points as far away as Bonnyville, St. Paul, Provost, Vegreville, Wainwright Lloydminster, are currently engaged in agricultural pursuit involving research, teaching instruction, extension farming and industry related to agriculture.

The objectives of the Alberta Institute of Agrologists are many and varied but very broadly might be described as exchange of views and ideas of and amongst members for the general and better welfare of the agricultural community as a whole.

A 6 man temporary executive was held during the course of which the election of officers took place.

Mr. Morley Douglas, District Agriculturist at Vermilion, who was instrumental in early organizational work, was elected president. Dr. Ron Cairns, Director of the Soils Research Station in Vegreville was elected vice president with Mr. Jack Harrus of the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College as secretary treasurer. The directors, Dennis Webster of Lloydminster, Laurent Caron of Bonnyville, Bob Menzies of Provost, William Dent of Two Hills and Ed Schalm of Vermilion, completed the list of executive officers.

The Standard was pleased to hear from another old timer this week as Ole Lindgord sent along his renewal from Wenham, Alberta Ole notes that it is now 28 years since he left Vermilion.

So you prepare your fabrics for sewing? By preparation, I refer to straightening the grain and fabric ends and pre-shrinking the material, if necessary.

Fabric which is not straightened before cutting may result in a garment which does not fit well and hangs incorrectly Wrinkles may also be the result of garments cut off grain. What might happen if your garment shrinks after the first laundering or dry cleaning? Take time to prepare your fabric before cutting. It will free you of disappointments later on. It is time well spent.

If your material has not been torn or cut straight at both ends, this you must do. For fabric that will tear, tear across both ends. If it can't be torn, pull a cross-line thread that appears to go all the way across the width of the fabric. Pull it gently as far as you can, like gathering thread. Cut across where thread has been pulled. This procedure should be done on both ends.

To straighten the threads or the grain, fold the fabric lengthwise with selvages together. If the ends do not meet, the threads of the fabric are not at right angles and must be straightened. To straighten, pull the two short corners (on the bias) so that when the fabric is again folded with selvages together, the ends meet. By the way, straightening also refers to your linings and interfacings.

If your fabric is not labelled pre-shrunk or Sanforized, then you should take steps to do this at home. To preshrink your wool fabrics, wring out a wet sheet. Spread the fabric out on the wet sheet and roll both up together. Leave for several hours until the material is quite damp. Press on the wrong side using very light pressure. Run the iron parallel to the selvages so as to prevent stretching the fabric. Avoid folding and handling the material until thoroughly dry.

To pre-shrink your rayon linings and seam binding and your cotton interfacings use the following procedure. Leave the material folded and place in a pan of cool water. Soak at least thirty minutes. Squeeze out the water and hang to dry. Press evenly parallel to the selvages. Make these steps a habit in preparing your fabrics for sewing It's well worth it.

Mannville Students Continue Support Of Foster Child

MANNVILLE — For the past two years The Shaw-Co Students of the high school have financially supported a foster child. This year at the time of the annual drive a committee was appointed to raise money for Miss Adachi that a little more than $100 would be necessary to raise. The committee's goal was to raise $150.

After much discussion at the October 4th meeting of the student council it was decided that with a full month left in which to raise funds a committee should be appointed to canvass the town personally and commercially. Miss Sterling, a former student of the Vermilion school in India would be the guest speaker from the Mennonite High School Students.

The reason why the writer has been known to readers of the column in the hope of helping that world poor in the hands of the local people. Also and are often referred to as anthropological. Explained in this one instance study more than likely have that they are truly underprivileged. The task will become them. It would be a great help to Scottish if these students to have well that is one of the many the people do more.

So it's hats off to the committee and the High School Students Union plus sincere appreciation to the elected person member who has worked hard. Now we have been rewarded by Lucy for the publication of this book of calendars that was done by the writer by the student school managers of persons pupils proud of these students as is this correspondent

Missionary From Zambia Addresses U.C.W. Rally

The United Church in Vegreville was bustling with activity on Nov 6th as approximately 70 ladies of St. Paul Presbyterian met for their Fall Rally and Workshop.

Mrs. R. Everett and Mrs. E. Fykes of Ashmont-ale opened the meeting with a very stirring devotional, using as their theme "What it means to be a Christian Woman in the World Today". The morning session was conducted by Mrs. J. F. Mayell of Calgary, vice president of Alberta Conference, whose topic was "Stewardship". Together the women explored the many ways in which the stewardship of our time and talents can be used to further the work of our church.

Where are our loyalties? What is luxury and what necessity? Do we know and inform our teachers of the SJ and SK plan whereby the church will send them to Japan or Korea to teach English for a period of 3 years? Do we encourage our youngsters to explore the possibility of making one of the many church vocations open to them as their chosen career? Do we encourage our students to take summer employment in one of our hospitals or an Indian mission, giving them the opportunity to see for themselves the needs in the developing and how great the need for more workers is".

How concerned are we about the unfilled pulpits and what are we as United Church Women doing about it? Are we being honest with ourselves? Are we giving a fair share of our time, our talents and our money to further His work and make this world a better place in which to live? These were but a few of the many questions discussed. Mrs. Mayell was given a hearty vote of thanks for her leadership, after which the ladies went downstairs to enjoy a delicious luncheon, courtesy of the Vegreville U.C.W.

Mrs. W Hirkman and Mrs. Eichmeyer of Vegreville opened the afternoon with a beautiful rendition of "Near to the Heart of God".

Mrs R M Butterfield of Calgary, recording secretary for the Alberta Conference used a flip chart to explain the channels of communication the women of the U.C.W. as a whole, have for the various committees as spoken and the officers as the hub. She showed how everyone must accept their share of responsibility in order to keep the wheel rolling. A question period followed. Mrs. J A. Hamilton, Presbyterial President, thanked Mrs. Butterfield for the information and ideas she had presented.

Mrs W Hinchs, who with her husband and family, is on furlough from the mission field of Zambia, was introduced by Mrs. Hamilton. Mrs. Hinchs spoke of her first impressions on arrival in Zambia in 1954, of the segregation, superstition, and fear which ruled the lives of these people. In the years that followed a great drive for independence arose and finally a day never to be forgotten, arrived, October 24th, 1964, Zambia received her independence. Mrs. Hinchs described the great celebration at the stadium where thousands of people of every race, color and creed, sat side by side as one big happy family to enjoy that day of days. The feeling of "forget the past, now that we are free" filled the air as the Union Jack was lowered and the flag of Zambia raised.

A great boom in the economy of the country followed independence Zambia is rich in minerals, but has no seaport, which is of great concern to the government. Schools are being built at a rate hitherto undreamed of, and still hundreds of children are zealously waiting for the great day when there will be room for them too.

Zambia is a proud and happy nation, but not until Jesus Christ comes into their hearts and releases them from ancient superstitions and fear will they be truly free.

Mrs. Hinchs spoke of the many wonderful friends they said good-bye to as they left Zambia to return to home and friends while Mr. Hinchs continues his studies at the U. of A.

A tremendous round of applause followed Mrs. Hinchs' benediction, spoken in the language of the people they had left just a short time ago.

Anyone for Rainbow Trout Fishing?

Jack Wooders is proudly displaying a fine string of Rainbow Trout caught in Jackfish Lake which is located 20 miles north and 3 miles west of Mannville. Jack used a wet fly, Muddlers Minnow, in catching the trout.

Mr. Wooders is a great outdoor enthusiast and wants to see the Fish and Game Assoc. re-organized here.

Mr. George Senz of the Alberta Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, planted 55,000 fingerlings in Jackfish Lake in August 1963. This was followed by successive plantings of 12,000 and then 11,000 yearlings. Mr. Senz reports these have done very well. More success was achieved with the Jackfish plantings of Rainbow trout than in any other lake in the area.

Do It For A Week — Do It For A Year

SAFE-DRIVING WEEK 1965 will begin at midnight, November 30 and end at midnight, December 7

As in the past nine years, Safe-Driving Week will be Canada's annual awareness campaign, designating an early December week to emphasize to all motorists and pedestrians the need for individual attention to accept responsibility in preventing death and injury on the roads and streets.

If you can do it for a week, you can do it for a year."

An informed Canadian public can bring effective results. Canada's more than 10,000,000 voters may not agree on who shall represent them in the legislatures of the country. But they can agree that death on the highway is ignominious and that injury through a road crash can mean a living death.

From ages five to 95 Canadians insist on walking, driving or being driven.

One week of walking or driving with safety will prove that exercising care and consideration for seven days could establish a pattern for an entire year

Don't Sign — Think About It!

Complaints are again being received from citizens who have signed contracts too readily, only to wake up next morning regretting being talked into the deal. It is always a good idea to refrain from signing on the spur of the moment, and to sleep on the deal. Better yet think the whole proposition over for a day or two and make a few inquiries from your local business men. These propositions are just as available tomorrow as they are today. Be wise — not sorry.

Young Canada Book Week

One week in the year is dedicated to the special world of books for young Canada. The books in a youngster's early life may have a marked influence on his later years, particularly those that are read to him. As soon as some friend or older member of the family can be cajoled into reading to a preschooler the first steps into the world of literature have been taken. Soon the small ones won't be content to have a story stopped just as the hero is about to walk into the robbers' cave or the fairytale princess about to be bewitched. There'll be the demand to carry on on his own — a read-it-yourself plan to decipher the magic words himself.

The best source of reading matter for the youngster is the public library and his librarian is the best guide to his reading matter. As soon as his inclination to try for himself is noticed, he should have all the encouragement possible. The child who loves reading won't be a lonely child.

The Drinking Driver

More and more Canadians are taking a close look at those persons who invade the privacy of others by drinking and then attempting to drive motor vehicles.

"It is wrong for a friend, a neighbor or a business associate to do this but for me it is different. I know when I'm fit to drive."

If that is your attitude you are guilty of a criminal act. The proof is difficult sometimes but before too long there will be a public demand for measures which will overcome the objections and opposition of those selfish and misguided people who harp about self-incrimination and the sanctity of the rights of the individual. In the face of the growing death and injury caused by drivers who drink and drinkers who drive, there must be public outcry.

The holiday season is coming. With it comes the threat which can cause ruin

C. of C. Favors Development

Concern was expressed at the last Chamber meeting over the conflicting opinions various citizens seem to have in relation to the money by-laws that are to be voted on next Friday, November 26.

Some seem to feel that their taxes will be advanced forty to fifty dollars if they vote in favor of the proposed improvements. Others feel that the Town is subsidizing private enterprise if the extension to sewer and water is approved and that if private lots are purchased from this private enterprise the lots will be double the cost of normal Town lots and in addition the purchaser will be forced to accept a builder designated by the seller. The Chamber of Commerce would like to bring to the attention of the Public that these are all entirely false conceptions and that on the average, the taxes would not be more than seven to eight dollars more. This is assuming that the present assessment is used as a basis for taxation. However it is possible that with the amount of new construction that has taken place, the assessment could be somewhat higher, thereby reducing the overall tax rate

The Chamber of Commerce is fully convinced that our town must get growth and expand if we are to keep our citizens within a reasonable taxation level, for with more business establishments and more residential areas the ratepayers more taxes are brought in to help ease the over-all burden

The proposed extension of sewer and water to the west would service the holdings of the private enterprise who would be responsible for the improvements on their own development but as each lot is improved it becomes subject to frontage tax and property tax based on regular assessment. Thus this development could repay its costs to the Town in a few years under regular development methods and the relief of the extension. Furthermore in an agreement with the council, the Chamber understands that the promoters of the development will not charge more than the regular per foot frontage rate for lots than is now charged by the town. Under no circumstances will a purchaser of a lot or lots be forced, or be put under pressure to build a house by anyone other than the builder of his choice.

The Chamber would like to point out that voting against Town improvements would not mean your taxes would remain as is or become less. They would most certainly increase for with the increase in population and with no extra sources of taxation then a raise would have to be levied also costs of operation, costs of supplies, labor and overhead are steadily increasing and also the price of providing oil!

The men you have elected to council are human beings with human failings. I believe they are sincere in the belief that after hours of debating the issues to be voted on and in the best interests of the town of Vermilion and sincerely hope that you will agree by voting in favor of these projects.

The Vermilion Chamber of Commerce strongly upholds the Council's proposals for without a progressive program. Vermilion will stagnate. Will you vote on Friday, November 26 in support of the program the Council has worked so hard to resolve?

Did you know that if this plebiscite goes down to defeat that it will be twelve months before it can be again introduced — that grants totalling $55,000 may be lost and costs may be as much as 50 per cent higher two years from now. Consider seriously how you vote on this question, for it is a proven fact that sooner or later the improvements outlined will have to be undertaken.

The Vermilion Chamber of Commerce urges you to exercise your right to vote and if you need transportation to the polling booth, call 853-3275 and a car will pick you up.

New Training Program For Bulldozer Operators

A training program which will enable unemployed men to become bulldozer operators was officially opened Monday by the Hon. R. H. MacKinnon, Alberta Minister of Education.

Following an agreement between the Division of Vocational Education and R. Angus (Alberta) Ltd. the rental of equipment and instructors salaries for the two week course will be financed by the Provincial Government with assistance from the Federal Government under the Vocational Training agreement. A training allowance is also payable to students who do not qualify for unemployment insurance

The course will be equally divided between operational and theoretical instruction at the premises of R Angus (Alberta) Ltd. of 16805 107th Avenue in Edmonton who distribute earth moving equipment to the oil industry and have had previous training programme experience for the Department of Northern Affairs

The need for such a course was made known to the Government by Mr. S. J. Lydiatt President of the Oilfield Contractors Association who stated that the industry was in the position to employ between one hundred and three hundred new operators each year.

The initial course consists of twelve trainees, selected by the National Employment Service.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF VERMILION

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I attended the taxpayers' meeting held in the Elks Hall on Wednesday, Nov. 17th last, to hear reports given by Mr. E. Stockberger and by Councillors Waldenberger and Brunacombe, why the taxpayers of the Town of Vermilion should vote favorably on By-laws No. 48-65 and No. 53-65.

Mr. Waldenberger reported — Problems — public utility building, saying that the building is of poor structure, not large enough, or warm enough. He also said it was a mess!

As a taxpayer I would like to know why the building has been allowed by the councils of recent years to remain a poor structure and in a condition to be termed a mess? If repairs and additions were needed why weren't these things done? If additional seat was needed, why was it not installed? These things could still be done to the building as is. A new expensive building will have to be properly heated.

All councillors are taxpayers, and like all taxpayers are very reluctant to see any raise in taxes, and without exception are fully aware of the problems of the individuals who do not have too much cash to spare. This is the reason why the town must add the every cost of their activities. They feel that their dedication was to your best interest in the long run and they hope that you will indicate your confidence in your council by supporting the plebiscite.

Claude Underdown.

Dear Editor:

For the Ratepayers

of the Municipality

In spite of all the attempted justification of the expenditures being voted on this Friday, ONE fact remains, and that is that taxes will increase by these expenditures. In spite of much-ballyhooed increases in assessments taxes have increased practically every year since 1958. Once some tax is added on, it never comes off, hence an unending upward spiral. There is only one way to avoid higher taxation and that is to vote 'NO' to the money by-laws. The old saying "What goes up, must come down" does not hold in the case of taxes in Vermilion.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for your valued space.

Over-Taxed Payer.

Mr Editor:

I would very much appreciate space in your valued paper to express my views in relation to the pending plebiscite:

Judging by the turn-out of ratepayers to the special meeting last Wednesday, a bare 70 persons, it would seem that most of the 100 odd persons who signed a petition to call a meeting, either had lost interest or else had made up their minds before they even knew the facts.

As a member of the town council, who has attended some twenty council meetings dealing with the subject of the proposed new fire hall, the town work shop and the sewer and water extension, it is my honest opinion that if Vermilion is to keep its taxation on a reasonable level, we must make progress by expanding, so that our town has a large assessment base, this will mean a larger taxable income which in turn could help to reduce taxes — to remain stable would most decidedly raise taxes.

All councillors are taxpayers, and like all taxpayers are very reluctant to see any raise in taxes, and without exception are fully aware of the problems of the individuals who do not have too much cash to spare. This is the reason why the town must add the every cost of their activities. They feel that their dedication was to your best interest in the long run and they hope that you will indicate your confidence in your council by supporting the plebiscite.

Claude Underdown.

Mr Editor:

I beg leave to repeat, that Vermilion taxpayers are entitled to at least one year's rest from the annual raise of taxes. Be careful what you vote for and for whom you vote for when the time comes.

No matter how you vote on Friday, Nov. 26th, get out and vote.

Thank you Mr. Editor, yours very sincerely,

H. J. Payne.

Vermilion Tigers Defuse Lacombe Rockets 9-3

Vermilion Tigers showed that they were serious last week when they took on the Lacombe Rockets at the Stadium and beat them 9-3 in an exhibition game. While to some, exhibition games don't prove too much, it was evident that the Eastern Alberta Hockey League Tigers had been under-rated and the Rockets viewing Vermilion dominate the play throughout and only the splendid performance of Russ Gillow in the Lacombe nets kept the score as it was.

All the Vermilion players did very well but the star had to go to George Townsend of the Tigers who really played a whale of a game. Scorers for Vermilion were John Belcourt and Gerry Brown with two each. Singles went to S. Belcourt, H. Hodgson, Dave Townsend, Ian Baker and B. Walcdik.

Parents Week-end At V.A.V.C. Dec. 4

The mid-session examinations have just been completed and report cards are away to 130 parents mainly in Alberta, a few in Saskatchewan and B.C. President Keith Bunker of the Students' Union announces a Parents' Week-End on Dec. 4th. Instead of students going home for the week-end they will be invited to come to the V.A.V.C. and join with their sons and daughters in a variety of activities. A tour of facilities, supper and an evening of entertainment are planned for the occasion.

In spite of the late start all phases of activities have been organized and are progressing at a rapid pace. Considerable interest has been shown in a riveting group and dramatics. Musical talent is in evidence and Rock'n' Roll would seem to be the order of the day.

Except for a large crew of painters reconstruction in the dormitory has come to a stand still. New design, decorative colors and new fixture are in evidence particularly on the boys' side.

The Fire Commissioner's office is helping the staff and students to organize an effective fire safety emergency evacuation program. Depu. Fire Commissioner Dick Reiland has been down to the college a number of times and was largely instrumental in re-organizing the effective fire safety program.

The Hon. H. E. Strom, Alberta Minister of Agriculture announced last week that the Tech. Mech. Course in Artificial Insemination will be offered at the V.A.V.C. commencing Jan 3rd. The intense and comprehensive nature of the course provides the training suitable not only for AI technicians but for other areas of the livestock industry. Entrance requirements have been modified to make it possible for people from other provinces to take the courses. Only twelve applications will be accepted because of the amount of individual attention given to the students in this course

Registration for the winter session in agriculture have been most gratifying. Fifty new applications are on hand and only a very few more will be accepted to keep accommodation in residence will be taxed to the limits. The gradual increase in the number of students attending the V.A.V.C. suggests that the general public is taking advantage of the extension services offered by the college

A NEW LOOK

In remodelling clothing, every effort should be made to have the garment look like new. Redesigning or remodelling should be done to suit the individual for whom it is intended. If necessary, store the fabric or garments for a time rather than use it when not suitable. Never attempt to mark clothes as being outmoded are rubber, collarless, flounce of skirt, length of skirt and waistline treatment.

To begin your remodelled garment, do all mending that is necessary. Then many times by brighten up that faded look with a tint or dye of a new color. This step should be carried out after ripping. When ripping, be careful in separating seams so as not to stretch them. Worn edges should be trimmed and grain line marked with a basting thread.

The use of the potential garment should be largely determined by the quality of the fabric. If the fabric is in relatively new condition it usually will present little difficult pattern. It is unprofitable to spend a great deal of time sewing a fabric which is not going to be durable and which won't withstand the wear.

SEWING RAYFED FABRICS

Any nap or pile fabric, be it a short pile-like corduroy, or a fuzzy fur, requires special cutting and sewing techniques.

Because the nap reflects the light it is essential to have all pattern pieces running in one direction. For velvet, velveteen and corduroy, the pile should run up. The depth of the pile will show better running in this direction. For fabrics, dress and brushed wool are cut with the nap running down. Most heavy napped and pile fabrics require a light tension and a long stitch in sewing. Experiment with your material on a scrap and always sew in the same direction as the pile.

Press all pile and napped fabrics as gently as possible if you must place the iron on the fabric, do so face down on a thick towel. Steam lightly and in the direction of the pile. The seams can be finger pressed.

TIGERS OFFER SEASON TICKETS

Ten games for $7.50 a saving of $2.50. That is what the Tiger hockey club a season ticket is selling for. The club executive had these printed and were presenting them for sale to the public when it was decided at the regular meeting to extend the regular schedule to fifteen games. To accomodate minor complaints as well it was decided by the executive to have the tickets good for the FIRST ten games. Some people bring in the cut-out missing some of these games. They are not ticket holders as we are sure. Would these games now be missed as we are not whether there were ten or fifteen games? These tickets are interchangeable anyone can use them

Outstanding Naturalist Returning To Vermilion

Canada's outstanding naturalist at one time if the world's best known ambassador of nature, director of the world famous Algonquin Game Farm, will present in one unit of his famous wildlife and animal motion picture entitled "Wilderness Adventure" on Wednesday, December 1st at 8:00 p.m. in the J. E. Robins High School Auditorium.

The picture is hailed by critics across the country as a masterful wildlife photography. It depicts the fascinating and all too incredible story of how the Algonquin Game Farm came about. You will thrill to the scenes as Grey Owl shows visitors the deer park in Canada, guarding all of the tiny new and unusual creatures of their own private hideaway. A bond between two giant bull moose, Wapiti and Sakima, is formed during a deep storm. And a vivid introduction of animal superstitions never before filmed.

At intervals will narrate in person this film and his stories are an inspiring testament to man whose "Tawana" fill Summer home cherished will on stage with him for you to pet and

WHY NOT TRY A WANT AD!

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, braking and ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick.

We tuned the 1966 Buick. Not just the engine, but the whole car. We tuned off the elements. Like you would the instruments in an orchestra. And just as the tuned orchestra gives the effect of one man, the tuned car says blended perfection from bumper to bumper and road-line to air-line.

Tuned Performance. We tuned Buick performances. Not just by increasing the efficiency of the six Buick engines, but by tuning everything that transfers the power into activity. The transmission, the full coil suspension, the balanced drive-shaft, the brakes. All working together. All tuned.

Tuned Ride. We tuned the traditional Buick ride. And came up with something truly unique. Boulevard comfort with enough road-feel to let you know you're in charge. Then we added extra soft-cushioning rubber in places that put a lot of pounding. The result is a very special kind of ride. A tuned ride.

Tuned Styling. We even tuned the way Buick looks. Possible? Look at any one of the Buicks. Every sweeping line and gentle curve suggests motion. Inside and out, the car has been designed to move. And to say so. Quietly. But emphatically. That's tuned styling.

Drive the 1966 Buick Riviera, Electra 225, Wildcat, LeSabre, Skylark or Special Deluxe. They're all Buicks. All tuned cars. All tuned to you. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Be sure to watch "Tolemaya", "The Fugitive" and "The Red Skelton Hour" now showing on television. Check local listings for time and channel.

Remembrance Day Observed at Mannville

(By Edith Laidler)

MANNVILLE -- Members of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 33 and the Auxiliary marched from the Legion Hall at Mannville at 10:45 under the command of parade marshal Jack Cosford.

They marched for three blocks to the cenotaph for the cold and windy morning of November 11, to pay tribute to comrades, friends and relatives who gave their all in the wars of 1914-18 and 1939-45.

Many citizens listened and watched as the "Last Post" and "Reveille" were heard and wreaths of red poppies and golden maple leaves were placed at the foot of the cenotaph by several townspeople in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

From the cenotaph the Legion and Auxiliary members paraded to the Anglican Church where the Colors were given into the hands of the Rev. W. A. Swinton who deposited them on either side of the chancel. The call to worship was given by Rev. Swinton.

The first and second lessons were read by the Rev. H. A. Richards of McKeown Memorial United Church and the Rev. Swinton, respectively.

The combined choirs of McQueen Memorial and Christ Church Anglican sang beautifully "How Great Thou Art" as an anthem.

Mrs G. F. Johnston, seated at the electric organ accompanied the choir for the anthem and also supplying the music for such well known and inspiring hymns as "God of Our Fathers Known", "Oh!" and "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind".

Rev. Swinton in a very kindly address bid those present not have faith in our Lord in what is awesome, wonderful mysteries and impossible is just beyond our understanding, but to remember that in God, all things are possible.

He brought to mind the expeditions of Belgium and France and how our troops were aided by several unusual factors in their return to England, and who later returned across the Channel to win the war.

No doubt there were veterans present that day who were quite familiar with those times, and of the hardships and privations of war that touched us in Canada so lightly when one considers what others suffered.

In these days of unrest we would all do well to remember the words of Rudyard Kipling's "Recessional".

"If drunk with sight of power, We loose
Wild tongues that have not Thee in awe,
Such boastings as the Gentiles use,
Or lesser breeds without the law.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget.
For heathen heart that puts her trust
In reeling tube and iron shard;
All valiant dust that builds on dust
And guarding calls not Thee to guard;
For frantic boast and foolish word,
Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord."

After the closing prayers and benediction the hymn "O God of Love, O King of Peace" was sung.

Make wars throughout the world to cease.
The wrath of sinful man restrain
Give peace, O God, give peace again" was sung.

The Colors were carried by the Colors and led the congregation out of the church.

The Legion and Auxiliary members returned in parade order, proceeding to the Legion Hall where they and the reverend gentlemen repaired to the quarters for the annual Armistice Day conversazione and dinner.

They later returned to the hall where coffee and sandwiches were served and a period of fun and fellowship prevailed.

"The Alberta Commercial Corporation helped us to expand"

When credit was unavailable through regular financial facilities this firm received monetary assistance from the Department of Industry and Development through the Alberta Commercial Corporation. Aid was made available for inventory financing which included purchase of raw materials, or manufactured equipment and parts; for financing premises or equipment and for land and building financing facilities. The Department also assisted clients through the Alberta Bureau of Statistics with information on present and potential markets and the availability of materials.

Services of the Department of Industry and Development extend beyond financial and statistical assistance to established firms. The consulting services of the Industrial Development Board encourage the formation of industrial associations to analyse common and supply problems in Lethbridge-Alberta to promote the immigration of new industry.

By providing financial, statistical and consulting assistance the Department of Industry and Development plays an important role in the economic progress of Alberta.

EVERY CHILD LOOKS TO YOU FOR SAFETY

(Concluded)

Did you know that in Alberta 22 children died in drowning accidents?

Of the dead 11 were drowned in unguarded water hazards near farm homes; 5 were drowned while swimming or bathing; 6 fell into rivers or lakes; 5 were drowned through ice while skating.

All ponds, cisterns and wells near your home should be covered over or filled-in. Urge your community to provide lifeguards at bathing and swimming areas. Guard river areas during the spring flood period. Keep children away from dugouts and irrigation ditches.

Stop smoking! Save lives and shot wounds. Of the dead 7 were killed by guns fired by another person. Two were killed while playing with guns. Handle firearms with respect and away from youngsters. Store all firearms in a safe place, empty of ammunition and away from the inquiring hands of children.

Statisticians show that 132 Alberta children under 14 years of age were killed by accidents of various types last year. Some 58 per cent of these victims were only four years of age or young er.

One hundred children, or 76% would be alive today had responsible adults exercised reasonable care and foresight. This is borne out by circumstances of the accidents as shown in the coroners reports

Accidents are the cause up 39 per cent of child mortality between the ages of 5 and 14 years

Don't let your neighbor's carelessness be the cause of any tot's death. Exercise some and keep the children alive

More children in the 5 to 14 age group die by accidents than by all principal diseases combined. Accidents 51%; Cancer 10 per cent; Rheumatic Fever 8 per cent; Congenital Malformation 5 per cent; Respiratory Disease 5 per cent Nervous Diseases Disease 5 per cent Nephritis, 4 per cent All others 12 per cent.

Makes Statement re: Automotive Program

The Hon C M Drury, Minister of Industry, made the following statement regarding the prices of 1966 model cars in Canada:

"On Sept 30th I stated that we should see a progressive narrowing of the differential in prices of automobiles between Canada and the United States. Towards the implementation of the Auto Pact Program.

I was, therefore, most pleased to note that the prices of 1966 model cars provide not only for a substantial narrowing of the differential but also for appreciable decreases from the prices of similarly equipped 1965 cars manufactured in Canada. General Motors has now announced suggested retail price reductions averaging $73 per car. Ford announced reductions averaging $92 per vehicle. At the same time Chrysler has announced price reductions ranging from $38 to $136 per car. The companies have also announced price reductions for imported cars.

With regard to the differential in prices between Canada and the United States, I announced in my statement of Sept 30th that the most meaningful comparisons between prices is at the factory, excluding taxes and adjusted for differences in exchange. It is of course at this level that the Automotive Products Trade Agreement manufacturers sold, and their resulting prices reflected, not at the time that certain boats the average differential between Canadian and U.S. prices for the popular models of 1965 cars was somewhat less than $150 or 9%. The manufacturers' wholesale prices at the factory for 1966 cars show a significant narrowing of this differential ranging from one-third to one-half for the three companies concerned. The remaining differential now ranges from 10% to 12% compared with today's 9% for their 1965 models. These figures illustrate that the benefit of the Automotive Program — achieved at relatively lower costs are being passed on to Canadian consumers. I am confident that, as the objectives of the Automotive Products Agreement are progressively achieved, this remaining differential of 3 to 5% will be eliminated."

GULLY CONTROL

Last week Ralph Wilson and I called at the Gerald McLean farm south of Paradise Valley. Gerald and his wife and infant daughter have just recently taken over the farm from George Clay. Gerald seems to have a real feeling for farming and is interested in soil conservation. We discussed erosion problems over a cup of coffee and later he took us out to see a gully which will need attention next spring. We hope we were able to help him with our explanation of how to fill and grade the gully and also give him a few leads regarding assistance through provincial and county soil conservation policies.

The very heavy rains have left their mark in the form of gullies all through the county and these gullies will have to be attended to next spring because once erosion has a start it continues to get worse unless checked immediately.

Gullies should be filled and graded to have a saucer shaped bottom and then be sown to grass. This work should be done as soon as possible after the spring run-off. If a great deal of earth needs to be moved, county equipment can be hired at a reasonable cost. The grass or grass/legume mixture should be sown wide enough so that the water never spreads onto the cultivated land alongside. There are several possible forms of assistance for purchasing forage seed for gully control.

If a heavy sudden run-off is anticipated next spring temporary dams can be made in the gullies by dropping a load of manure every so often along them. This manure can be spread and worked in next spring when the gully is being prepared for seeding.

Either Merley Douglas or Wilf Cody, D.As at Vermilion, or Ralph Wilson, County of Vermilion River Agricultural Fieldman, will be glad to assist with any gully control problem.

BRAND RENEWAL

Each year about this time renewal notices are forwarded to roughly one quarter of the brand owners in this province in order to maintain the brand in a necessary to return the renewal application promptly. Brand owners usually look after this in fine fashion, but a considerable number of the renewal notices are being returned by the Post Office marked "address unknown". Brands come up for renewal every four years. People who change addresses and do not notify the Brand Recorder run the risk of not receiving a renewal notice and thereby having their brand cancelled.

Brand owners should, therefore, return renewal applications promptly and also notify the Brand Recorder if they have had a change of address within the past four years.

RUMEN OVERLOAD

At this time of year when many cattle are going into the feedlots a condition known as Rumen Overload becomes quite frequent.

Excessive amounts of whole grain or hay, sudden changes of feed mouldy or frozen feed, lack of water and insufficient exercise are all contributory factors. Cattle being brought into feedlots and put on full feed too quickly are often casualties.

Mild cases of rumen overload are the result of accident, carelessness or ignorance on the part of the operator. Awareness of what is involved and a reasonably good standard of management will go a long way toward preventing the condition.

Prevention is essential at the earliest indication of the condition. The use of rumen stimulants and laxatives are recommended when the condition is detected early. Veterinary assistance should be obtained immediately.

A new bulletin "Feedlot Finishing of Cattle and Lambs in Western Canada" is available at the DA office. It contains all the most up-to-date information available on feedlot management.

Claysmore Clippings

(Held over from last week)

Mrs. Allan Cleland spent a week at New Norway visiting her mother Mrs. Mike Karlstrom and sister and family, the Dan Meyers. She returned home via the Mailiner on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Beard spend the week-end of Oct. 31st visiting at the homes of the former's son and daughter in Edmonton. They also spent a few days at Cutbank.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leversedge are attending the Toronto Royal and visiting relatives in the East. They expect to be away for two weeks.

Spending a month in California are Ian Willes and Barry MacDonald Mainville. The boys are also visiting relatives at Calgary and Edmonton.

The Misses Barbara and Pat McKenzie returned last Tuesday from an overseas tour. The girls had been away since July.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cleland and family and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Nelson and Richard were Sunday supper guests at the George Gay store home in Vermilion.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Mrs. George Farlinski and family on the passing of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Van Nest and Neal spent a couple of days in Edmonton last week.

We use a disker for seeding which performs the planting operation and also kills weeds. If the field has a known wild oat problem seeding is delayed until they have begun to grow. Olli barley is then sown, simultaneously killing the wild oats. Because Olli barley matures quite quickly the crop can be harvested in the autumn before the wild oats have matured.

My father also puts fertilizer with the seed, using forty pounds of ammonium phosphate per acre on both summerfallow and stubble crops.

Our crop is left to develop and mature until it has progressed to the three-leaf stage when it is sprayed. At this stage, it is relatively resistant to damage, but if the plant is left until the shot blade stage, empty heads may result. We use a variety of chemicals, depending on the weeds to be killed. 2,4-D, for stinkweed and pigweed, is applied at a rate of four to eight ounces per acre. This may vary according to the weed density and resistance. Where hemp nettle is prevalent MCPA is used. Although we use only require about ten ounces per acre, this also varies.

On our farm harvest time is considered as an important season of the year to retard weed development. To avoid carrying weed seeds from one field to another, our truck and combine are swept meticulously with a firm whisk broom after each field has been harvested.

Stubble is worked in the autumn with a heavy-duty cultivator to control perennial weeds such as toadflax, Canada thistle, sow thistle and couch grass. If the weed is persistent, my father kills isolated patches by applying Polybor-chlorate a soil sterilant.

As a result of my father's participation in Alberta Soil Board experiments we now spread a high nitrogen fertilizer on stubble fields which are to be sown to crop the following year. This is put on following after harvest field work in the autumn using a broadcaster. My father tries to get about thirty five pounds of available nitrogen per acre. To achieve this he either applies one hundred pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre or one hundred and fifty pounds of ammonium phosphate per acre. He has found nitrogen fertilizer to be very effective in eliminating yellow substandard plants which were previously attributed to a lack of moisture. By using fertilizer in an extensive capacity, we promote rapid growth of the plant and vigorous competition against weeds.

Then, the year's cycle is completed. The following spring the stubble land is treated in the same way as summerfallow.

Outside of actual field work, my father has planted shelter belts which indirectly curb weed growth. They supply substitutive habitats for birds which eat an enormous quantity of weeds.

The simple schedule which we follow on our farm is brief and sketchy and we are constantly striving to detect and improve the many imperfections in it. The fight to control weeds is a long hard struggle. In fact a perpetual one against a very elusive enemy but we realize that to be successful, productive farmers we must actively wage the war against weeds.

Annual traffic through Canada's ports of entry totals about 40 million persons, over half of whom are returning Canadians.

Beverly Dobson Wins Weed Essay Contest

Beverly Dobson, 16, of Paradise Valley has won first prize for her entry in the Weed Essay Contest sponsored by the County of Vermilion River Agricultural Service Board Miss Dobson's essay entitled "How We Control Weeds On Our Farm" will be entered in the North Central Weed Control Conference competition which will include entries from the 11 North Central States and 3 prairie provinces.

Miss Dobson's essay appears below

Due to increased world population and thus a greater food deficiency, agricultural production has developed into an industry of unequalled dimensions. It is a vital, exacting, art which requires extensive knowledge and skill. Winning the war against weeds is a foremost factor in successful farming On our farm, weeds are considered as one of the most dangerous natural enemies in existence and operations are largely geared to their control and ultimate elimination.

Throughout his years of farming experience, my father has developed a simple, but carefully planned schedule which serves as a guide to the year's activities — being subject to alterations depending on weather conditions

The first step on the agenda and a very essential one is to have clean land on which to sow the crop. My father achieves this principally through various methods of cultivation. Summer fallowing is a common practice which can be very effective if properly utilized Our fallow land is cultivated immediately after seeding has been completed early in June, using a cultivator to loosen the ground and stem any weed growth which has become established through the early weeks of spring The field is then harrowed to promote new weed growth and to plan the surface A level field allows the machinery to travel more smoothly and it is able to perform more effectively a short while later when growth has become evident, a rod weeder kills the weeds and packs the ground The number of these operations depends on such variable conditions as the amount of rainfall and prevailing temperatures which effect the weed advancement Normally, the sum of the various procedures is twelve to fifteen times in one year By using this process of three individual steps in the late autumn plants are uprooted and their chances for survival over the winter months are greatly reduced This also establishes a firm seed bed.

Throughout the ensuing winter, preparations are being made for the coming year's crop. Our seed is cleaned professionally at the local seed-cleaning plant, a co-operative institution established with financial aid from the provincial and municipal governments At the seed cleaning plant the grain is also treated for seed borne diseases such as loose smut and for the control of wireworms, if necessary By obtaining registered barley seed which is grown annually on our farm and by using only that seed which has been thoroughly cleaned and treated, my father removes to at he is not planting any weed seeds.

When spring has arrived and weather conditions have become relatively stabilized the land is harrowed for shallow cultivation, thus killing weed growth In addition harrowing levels them and plans the seed bed for planting.

The investiture took place in the Legislative Chamber of the Alberta Parliament Building. Dene Cooper is shown shaking hands with His Honor, while Frank Senz awaits his turn.

To clear up any misunderstanding. The sewer and water extension as proposed by by-law No. 53-65 will serve an area that lies totally within the Town of Vermilion.

The area to be served is north of the hospital and will provide ideal sites for approximately 100 residences.

When completed the 100 homes will bring an annual revenue of approximately $30,000 in property taxes to the Town of Vermilion.

The Town of Vermilion will also receive a further annual revenue of $9000 in water and sewer sales.

Support of this by-law on the 26th of November will ensure future progress of the town.

1961 farmers who have not watched hardly believe it. But this is the way Vermilion First has looked. Redesigned and hard topped, it now presents a relaxed streamlined and flattened appearance as compared with the old road. It is now a three lane highway, 2 lanes up and 1 down. The picture was taken from the river bridge. The Canadian Utilities power plant is shown to the right

Both Money By-Laws Soundly Defeated

Centennial Caravan To Visit Vermilion

An eight - trailer Centennial Caravan which will visit Canada during 1967 will be in Vermilion on Sept. 7 and 8.

Both the Federal Centennial Commission and the Alberta Centennial Committee have expressed the hope that everyone in this province will be involved to as great an extent as they were in the Centennial Caravan which visited us in 1958. Let us have an equally successful and enjoyable time this year.

The Caravan will be equipped with stage areas and facilities for the presentation of local programs featuring folk singers, square dancers, orchestral presentations, drama, or concert presentations, during its visit to Vermilion.

Inquiries from groups or individuals who will be introduced to act the part of the Centennial Caravan are welcomed. It is hoped that the visitors will enjoy an experience unlike any they have had before and emerge with a new awareness of their Canadian identity.

Intense Search For Potash In The Vermilion Area

The Department of Mines and Minerals has issued prospecting permits recently for two minerals previously unexplored in the province. The minerals, potash and rock phosphate, have valuable commercial application in the manufacture of fertilizer, an industry whose domestic sales in Canada have doubled and exports since 1950.

The area of exploration for both minerals falls roughly within a square formed by Lloydminster-Vermilion - Wainwright and east to the Saskatchewan border.

Two permits for oil and gas exploratory wells recorded the presence of potash in this area several years ago. The extent of possible deposits has not been determined but every encouragement is given by the booming potash industry east of the area in Saskatchewan.

The location of rock phosphate supplies for fertilizer manufacturers in the province lie the deposit in Florida.

The Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Co. have taken a permit covering an area in the Vermilion district of more than a million acres for exploring the possibilities of coal deposits.

December 1 - 7 — Safe Driving Week

During this week, a busy one for most people, there will be the temptation to make your own rules about speed limits. It's a busy time and whether you are making, wrapping or delivering Christmas baskets, you'll be in a hurry. Watch out for the other fellow who is in a hurry too, who will cut corners and step on the gas. Drive so that you can leave the fellow who gets out of line plenty of room to get back in ahead of you. It's exasperating but it's safer to give way to him. Don't let it get you down — just feel superior and let him get away with it. It's safer for you.

A Child Dreams Of Christmas

Striped candy canes, mysterious packages hidden away, reindeer landing on a snowy roof, a red felt stocking hung on the mantelpiece, a tree twinkling with magic colors, all midnight sky dancing with stars.

Every child dreams at Christmas time, and as we grow old we cherish the dreams of our childhood as much at the reality of this sacred season. But there are some children who dare not dream of Christmas. They have been hurt and disappointed so much in their short lives, that they are afraid to hope. These are the children of poverty-stricken families, of broken homes, and institutions. Ill, frightened, unhappy children. Must they go without Christmas this year, while others have so much?

Not if the Salvation Army can help it. In countless ways this 100-year-old organization brings the joys of Christmas to children too often forgotten. Small things, a stocking filled with candy canes, a new doll, a warm smile, can make the day glow with happiness for a child. Salvationists not only provide these things, but also work to reunite families, obtain jobs for fathers, and help parents to cope with many emotional problems. A gift to the Salvation Army's Annual Christmas Program can give a child the courage to dream again.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to North Star, Alberta Dairy Pool plants at Marwayne and Vermilion on winning second prize ribbons at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair. These awards were won for their entries in the Creamery Salted Unsalted Make Butter competition. Mr H. L. Berkett, Dairy Specialist, says winning these awards is a tribute to the personnel responsible for manufacturing butter and also to the producers of the high quality cream used in its manufacture.

RESULTS IN STORED GRAIN

Under certain conditions insects in stored grain can survive extreme cold and continue causing damage. Such insects as the rusty grain beetle may overwinter in

A large quantity of damp grain which retains the heat generated by the insects.

Grain stored in barns that are also used to house livestock.

Spilled grain outside a storage building under a blanket of snow.

Grain crusted with mold or containing a large amount of dust or weed seeds which serve as insulation.

Research at Winnipeg shows that adult rusty grain beetles live for 8 months or more at 80 degrees but can live only 30 days at 20 degrees. The cheapest and, therefore, is to freeze them. Any storage which allows the temperature of the grain to go below freezing and stay cooled for a month will insure against survival. In any event grain should be inspected at least once a month and if it appears to be warm should be turned to let it cool. Warm grain in winter is a sign of trouble.

SOIL CONDITIONERS

Dr. L. E. Lutwick, Soil Scientist at the Lethbridge Research Station, suggests that new liquid form soil conditioners be used only on a trial basis until more is known about them. These soil conditioners are surfactants which means that they reduce the surface tension of water, enabling it to wet substances more thoroughly than usual. Some of the manufacturers claims for these conditioners appear to be extraordinary, for example it is stated that the moisture-holding capacity of treated soil is increased three to fourfold and that the water goes down deeper into the soil and is held there. It is difficult to understand how one product can have these apparently opposite effects at the same time.

A number of years ago soil conditioners were on the market which had a different action. These earlier soil conditioners were polyelectrolytes, or as it is formed a thin net around each soil particle, thus stabilizing the soil structure. Polyelectrolytes, therefore, can maintain soil in good condition, but cannot really improve the condition. Polyelectrolytes are expensive and therefore are not widely used now. In either case soil conditioners are poor substitutes for good soil management practices.

32 Years Ago Today

NOV. 3rd, 1933

Three little children ranging from the age of 8 to 7 years formed a chain of life on the ice of the Vermilion River Sunday it resulted in the rescue of one of the trio, Johnnie Bell, who had broken through the ice and was floundering in the cold waters. His little sister Verna caught him by the arm and then little Donald Gretz, who was nearer the shore, caught her hand. The two got the young lad out and then took him home Verna's presence of mind in seizing her brother's arm is credited with saving his life.

Tom Millward, a brother of Sidney Millward and proprietor of the Sun Drug Co., Edmonton, spent the week-end at the farm home of the Woodruff Bros., east of town.

BUILT-IN VACUUMING

The very latest in housekeeping pleasures! No tank to trail. No bag to drag. No noise. No lifting. No cords. No dusty exhaust. And you'll never have to buy another vacuum cleaner.

Plugging the hose into the wall inlet, automatically turns the central power unit "on". Dust goes through inaspuous vinyl tubing to the vacuuming unit which may be located in the basement, utility room, garage or attic. An average house needs 4 to 5 inlets. The feather in the home, the feet in length usually lets you clean up in 3 or 4 rooms from one inlet.

The vacuuming inlet can be placed in the kitchen floors, walls or closets. The compact central unit is an efficient, ball-bearing conventional type cleaner giving greater cleaning power.

The large dust container normally needs emptying only 3 or 4 times a year.

When planning inlets in a house, keep in mind where furniture is to be or will be placed, how doors open and close and where the inlet will be most convenient to the user.

For existing homes, place a hook or block of wood where the inlet has been chosen. Then, cut a 24-foot length of string and place one end under the hook or block. Measure to the farthest corner of the room allowing slack to clear furniture. The farthest corner is usually measured at where the wall and ceiling meet. For the final plan of a new home, do the same with the string length in scale with the plan. Again consider where there would be furniture.

Approximate costs including components and installation will vary from $215 to $330. Compare this with the cost of an ordinary vacuum, its inconvenience, and weigh your own decision.

If you take the advice that many sufferers have found helpful—use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Many users say they feel a new vitality after using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Many of these users have described symptoms that made them feel tired, nervous, and generally miserable. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a diuretic stimulant to the kidneys. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills and see how many people are using them successfully for over 50 years.

This man is fighting fire.

Although rarely seen in helmet, coat and rubber boots, he is a member of the Alberta Fire Commissioner's staff. His name is a fire fighter unique in importance. His job is helping to reduce fire losses.

It is the function of the Fire Commissioner's office to prevent fires and to investigate them. He is a member of many—through right enforcement of all fire laws and regulations, including investigation into the causes of fires and, where warranted, prosecution of arsonists. To assist in the reduction of fire losses, the Fire Commissioner and his staff conduct an extensive Fire Training program, including Fire Officers' training courses at the Alberta Fire Training School, which is open to all Alberta fire departments. This office also maintains a continuous Fire Prevention program for schools, institutions and industries, and operates the Fire Prevention Week, a highly effective annual campaign designed to make the public more aware of the ever present threat of fire.

Alberta's fire losses in lives and property, while still too high, would be much higher without the trained firemen at the scene and the behind-the-scenes work of the Alberta Fire Commissioner's Office.

Funeral Services Held For Clifford J. McCormick

Pioneer Riverton Couple Retire To Vermilion

RIVERTON. — Farewell parties have been the order of the day lately, two within a week, which is not a good thing for the community. The first one was held in Riverton Hall on Nov. 12, the guests of honor being Mr. and Mrs. Sid East. ## School Trustees Meet in Convention

Over fifty resolutions encompassing many aspects of education in Alberta were submitted for consideration by the province's school boards and committees at the annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees' Association in Edmonton, held Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

The resolutions pointed up the role of trustees of a loss of local autonomy as the provincial government assumes an increasing share of educational costs. They showed that members were worried about the imbalance in the source of educational funds and alarmed that the load upon property taxation is at saturation point.

Other resolutions sought some changes to create more effective teacher education, tenure and utilization. There is a strong emphasis upon the use of non-certificated personnel in schools to supplement the work of professional teachers. The vexing problems of adequate evaluation and remuneration of teaching performance were the subject of numerous resolutions.

Many other important educational matters were discussed and accepted or modified at this convention.

Red Cross Issues Dental Pamphlet

A new dental pamphlet currently being distributed through the Alberta Junior Red Cross is becoming increasingly evident in reception rooms of dental clinics, dentists' offices and health units throughout the province.

The booklet entitled The Mouth of Health, contains 31 pages of illustrations and captions dealing with all aspects of dental hygiene.

Although produced primarily to educate children in good dental health habits, many dentists have found it a satisfactory method since it is all inclusive of the family.

The booklet was produced by the Canadian Red Cross and has the complete approval of the Canadian Dental Association.

Mrs. Sherman A. Collins, Red Cross Mrs. A. J. Mumford and dentists have responded to the new publication by ordering more than 1600 copies over the past year.

She said plans are underway to have the booklet distributed in the schools.

A CHILD NEEDS YOU, WILL YOU BE A FOSTER PARENT?

This is what we have children to many sizes and ages. They may be infants, large family groups, teen-agers. Protestant or Roman Catholic, bright, dull, or average, children of mixed racial backgrounds, children physically and mentally handicapped, or healthy, active youngsters. All of them children who could grow into good citizens when given the love, understanding and security they need, all of them potential problems to society without your help.

Our most urgent need is for foster parents who can face the challenge of loving a child who has not yet learned how to love it. Foster parents who can remember their own troubled adolescence and can understand the problems of an adolescent boy or girl. A foster parents who have room in their hearts and homes for more than one more, so that a family group may stay together. Foster parents who can find joy in helping a retarded or disabled child develop new capabilities and skills. Foster parents who will provide temporary homes for babies awaiting adoption. Foster parents who can accept a child who is not of their own race. Basically, our need is for foster parents who are mature and understanding persons.

An allowance to cover the child's board and clothing is provided by the Department of Public Welfare. Hospital, medical and dental care, when necessary, as well as school supplies are provided. The services of a skilled social worker to assist with any problems that may arise is also provided.

If you are interested in providing a child with a home, your first step will be to get in touch with your local regional office. You will be asked to complete an application form and a social worker will call on you to discuss your plans, your feelings about children and answer any questions you have to offer. You will be asked questions that you may consider have nothing to do with your desire to care for a child, but that is necessary to give the social worker a complete picture of you and your background and what you have to offer a child. When your home has been approved, a child will be placed with you when we have a child who needs your particular home and one who the social worker feels will become a happy addition to your family. There may be a waiting period, if you are asking for a placement of the type of child for whom we have many applicants.

It will take time for a child to settle down and become a member of your family, so you will need patience, perseverance and a good sense of humor, but we believe you will have many rewarding moments when you see a child thriving because of the care that you have been able to give.

An anonymous foster mother has written of her contribution: "You stand at the door, arms and heart open for the little one you are to receive. You take him in, love him and care for him as your own, so he can have an even start in life. Your time with him is so short, but rewarding. Then comes the day he is to leave. You look back on the days with him and thank God you were able to have a small part in his life. With this in mind you give him up readily, knowing your mission has been accomplished. Tomorrow is another day and another love."

Will you be a foster parent? The challenge is great! If you are ready to accept this challenge, and are interested in becoming a foster parent, ask your regional office for a copy of our booklet, "A Guide to Foster Parents".

OUR OLD TRAILS

By ALLEN BONAGHAN
Edmonton

Do you know where an old trail crosses your north pasture to angle into your neighbor's and go down into a coulee? Have you thought that you should break up that trail, or cultivate the wheel field on that land? Think again before you send in the bulldozers and breaking plows and obliterate all trace of the old trail, my friend. The day may come when the genera tion now growing up will thank you for leaving the old ruts un touched.

Our country does not have Ro man walls or roads to delight the imagination of our boys and girls, but we do have prairie trails that new in turn the Red River cart, the Mounted Police wagon, the freight-laden York boat and the settlers' Red wa gon.

Here in eastern Alberta and western Saskatchewan are ranges of hills and deep coulees that have remained and should al ways remain unbroken. The Four Buckfoot Hills, the Neutral Hills, Gentry Bear Coulee and the Battle River Valley are only a few examples. And here and there in them you can still find the old trails.

Very often the best people do miss the old trail as the "Battle ford Trail" and many parts of them did lead to Battleford, the early provincial capital. But each one of them has its own story.

The trail to Victoria Mission has probably disappeared as com pletely as any, since it passed through more arable areas. I have told that a few bits of it can still be found in the Chinchenald district.

The Sounding Lake Trail has a close connection with the treaties signed with the Cree, Big Bear, of Northwest Rebel lion fame, met the authorities at Sounding Lake on several occa sions before he signed the treaty.

The Mounties built and main tained a barracks there to use as a base when intercepting rustlers operating in the Neutral Hills.

The telegraph trail through townships 47 and 48 was also known by the freighters as the "empty trail". It crossed too many coulees to be used when your wagon was loaded, but it offered a more direct route when you returned empty. The north fork missed the empty coulees and was used on the "loaded" trip.

Despite all the changes, all is the trail made when the heavy timbers were freighted from Vermilion to the Grand Trunk Pacific bridge at Palyna. It can be found easily south of Vermilion, as well as at Grizzly Bear Coulee and Battle Coulee. One patient man has preserved a section of this deep old trail even though it annoys his hay ing crew every time they hay there.

Cut Vocational Courses From Public Schools

On November 23 Dr. M. R. Lupul Professor of Educational Philos phy at the University of Alberta presented a public lec ture at the Vermilion Agricul tural and Vocational College to a group of interested people.

Although the title of his talk was Commercialism and Mate rialism in Education Dr. Lupul emphasized that he had no quarrel with specialized voca tional institutions such as the Provincial Agricultural and V ocational Colleges and the Insti tutes of Technology. He would like however to fill the poten tial void of specialized vocational training in the high school examination. This academic program should not be geared solely for university ad mittance.

Some other changes Dr Lupu would like to see in our public schools are the elimination of streaming, automatic promo tion from one grade to another, grouping of slow learners in one class, larger classes and the discontinuation of the uniform provincial exami nations that restricts teachers and makes textbook teaching a ne cessary evil.

Dr Lupul stressed the advan tages of a free atmosphere in the classroom that encourages ques tions and discussion, creative and more imaginative teaching with the use of visual aids and

Pilot Progeny Testing Project At V. A. V. C.

The first crop of the Alberta Dairy Herd Improvement Associ ation progeny testing project result ed in 1,000 bulls, but four have completed at the Vermilion Agri cultural and Vocational College. Dr. R. Lee Livestock Superin tendent reports that the bulls were born in the late 1950's and early 1960's. They completed their testing period and have been sold to commercial A.I. organizations. Thus concluded the first phase of the project.

Progeny testing is a method of evaluating the genetic worth of a bull by measuring the performance of his daughters. Each bull is mated to a number of cows and the resulting calves are raised in herds where feeding and management are uniform. Records of milk production are kept on the daughters of each bull and compared with records of their dams. Prices are as fol lows: Students $4, Non-students $5.

Wishing Well and Tree Rotary Yule Features

For several years past the Vermilion Rotary Club has sponsored a Christmas tree in the lobby of the Canadian-Imperial Bank of Commerce. Everyone was invited to deposit gifts under the tree and these were distributed to children who possibly would not receive many gifts at Christmas time. The Salvation Army has each year arranged for the delivery of these parcels to the children throughout Ver milion and district.

This program will be continued this year. It is asked that donors bring a gift and have apparent male sex.

The Rotarians added a wishing well last Christmas-time and this proved to be very popular. It is to be continued. The "wishing well" is set up along side the Christmas tree and some change may be tossed into the water and a wish made. The funds so donated will be used to purchase Christmas hampers for elderly citizens of the town and district.

The Vermilion Rotary Club calls for the kind support of everyone, young and old, in both these projects which result in bringing happiness to both young and old.

WHO IS GOD?

Gordon Sinclair, T.V. panelist answers comments about God by asking: "Which God do you mean? The Hindu God? The Buddhist God?" That elderly critic of organized religion is about twenty-five years behind the times. So are many people who seldom attend church.

There is only one God, and Jesus Christ is His son Mohammed, Buddha, Confucious, and all the others who have given mankind a new understanding of religion worship the same God.

God is a symbol of what man is striving for in the spiritual world. When we use the word "God" we are speaking of the highest virtue and the most desirable good.

Everyone then, does not see the same God, so the answer depends on who you are. Your God is whatever might be the most desirable good in your life.

Because many Christians, this weekend, they remember Jesus tonight as to call God Father. That figure of speech is still used to express a personal relationship to Heavenly God in these words: "Our Father..."

God the universal good in our lives makes himself known to man by the manifestations of this real only to the needs as supply for the moment. To know God is to seek truth. To love God is to love your neighbour even if he happens to be twenty-five years behind the times.

How Poor Is Poor?

In view of all the current talk about the need for a war on poverty a pertinent question might be how poor is poor?

The Bureau of Statistics has just reported that the personal income of Canadians in creased by 6.8 per cent in 1964 to a total of $35,070,000,000 which amounted to $1,820 for every man, woman and child in the country. Ten years ago, when war brought an end to depression, personal income amounted to only $1,205 per capita.

Of course, in that ten years the buying power of the dollar went down considerably and the tax load went up considerably both of which factors have an influence on our relative prosperity.

FARM MANAGEMENT

The first thing that comes to mind when farm management is mentioned is record keeping. But in fact a good deal is involved. Records, of course are the basis for all other farm management considerations.

The financial success of a farm depends on three main factors which are 1) the total physical production, 2) the price obtained for this product and 3) the cost of producing the product. In our farm of economy the first factor has very little control but we can do something about the second and third. In some cases we can also control the cost of production but in most cases we can only control the amount of inputs. The check points to determine what to do are many but the most important are: Costing, the 11-46d treat need cost $5 per acre as com pared to $10 for the liquid product.

Ease of handling and other factors may enter the picture but in general liquid fertilizers are at a severe disadvantage in the cost factor. In most cases, with health special of high priced crops liquid fertilizers may have a place

FOOD OUTLOOK

Pork — In response to strong prices, more pigs are being held back for breeding stock, with consequent pork and current marketings and increased firm prices for the near future in prospect. Beef — Beef will continue firm in the face of strong demand.

Chicken Broilers — Plentiful supplies are available for season at reveals and prices may declin.

Turkeys — Firm prices are expected during the seasonal peak of demand.

Eggs — Prices are easing with rising production, although above last year's unusually low prices.

Vermilion, Alberta,
Dec. 6, 1965

Mr. Editor:

If over, in my opinion, any get-up of ratepayers should be ashamed, I believe Vermilion organization as a whole should hang their heads.

Firstly, less than 40% saw fit to use their franchise and vote on two very important money by-laws.

Secondly, of the 40% who did vote, only half bothered to think beforehand.

Did you realize that Vermilion is one of the best rural trading areas in Canada? We, on the farm, are proud of our town. We are proud of our friendly, intelligent, urban population. The streets, sidewalks, parks, business establishments, parks etc are all of the very best. Your population is friendly and intelligent and have seen fit to elect a mayor and council who are attempting to do their best for you.

Our rural population within the next decade will double per-haps triple their present output. This is not a guess it will have to be so if the hungry world gets fed.

Things were never so good. Why then, do we vote in a new by-law to go backward? Anyone with the opinion that our standard of living can keep rising and our taxes can go down, is just not interested in the future of our town.

Yes Vermilion, I believe whether some people do like it or not you have to expand and I believe you have to progress.

Thank you Mr. Editor for allowing me (a farmer) to give my views on one of your controversial subjects.

Don Wilson.

'TWAS

Two weeks before Christmas
When I looked at my car,
The model was old, and
Had been driven too far

The inside was all ripped,
The seat it was torn,
The brakes didn't work
And also the horn

The windshield was busted,
The old clutch was broke,
The gas line was frayed
And so was the choke

I cried and I moaned
And started to fuss
Something had to be done
About my old bus

So I went to Ken-s Service
And am now all aglow,
It's like their ad said
I got mom for my sleigh!

Now I laugh at the bumps
And get makeup galore
My new car don't dawdle,
And here's something more

Ken's Service sold me my car
On a long easy plan,
My payments are low
I'm a happy man

Now my worries are over
And I'm happy to say,
Merry Christmas to you
A New Stude. Hurray!

Kinsmen Christmas T.B. Seal Sales Climbing

Medical officers of health in the province are unanimous in their endorsation of the work of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association and the Christmas Seal Campaign. Last year, 765 new cases of tuberculosis were discovered in Alberta, as well as 3,536 other chest abnormalities such as lung cancer, tumors, pleurisy, emphysema, heart conditions, etc., ample evidence of the need to carry on the work of the Association.

Mr. R. J. Rowe, chairman of the Kinsmen Club of Vermilion TB Xmas Seal campaign committee, reports $300 received from 128 contributions. Follow-up letters are in the mail and it is hoped that these will serve as a reminder to our friends to respond in their contributions. Provincial returns are $114,300.

A.G.T. Provides For Color T.V.

The eight member companies, including Alberta Government Telephones, which make up the Trans Canada Telephone System, are presently making the necessary technical changes on their microwave network to provide color television.

The project is expected to be completed in ample time to accommodate the two television broadcasting networks in Canada. CBC and CTV have previously announced they will be telecasting in color across the country by early 1967.

BUFFALO COULEE COUPLE HONORED AT SHOWER

On Saturday evening, Dec. 4 a shower was held in the Buffalo Coulee School auditorium in honor of Miss Vera Glauser and Grant Haverslew, whose wedding will take place Dec 10th at 7 p.m. in the Robertson United Church chapel, Edmonton.

After an enjoyable evening spent dancing, the young couple, with families and friends were invited and served a delicious lunch. Mr. Art Chesterman, on behalf of all present, extended congratulations and best wishes to Vera and Grant for their future happiness.

Misses Isabel Boier and Diane Rognan then pulled in a wagon beautifully decorated as the A GT building, loaded with gifts. Vera is a member of the A G T staff. After the many lovely gifts were opened and displayed Grant thanked all for the gifts and good wishes, followed by a few words from Vera, which brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

With Christmas not very far away, thoughts will be turning quite naturally to Christmas cakes and puddings. Particular parts dreaded. If you are making yours, you will find quite an array of failures to contend with. Some of the possibilities are: sunken cakes, special egg separation, etc. Here is a list of hints and suggestions that may help to make your Christmas baking a success.

1 Use ordinary thread and needle with length 12 stitches per inch for breadth.

2 Cut a pattern with simple lines. The thicker the pattern the more difficult it is to cut.

3 Press with a dry iron.

4 Press on the wrong side.

5 Press with the seam with the point of the iron.

6 Press the seam with the point of the iron.

Old Timers Honored at Greenlawn Banquet

The writer and his wife were fortunate to receive an invitation to attend the Greenlawn Old Timers banquet. This was held in the Greenlawn hall on Sun day, Dec. 5th. There all were treated to roast turkey cooked to perfection, cranberry sauce and the beautiful potatoes, salads, beets, ling an outstanding example of pickles, ripe tomatoes, delicious coffee all topped off with straw berry sundae cookies and cakes for dessert.

The two banquet tables, taste fully decorated, had a seating capacity of 32 each, and all seats were filled for even the third sitting. This meant that between 170 and 180 enjoyed this occasion.

The good people of Greenlawn are to be congratulated for set ting an outstanding example of generosity and co-operation in carrying out this get-together year after year to honor the district's oldest residents. It was truly a treat hour that the efforts were great ly appreciated.

When the appetites of all were satisfied Mr. Cecil Grant, who is a fine master of ceremonies, called for remarks from Carl Hechert, Graham Skinner, Fred Madden from Vermilion and Ernie Stanley of Clandonald.

The proceedings closed with the showing of some very pic turesque and interesting films, taken during their trip to Mexico by Floyd and Lillian Sweet.

The hospitality did not stop in the banquet hall, the writer and his wife occupied the blind hos pitality of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Matheson to spend the night at their very nice new home on the farm.

So thanks again Greenlawn folks, from another old timer.

The Week's Highlights in . . . Provincial News

(By JOHN WARREN)

The big story in the provincial capital this week was no actual, rather than, provincial. It concerned leadership of the Social Credit Party. Its name and its future.

Robert Thompson was the key figure in the leadership story and threw at one point and the word he retained his hold on the title of Social Credit Party. Harry Strom and Bert Leboe of B.C.'s Cariboo riding, in take over. As is usual at Socred conventions, ballot record was available following leadership vote.

The competition got fairly as the convention closed was to watch Mr Olson. That Alberta agriculture portfolio is still available

DOOR OPEN TO QUEBEC

Many of the convention delegates also asked that the party make overtures to its former Quebec wing in an attempt to get them back in the fold. It would, they explained, make Social Credit's claim to national party status slightly more believable. If Thompson said the door was open, Mr. Olson said it should be forced and Mr. Leboe said the time had come. Mr Real Choquette, the Quebec Credit ister leader who headed a group of nine in the House of Commons and the Social Credit party was full of dead wood. Besides he pointed out, his "wing" is just twice the size of Mr Thompson's.

SURPRISE OPPOSITION

And the biggest surprise of all, the Social Credit League of Alberta went against Mr Manning's wishes and announced intention. They voted against a simple majority on floordefection. Sunday sport and daylight saving problems. The straight majority will probably be adopted at the next session of the legislature, according to earlier announcements by the premier

Which only goes to show that even Mr Manning doesn't control the league or Social Creditors as much as some would make out

CAR INSURANCE RATES

One item that did not gain nearly the attention it rated was the speech of birthday boy Minister Taylor calling for an inquiry into car insurance rates. He noted that every driver's insurance is climbing rapidly And he added "the lack of competition in rates today. Free enterprise in the insurance field is going 'out the window'"

Mr Taylor said the provincial government plans to meet top insurance company executives to discuss the situation and his comments about lack of competition drew hot denials from insurance companies

MEDICAL CARE INSURANCE

The subject of medical care insurance always a contentious one in Alberta, got another airing last week Health Minister Ross told the 260 convention delegates that Alberta was qualify for the proposed national scheme in that more than 95% of its population in the present voluntary medical scheme Almost 90% of Albertans are now covered by medical insurance and the planned increase in provincial assistance for private medical coverage would make that figure required 5%, he said.

Dr Ross also said that chiropractic services would be added to the list of items covered under the Alberta plan.

HOW I WORK IT EDUCATION

Harry Strom, the agriculture minister let Albertans know that their government is keeping a constant watch on northern farming areas hit by crop failures. He issued a warning to the new president of the F U A. Paul Bisbey, said farmers in the area may have to leave the land if they don't receive government aid.

Replied Mr Strom "The government has had meetings with farmers in northern Alberta during the past month – and we'll have meeting representatives again in Fairview Dec 2."

Local surveys are being made to see just how desperate the situation is, he added.

Remember when income tax was paid only by people who could afford it?

This Doggie Walks Down Ladders

All of us have seen dogs climb ladders in side shows and on the stage, but when they reached the top they were either lifted off or jumped into the arms of their trainers. Not so with this 2 year old German Shepherd 'Baron' who belongs to Peter Krushinsky. Baron walks up ladders but he also walks down them. Head first as will be seen in the above picture. Baron is smart in a multitude of ways, he can do 30 different tricks and is a highly intelligent dog. Maybe a little credit should go to Mr. Krushinsky who is a real lover of dogs and from all reports has a wonderful way when it comes to training the canines.

By-Laws To Be Enforced

In the advertising columns of the Standard this week will be found a warning that vehicles left on the streets for a period of 48 hours will be subject to a $10.00 penalty.

The reason for this is that cars stored on town streets during the winter months prove to be a giant sized headache for town workmen and a big puzzle to town officials. The problem always crops up with the first snow storm when the graders are called into action to clear the streets and numerous cars are found in the way.

So be a good citizen and store that car in the back yard if you are not using it, this will solve the problem, help out the town workers in their duties and relieve the town officials of the unpleasant duty of having your car hauled away. A little co-operation is all that is needed to solve this troublesome problem.

UNICEF

How far reaching is the conscience of Canadians concerning the world's youth? Does it extend to help given the concourse of the world's children?

That is the function of United Nations Children's Fund, UNICEF, success in Canada depends upon the response of thinking citizens.

International UNICEF now decides both planning and budgets to these ends — mother and child clinics, basic foods, school equipment, hospital supplies, tools, fertilizer and seeds for local gardens, previously impoverished.

The 'Kind Kettle' Of Christmas

For many a first real taste of Christmas excitement is inspired by the sound of ringing bells at downtown street corners and the appearance of Salvation Lads in their familiar uniforms "manning" the Christmas kettles.

As traditionally a part of the Christmas scene as mistletoe and holly, the Christmas Cheer Kettle has ensured he takes for granted. They have an exciting story.

It all began on a stormy night shortly before Christmas, 1891. On the treacherous Pacific Coast near San Francisco, a ship was driven onto the rocks by a severe wind. Shivering survivors were hauled to shelter in a nearby Salvation Army building.

Since Chilcoma, along with the rest of the continent, was in the grip of a severe depression. The Salvation Army was hard pressed to care for the unexpected people in the Army's shelter there were already many impoverished seamen and long shoremen.

The food supply was soon exhausted and the situation began to look desperate. Then one of The Salvation Army lassies looking out the last few spoon fuls of soup, had an inspiration idea. Stepping out into the cold, she inverted the soup cauldron itself to a busy street corner, set up a sign that said "Keep the Kettle Boiling" and rang a bell to attract attention. Those passing by amused by the little sign began to drop coins into the kettle and that night there was soup enough for all.

4-H POULTRY SHOW, SALE

The Vermilion Mannville Pastry Club will hold its annual dressed turkey improvement day and sale on Dec. 20th at the Elks Hall in Vermilion starting at 10 a.m. Each club member exhibits two birds at this achievement day. There will be many more dressed birds in the sale however under each club member raises 25 pounds. So here is your chance to observe the efforts of your young people in a field of agriculture which is growing in importance yearly. It is also your chance to support their efforts and pick up your Christmas dinner. At present turkeys is a better meat buy than beef and treats by quite a margin and remember, these are of show bird quality.

4-H OBJECTIVES

While on the subject of 4-H projects a little on the goals and objectives of the 4-H movement should be of interest. At this time of year the 4-Hers spend some time with their Record Book tallying values. The purpose of recording is more than just preventing cheating. One of the most important things a boy or girl learns in a beef club is how to pack the rail at weaning time which will finish off best next spring. Ear tagging is done to identify his or her choice so that he or she can evaluate this choice. If the choice is bad, the termination to change calves will certainly be there but the ear tag prevents this. But suppose a feeder buys a lot full of calves in the fall and they turn out to be poor feeders. He is stuck with them, with a lot more than an ear tag to hamper a change over. Therefore, an ear tag, which helps prevent cheating, teaches a lesson which might be worth a lot of money when the 4-H graduate strikes out on his own.

Interesting Agenda At Meeting Of Teachers

MANNVILLE — A full agenda was presented at the recent meeting for the Mannville teaching staff when the primary, elementary, junior high and senior high teachers assembled in the Home Economics room with M. G. Gault, superintendent of schools was present for part of the meeting.

Mr. K. Gardon gave a report on the use of the tape recorder. There are many areas where the tape recorder can play a useful role such as in speech therapy, remedial reading, oral reading, commercial subjects, French lessons, recording radio and TV programs so they can be presented at a more convenient time, recording school concert items, recording as a accompaniments for singing, rhythmics and bands, recording teacher's own or student lessons in the initial study, recording lessons for use during absence of a teacher or for the benefit of a student who has missed a lesson or for review purposes.

The Department of Education has a tape library which is in the process of being established. Private and elementary 8c; Junior high and senior 67c. The cost is approximately 10% less than in 1964. This year the County of Minburn authorized separate days for the elementary and the senior section. This enables parents to interview at least two teachers in the junior and senior high school. The new teachers on the staff were especially pleased to have an opportunity to meet the parents. General comments and teachers feel this personal contact is of benefit.

The subject of noon lunches for pupils was discussed. Mr. J. Mindy promised to discuss this matter with the town council. Days are filled to capacity but next year John will be attending a university night class. How ever he requested a 1 p.m. release with the council on his return from Vegreville. As a result a delighted group of students has already enjoyed a session of skating. This will mean that the supervisory duties for each teacher but it is hoped that many students will take advantage of this service arranged by the town council and County of Minburn.

FIRE DRILL PROJECTIONS

Two films on "Fire" were shown and fire drill procedure in the Mannville School was arranged.

The teachers went on record at this meeting as favoring a special look at the local theatre attendance and hoped the general public could be made aware of the advantage of supporting this place of entertainment so that it might continue to serve the community.

Mr. D. Evans and Mrs. L. Pulshuk were elected to serve on the Alberta Teachers Assocation Council.

School is to close for the holiday on Dec 23rd and will reopen on Monday, Jan 3.

The general staff meeting secretary, Mrs. W. D. Cass was kept very busy recording all the minutes in spite of the discomfort of a leg in a cast. Mrs. Rea is to be commended in her performance to keep her classes forging ahead and to attend to her extra curricular duties.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES

Christmas services will be held Sunday, Dec. 19th at 7 p.m. in the Islay United Church. Special music is being prepared and the little folk from the Sunday school have their part. Sunday Dec. 12 was White Gift Sunday when a special program was followed by the distribution of the gifts. Unfortunately several of the little ones were ill and could not attend. We missed Cathy and Gordon Roebuck and Marie and Kathy McFarlane. Kathy was in the hospital. We hope all are better now and back at school. Come and worship at Christmas.

Mr. Lloyd Brown, Mr. Karl Markland and Mr. Lyle Ansen attended the week-end P.T.A. convention in Edmonton where much business was carried out.

An enjoyable card party was held at Friday night in the hall. Those not there missed a good time.

Mrs. Marie Steinhauer is really enjoying her stay at the Lodge in Vermilion.

We learn that Zig Budzitsa is doing well after his recent operation at John Hopkins Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mc[illegible] was missed in with business [illegible] the boardroom. Mrs. A. Pierce and Mrs. H. Hamilton [illegible] the group with some special goodies for lunch.

It is hoped that parents will help the students on Dec. 23rd at 1.30 p.m. in the Music Festival when special awards will be presented to some of the pupils of the 1964-65 classes.

Marwayne News

Congratulations and all good wishes go to Mr and Mrs. Brian Bardsley on the birth of their first baby Saturday Dec. 11th at the Marwayne Hospital. Mrs. Bardsley is the former Miss Jean Hill.

Anniversary Tea. 19th and 20th are Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel Fe[illegible] their 47th Anniversary. They are approximately 10% less than in 1964. This year the County of Minburn authorized separate days for the elementary and the senior section. This enables parents to interview at least two teachers in the junior and senior high school. The new teachers on the staff were especially pleased to have an opportunity to meet the parents. General comments and teachers feel this personal contact is of benefit.

The subject of noon lunches for pupils was discussed. Mr. J. Mindy promised to discuss this matter with the town council.

DEATH OF OLD TIMER

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. W. Shaw and family in the death of Bill Shaw, an old timer of Marwayne and the Silver Willow district. Mr. Shaw passed away shortly after his arrival at Elk Point Hospital on Tuesday, Dec. 7th. Funeral services were held Saturday in the United Church with interment in the local cemetery, with Legion ceremonies. Mrs. Shaw has gone east to Toronto with her daughter Mrs. Doris Crudden.

It is with sincere regret that we report the death of the tiny Pat-ric-ia son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Isley, nee Sheila Frank [illegible] of Alberta. Sincere sympathy is extended to the family. It will be of interest to many to learn that no have a doctor [illegible] to look us Wednesday morning at 4 a.m. He is [illegible] Dream of Islay and will be found [illegible] the Health Unit office.

Bob Cats Win and Lose In Juvenile League

Vermilion Bob Cats trimmed Wainwright 9 to 3 at the Stadium on Saturday night, Dec. 11th, but on Sunday at St. Paul they succumbed 8 to 4 decision.

BOB CATS 9, WAINWRIGHT 3

The game here was very rough with 21 penalties being handed out, including five game misconducts. The visitors were the aggressors, gathering in 15 of the penalties.

Scoring for Vermilion was done by Jim Haderman with 2, Maughan, Wiltsone, Jim Cameron, Hinsperger, Rick Nelson, Jim MacLean and Corry Tidsbury with one each.

Sharpshooters for Wainwright were Oslanski, MiPa, Morgan.

BOB CATS 4, ST. PAUL 8

The Bob Cats lacked steam in their encounter at St. Paul, apparently suffering from the buffeting of the Wainwright game the night before. It was a good clean game with only four minor penalties, two to each team.

(By Candace Short, Asst. P.R.O.)

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Although the final score of the basketball game was R. H. S. Marauders 30, V.A.V.C. 12, the game on Friday, Dec. 3rd was well matched. Both teams played exciting, forceful basketball. The most spectacular play of the first half was made by Diane Kennedy of R.H.S. who tore all the way down the floor to make a basket. Ellen Waldenberger was another outstanding player for the Marauders. Lorraine Dicke and Betty Lou Porter played good games for V.A.V.C.

The Marauders never gave up however, and played a spirited game and consistently to the very last minute. The outstanding players for V. A. V. C. were Bill Plumbly and Harry Seuter. Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

I hope you can find space for the following

I noticed a letter in last week's Standard, to which as a ratepayer, I would like to reply.

I would like to know how many residents there are in town who have an income of $2400 or less and I imagine there are quite a few. Any increase in taxes means quite a lot to them, while the owner in the higher bracket of $5000 and $6000 or higher doesn't mean anything. We can help you earn this kind of money with Avon. Rural territories also available. Write Mrs G. M. Barnes, 1152 Sherwood Park, Alta., or call Ph 699-5322. 19tf

I happen to be in the lower income bracket and if I hadn't built up a reserve in the past I would find it quite hard to make ends meet.

The School Division has transferred the property in town in exchange for a number of acres in the east end for school purposes but I think the present set up is service the community quite well and when it happens there will have to be a bus service to bring the children from the west to the new schools which means more expense.

When the new schools are built in the east end, the town will have to extend the water and sewer to serve them, with the result there will be numerous lots for sale and also where the schools are located at present so I don't think there will be an shortage of lots.

When the hospital was built they had to pay the town for the water and sewer connections. It is a public institution — no city water to a few apartments

Mrs. Lorraine has gone to Calgary for the winter and her son Arthur has gone to Prince George.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stanley on Landerville on the safe arrival of a nine pound son born in the Provincial Hospital on Dec. 9th.

To the Editor and Staff to the people of our little town, to our Clandonaldites and to everyone I wish a very Merry Christmas with God's blessing much deeper.

I think the by-law for building a work shop was a necessity but ratepayers thought otherwise

I don't think the council should pass any by-law where money is concerned before allowing the ratepayers to vote on it, and not having someone getting up a petition to bring it to a vote

MISS E. MARION BLADES
Wainwright — Phone 842-3454
Vermilion — Phone 853-3053

The Christmas season is approaching quickly and with it our thoughts turn to entertaining guests.

To make the holidays more relaxing and enjoyable for you, as well as for your guests, why not serve buffet style. The secret of a successful buffet supper is careful planning of decor, menu and of course the menu. With your buffet all set before your guests arrive, you can enjoy the party yourself instead of doing maid's duty in the kitchen!

Although there are no hard rules to be followed, here are a few suggestions to make a success of your buffet. Probably the most important consideration is the comfort of your guests. Far too many people associate buffets with juggling plates, silver ware, cups and saucers, eliminate this problem by seeing that each person has access to a table! These could be TV tables or small tables from other parts of your house. Perhaps you could set up card tables with the flatware and napkins already on them. If you cannot manage a table arrangement, perhaps an investment in plain, inexpensive metal trays would suffice.

You will want to plan the "appearance" of your buffet table so that it will be distinctive. Color is important here, especially in an informal atmosphere. If your china has a pattern, choose one color from this and use it as an accent. If your china is plain, choose a color that will brighten it up.

Spice up your table with a special touch: napkins (colored and) arranged in an eye-catching way or an unusual table decoration, for example. And for an evening buffet, don't overlook the charm and warmth of candlelight. It costs pennies and adds much glamour.

Of course the food you choose is important. Remember to include contrasts: crisp and soft, hot and cold, sweet and sour, fiery and bland. Remember your guests here too. Exotic foods highly spiced may not appeal to some. Why not try a delicious recipe that sounds exciting, but one that you have never tried before should be served only to people whose tastes you know well.

With these few considerations in mind, and a little advance planning, your buffet should be a most inviting one.

FEEDING HABITS
Show Can I Guide My Child's Eating?

(Part II)

To insist upon a child eating something he obviously dislikes in a sure way to provoke an obstinate fooling. To feed rules the ground from pleas and such a child forcibly is inviting bribes to threats and force. Such trouble. Children, like adults a result quickly learns that to don't always want the same refusal brings him the undue amount of food every day. poor child sports beans and cereals, substitute prunes, greens, squash or beets, offering every now and then small portions of the beans or carrots along with them. And there are many ways of serving these carrots, sliced, cut or cubed, diced or grated, offered separately or combined, steamed or in a thin milk sauce, a spicy tomato sauce. Never the difference between a smile and pouts. Mrs. refused Heck, 2 to 3 from the plate. Mrs. Mathison School 2 to 3 p.m. in the form of raw soups or milk puddings.

Advertising pictures and toys arouse this curiosity and in their perspicacious, stimulates appetite. So if your child doesn't finish his milk or refuses some portion of the solid foods on his plate, resist blaming the role of the overzealous ardent parent who puts the ground from pleas and bribes to threats and force. Such a child forcibly is inviting trouble. # One Hundred Old-Timers Gather At Vermilion Annual Round-Up

The annual Round-up of the Vermilion Oldtimers' Association, in the form of a banquet and meeting was held on October 27th at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall, with approximately 100 members in attendance. The usual happy spirit of comradeship prevailed, greeting one another and sharing in the memories of days past Seated at the head table were: President John Webb, and Mrs. Webb; Dr. F. Miller and Mrs. Miller, of Elk Point; Mr. Allen Ronaghan, of Consort; Mayor and Mrs. S. C. Heckbert, Mrs. Annie Cameron; Mrs. Geo. Webb, Sr.; Mrs. Nora Ronaghan. Guests unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper.

At the opening ceremonies of the Wainwright Association President John Webb presented Wainwright Oldtimers have spent Mrs. Annie Cameron with a corsage as a token of appreciation in appreciation of extended to Vermilion Oldtimers for their efforts on behalf of the Old Timers Reunion to be held in Wainwright in January

Also welcomed at this time were Tinnie Everitt and Raymond Cuenoe of Consort.

Guests from the Wainwright Oldtimers Association were welcomed by President Webb and seating a welcome from the town was rendered by President Arthur and he felt highly privileged to be numbered, as an Oldtimer, was given of to one out-of-town visitor, especially Dr. and Mrs. Miller, of Elk Point, and very happy to join with the Oldtimers in marking the occasion.

DR. MILLER OF ELK POINT GUEST OF HONOR

President Webb then called on Mr Ronnie Berwick of Elk Point to introduces Dr. Miller, guest of honor. Although claimed by Elk Point and known in that locality as Mr. Elk Point, Dr. Miller is a pioneer of the Vermilion district.

In his evening remarks he expressed pleasure in meeting so many whom he knew in the very early days of Vermilion. There, in a reminiscent mood, he took his audience back into the past, recalling to their memory many who helped to open up this country, in good times and bad.

FREIGHTED DOWN RIVER

Coming in on the river with his cousin, Henry Stephens, in 1904, with a moreland of supplies, he recalled early adventures, some funny, some not so funny at the time, but "remarkably interesting for a green kid who had been 'trying' to teach school." He had come in from Ontario to Edmonton with a carload of settlers' effects, cattle, furniture, bedding and groceries, after ten days on a freight car from the east. In Edmonton he was met by Henry Stephens, and the bounty of supplies was loaded onto a 12' x 24' scow, with Larry Garneau, for whose family the Garneau district of Edmonton is named, as the pilot, and himself as crew. The trip took ten days from Edmonton to Vermilion, and after arrival, took seven freight loads to bring in the scowload from the mouth of the Vermilion River. Names of freighters recalled were Bill Steele, Jack Hazlitt, Norman Tarbet, Jim MacMillan, Bill Hill. Here after the teams had pulled away, and much to his and Mr Stephens' chagrin, they found all food had been used on, except some cornmeal, so they had "cornmeal — for breakfast, for dinner, for supper". He relates that he shot a snipe but this was "too much fuss one for Henry and one for me."

UNLOADED ON SOUTH SIDE

Supplies were unloaded on Tom Brown's, of Brown Bros., and south of the present YAVC site on this college section there were Brown Bros. A K Newburn and Mrs Newburn and the northwest quarter was later owned by Dr Miller himself. A resolution of other settlers in 1904 was that there were four timbers in the area — Bob's, Jim Cormmon, with sixty cows, then Powell and Evans and Payne.

FINE FALL AND WINTER

They had the finest weather that fall, no snow until New Year's Eve when six inches fell which was all gone again by the middle of February

Prairie fires were prevalent, one came in from Wetaskiwin and there were flames on the hills everywhere. There were many haystacks to be saved all turned out to exist but failed. Jim Cormmon losing all feed."

BUILD STORE IN 1904

In that fall of 1904 the building of the original Stephens' was begun, "a cellar dug, slow and hard work by hand." He learned the art of harnessing a team, and recalled memories of an old wagon and a light team which was used for hauling supplies for the store. On his first trip west in Vegreville for potatoes, upon shooting at a coyote with a Stevens' rifle his team bolted and ran away. He remembered three more trips to Edmonton, three days in, six to seven back, loaded. Reminiscing of a smoking adventure his light team became stuck in the muskeg and he was forced to unhook them, pack out the load, unreagle the wagon, and pull it out in halves with a rope

RAILWAY ARRIVES 1908

At this time the Bare Colony was established and more settlers began arriving. In one instance seven loads of cats were being roused in and one up set, filling the river with cats. In September of 1907, the railway came through and the town became a hive of activity. The store of Bert Woods was moved to the road allowance where Wiebe's mill later stood. Brimacombe and Rowbell were located on Sec 28. Brauer east of the present townsite was the location for the first post office and here a settlement formed also. Many buildings were set up prairie schooners, shacks, etc. Sims, with a restaurant 20'x24' frame building known as "Cookhouse".

DRUGS & LUMBER

Where Long's Drug Store now stands Hayward & Long set up business in a tent the supplies trading Trees & Lumber Lots went up for sale. Orme-Stephens, Alberta and Vermilion Hotels and later that fall the Brunswick Hotel was started. A cafe run by a Miss Johnson (a sister of Carl Johnson) was known as Johnson's Cafe.

LONG STORY SOURS

Stephens' store, later destroyed by fire in 1918, was put up that fall, a 40' x 40' building and the old store served as a storehouse. Ivy Miller recalled that store hours were from 7 a.m. until the last customer went home at night. Holidays were Christmas Easter July 1st and Thanksgiving. In lowering the groceries for Stephens was Barney Powell.

At this time the speaker relates he learned repeatedly in brushed and in his own words ing to make a hit with Ky Ferguson's sister", Miss Emmerson later became his wife — and "it worked out alright, eh?" he now asks that same lady, who was seated at his right

ATTENDED COLLEGE

Later he went to Normanton attended college, went to war in the first world war, came back and finished studies, practised with Dr. Smith in Vermilion before setting up his own practice in Elk Point, recalling that Miss Beth Witherbe was Dr Smith's secretary, "and a very efficient one". Recollection of a call having been received for him to attend a patient south of the town, there was another call from the same area, and the secretary relayed his message to the caller, that "Dr. Miller would be out and kill the two birds with one stone". However, the Doctor didn't appear to have lost any patients due to the message!

He ended his address, a fascinating trip back into the past for his audience, and spiced with humor, with every good wish for success to the Association of Vermilion Pioneers.

ALLEN RONAGHAN SPEAKS

Mr. Allen Ronaghan, guest speaker, was next introduced by Mr. Jim Miller. Mr. Ronaghan is the author of "The Hospital On The Hill", the story of the Islay Hospital. He also has several short articles of historical interest to his credit. His father, the late Mr. Art Ronaghan, and his mother, the former Miss Nora Cormack, were among the earliest settlers of the Islay Vermilion district.

HISTORICAL FACTS

Mr. Ronaghan's address was of the early days of Vermilion and district, and touched on many points of facts concerning the area. The necessity of "cold bridge, caused it to be built to cross Vermilion creek south of the town and much bearing on the site of the present bridge. The old bridge known as Forsdale is name for a vessel at the time of it, a band of Sarnia Indians roamed the area these being known as "Tatt's Band". Men noted as some of the first settlers were Ted Calvert George Powell, Evans and Payne, Bill Muir (Islay). Possibly the first bridge built across the Vermilion River was of black poplar, peeled, and was known as Powell's Bridge" and though it seemed that it was more under than over the water it served the purpose. In the area east of the present town were the Aberwoods, H Bowtell, Jack Coward, Jack Arnold, Pilkies, At Breage, Brimacombe and Ross operated a store and the first post office of the area. Here the first postcard went out was cancelled by hand. As to prices, Sid Giles reported paying 1% for tobacco, 10 for fright

FIRST CHURCH SERVICES

The first church service, Presbyterian, was held in May, 1905, with Rev. Hartley as pastor seats being boards set on old logs. In October of that year the first Anglican service was held at Pilkies store with Rev. Jones present. A convert was held on June 1905, proceeds to purchase an organ for church services. Day school was started that same year and a post office was operated at Islay. A drinker's office caused quite a stir, it came from Lamps hung above a bar. Bands would go about playing. The first hotel in the community was a tent, was by the name of Gibbon.

A barber shop was started at the present McMillan and Lade's many and there was also a grocery shop owned by R Bell and, was much a necessity for its wide.

Grain buying possessed with a potential supply of thirty bushels per day, potato, cream, some in season.

In the fall of 1905 the railway came through both to Vermilion and Wilkie. Many settlers followed among them Jack Woods from Montana after a visit home trip he was on occasionally food and household supplies. Also that fall, Nov. 7th, the Canadian Bank of Commerce opened up for business.

Concluding his interesting address of facts of Vermilion's early days Mr Ronaghan was thanked by Mr. Cooper in an enjoyable talk.

The entertainment numbers selections from Oldtimer Ernie Everitt formerly of Vermilion who now resides on Old Settlers Roadway.

The Christmas Message

As the world rushes headlong toward unprecedented change with seemingly more and more emphasis on material values and more and more sense of the transient, the significance of the Eternal Values, as portrayed by the Christmas Story must surely come home to each of us more forcibly. Men and women, their hopes, their fears and their convictions, will always transcend in importance anything that science may accomplish or destroy.

Mankind would do well to remember the Christmas message of two thousand years ago:

Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Christmas Happiest Season

Christmas is the happiest season of the whole year. Whatever may be the difference of opinion in economics, politics or religion throughout the year, at Christmastime it is a happy human attribute that these opinions are set aside and all Christendom unites to celebrate the birth of the Man of Galilee.

It is of vital importance to the Christian people of the world that each Christmas season is observed with friendliness and goodwill, with thankfulness that freedom still has a sturdy bulwark on earth, and with solemn reverence befitting the remembrance of the birth of Christ.

a rare occasion to find a suspect milk or cream sample, but in such a case a herd blood test on the farm is required.

TAGGED OVER 100,000 COWS

By the end of 1965 the Health of Animals Branch will have had tagged over 100,000 slaughter cows and will have blood tests results from a high percentage of these cows. They also will have results on 30,000 milk and cream samples.

When a blood test on the farm uncovers positive animals it will still be necessary to destroy herds to pass retests in accordance with standard procedures.

CERTIFIED AREA STATUS

Most counties and municipalities have or will soon reach brucellosis certified area status. This means that the percentage of infection in the area is low. The next goal is brucellosis free area status. To qualify for this status every herd in an area must be tested adequately over the Market Cattle Testing Brucellosis Ring Testing or another blood test on the farm. The results of tests must show less than two-tenths of the cattle infected with brucellosis.

PLAYED IMPORTANT ROLE

Brucellosis vaccination under the Alberta Veterinary Services Branch has played a significant role in reducing infection so that it has been economical to proceed with a testing program. When a county or municipality has been under the testing program for five years vaccination becomes voluntary. The vaccination age is now from 120 to 270 days of age and vaccination as soon as possible after 120 days is preferred. Vaccination does not always provide adequate immunity and early vaccination provides the same immunity as late vaccination. Some vaccinates carry persistent blood reactions which the laboratory cannot distinguish from infection. Persistent blood reactions are rare in early vaccinates. In future the need for vaccination will become less and less.

For further information on the brucellosis testing program, the cattle owners will first Health of Animals veterinarians pleased to discuss any aspect of the program.

Riverton News

(Held over from last week)

Weatherwise we are enjoying temperate above normal for this time of year. Sunny skies and no snow are the order of late. Here frost on trees and bushes made the countryside a pretty Christmas card look.

Curling is underway at the local rink already, which means two or three extra weeks for the curling enthusiasts.

A very successful bingo, sponsored by the Curling Club, was held in the hall on Dec. 10. 27 games were played on the cards and more chance of winning, but of course there was still plenty who did not win. Congratulations go to Mrs. Clayton Hansen who was the lucky winner of the grand and despite a hamper of groceries.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Joy and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joy of Kitscoty were Sunday visitors at the Bob Spicer home.

LADIES' CLUB MEETING

The December meeting of the Ladies' Club was held at the home of Mrs. Spicer with practically a full attendance of members. It was decided to send the usual donation to the Tea Seals Fund and the School for Retarded Children in Vermilion. The top for the flower of the month quilt, which had been put together by Helen Timanson, Mary and Lola was brought along and much admired by all the ladies. It is to be quilted early in the New Year. It had been decided to make another tree cross-stitch quilt and blocks for this were handed out. As this was the Christmas meeting there was the usual exchange of gifts and discovery of the identity of secret pals. In addition to the club members, Mrs. Spicer had invited all the other ladies in the district to be present in honor of the Golden Anniversary which was celebrated on Sept. 1st. A delicious supper of turkey, salads, etc. was served on plates by Ariel, Iona, Doris and Mrs. Spicer herself. All of the ladies and a couple of men who came along at lunch time, enjoyed it very much. It was a most happy feature on Mrs. Spicer's part, considering that she has been ill. It was sincerely appreciated by all.

Mrs. Hazel Sunderland is visiting with her mother and sister in the district and expects to stay until after the first of the year.

GUESTS OF DEWBERRY UCW

Twelve members of the Riverton Ladies' Club were guests of the Dewberry U.C.W. at the December meeting. A pleasant evening, which included slides on Trinidad, shown by Mrs. Victor Side, was enjoyed. A delicious lunch and box head brought the evening to a close.

Dale Boothman is carrying his arm in a sling due to a broken collarbone.

U.S. Airman Killed In Alaska Plane Crash

Many people will recall the emergency landing made at the Vermilion airport some 3 1/2 weeks ago by three young airmen of the U. S. Air Force. They were flying an "ice" bound for Alaska. The flyers, it will be remembered, were held up here for some three days by icing and weather conditions before taking off for Anchorage, Alaska.

On Friday, Dec. 10th, one of the three, CWO Joe Mendes, was killed instantly while test-flying an "Otter". The aircraft crashed into a mountain side, for reasons unknown, killing the young test pilot instantly. Witnesses saw the plane on fire, go into an uncontrollable vertical dive, and into the mountain.

Mendes was a test pilot and instructor pilot in the battalion and was very highly regarded.

The sad news was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Pernia Cooper by Larry Lemons, who was with Mendes when the landed in Vermilion.

First Brucellosis Tests Completed

On December 14, 1965, the Health of Animals Branch, Canada Agriculture, reported blood samples from the last herd in Alberta under the first general brucellosis area testing program. Dr. A. E. Lewis, Veterinarian in charge of the Health of Animals Branch in Alberta collected the last blood sample on the farm of Mr. A. J. Storch, Hanna, Alberta, in Special Area No. 2. He maintains a herd of beef cows. This also completed the first general test in Western Canada. In Eastern Canada, with the exception of Quebec and Newfoundland the first test has been completed.

STARTED IN 1959

In Alberta the first testing under the program started in the fall of 1959. In six years the program has dealt with the three million cattle in Alberta. The progress of the program to eradicate brucellosis has been remarkable. This is no time for complacency, veterinarians and cattle owners must continue to push forward for complete eradication.

We thank cattle owners, for their patience and co-operation in the past and earnestly seek their co-operation in the future. We know we have the tests and the ability to reach our goal of total elimination.

LESS TESTING ON FARMS

Cattle owners will be glad to know that from now on there will be much less testing on the farm. There are two effective screening programs which will provide more and more emphasis in the future. These screening programs will make it possible to eradicate brucellosis with a minimum of testing on the farm.

MARKET CATTLE TESTING

The screening programs are called Market Cattle Testing and Brucellosis Ring Testing. Under the first program the Health of Animals Branch identifies the slaughter cows at stockyards, auction marts and packing plants with back tags. To avoid testing on the farm every cattle owner should make certain that his slaughter cows are back tagged. At the time of slaughter, the Health of Animals inspectors collect blood samples which they forward to a Federal laboratory. The local subdistrict Health of Animals officer receives the results of the tests and keeps a record of each owner's herd. To have effective coverage results are required on 15 per cent of each owner's cow herd over a three year period with this program it is only necessary to collect blood samples on the farm when there is a suspect sample collected at a packing plant and when herds do not have sufficient coverage.

BRUCELLOSIS RING TESTING

Under the Brucellosis Ring Testing Program Health of Animals inspectors collect milk and cream samples three or four times a year at dairies, creameries and at other milk or cream receiving stations. The laboratory tests these samples and the subdistrict office maintains a record for each owner. It is now

4-H Club Enjoys Fabulous Sale

The turkey in the picture, being held by Paul Hareuther, is really worth its weight in green backs. It weighed in over 20 pounds and brought $80.00 at the 4H Turkey Show and Sale held in the Elks Hall, Vermilion, on Saturday last. The high price was paid by Paul Hareuther of Hareuther's Tom Boy store, who won out in a lively bidding contest for the grand champion turkey at the show. This was a public-spirited act to encourage the young turkey fanciers.

PAUL HAREUTHER

The turkey, a hen weighing 20 pounds, was raised and exhibited by Marion Dietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Dietz from south of Vermilion. It was judged the best hen of the show and then went on to win the grand championship over the first prize rubber.

The reserve champion, a 23½ pound rubber, was raised and exhibited by Pat Stelgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stelgrove. It also brought a handsome price. Sohni being paid by Dave Gill of the Vermilion Co-op Store.

HENS TURKEYS AVERAGE 20 LB. PER POUND

The 411 club members offered 127 turkeys who weighed a total of 2581 pounds and brought in $1569.00, giving the fabulous price of 58c per pound. Every bird was dressed in fine and prepared for sale bird, and packed by a part.

The high prices paid for local people is worth a lot in future commercialism, encouraging as it does the young folks to stick to their 4H projects and show appreciation to the fact that the Alberta Turkey Industry district has the only 411 Poultry Club in Alberta.

Rotary Club To Provide Unusual Entertainment

The residents of the Vermilion town and district are to have the opportunity of seeing some of Alberta's finest artists in an outstanding performance scheduled for the evening of Saturday, January 15th, 1966, in the J. R. Robson High School auditorium, starting at eight o'clock.

Last year the Vermilion Rotary Club sponsored a somewhat similar program and the event was not largely attended, due doubtless, to indifference to belief in large numbers of people. However, those who attended were loud in their praise of the splendid evening's entertainment and endeavored to have the Ed Mirth Company come back for a further performance.

It is anticipated that available space in the auditorium will be taxed to the limit and it is urged that advantage be taken of the opportunity to purchase tickets in advance from members of the Rotary Club. Advance ticket prices have been established at $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students, while tickets purchased at the door will be sold at $1.50 for adults and $* for students.

Those who have seen the performance in Edmonton are loud in their praise of the fine comedy numbers and it should be borne in mind that this program will be vastly superior to the format as well seen nightly on TV as sparkling genius and beauty will feature the Vermilion show, ing with plenty of comedy numbers which are sure to delight the audience.

Proceeds from the evening will be devoted by the Rotary Club to the furtherance of their local service club interests and other organizations and the general public are invited to keep the evening of January 15th next, clear of other commitments.

You will be sure of a fine evening of entertainment at the Rotary Club show on Saturday, Jan. 15th at 8 o'clock in the J. R. Robson High School Auditorium. Keep that date in mind and you will be pleased that you did.

Funeral Services Held For Charles Young

Funeral services for the late Charles Young were held at St. Saviour's Anglican Church on Tuesday, Nov. 30th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. W. A. Swinton officiated. Interment followed in the Vermilion cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Pat McGuigan, Wm. Hannan, Wellington Barnett Hardie Ford, Wm. Purves and Ashley Cooper.

Mr. Young passed away at the Vermilion Hospital on Nov. 26th. He was 82 years of age. Born in Dunkerton, England, on Sept. 2nd, 1882, he came to Canada and settled at Tabor, Alberta, taking up a homestead in the Crossford district some 130 miles away. Trips were made regularly in spring and fall from Tabor to the homestead by team, over prairie trails and fording the streams. After proving up on the homestead the family moved to the Islay district in the year 1916. The trip was another interesting episode in the life of the Young family. It was made with two wagons on which were all the family effects and farming equipment. The long overland journey took thirteen days. Their son Frank rode horseback and herded two cows all the way on roads that were mere trails.

From 1916 to 1965 farming operations were carried on at Islay farm very successfully. In 1945 Mr Young retired and he and Mrs. Young moved into Vermilion where they had lived ever since.

Mr Young leaves to mourn his passing his dear wife Alice, one daughter Mrs. A. (Gladys) Pattey of Islay, one son Frank, in Vermilion, one sister Mrs. Annie Woodman of Somerset, Eng., two grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Merry Christmas and pleasant holidays for everyone

Beliefs, Customs

Anglo-Saxons believing something might happen when the New Year burst in, often climbed to the roof tops to have a good view of anything that might take place. It was also a custom among the Scots to switch the trunks of fruit trees in petition to the gods of fertility for a "good bearing crop."

Operetta Provides Fine Entertainment

(By Margo Hesby, P.R.O.)

The long hours of practise on those of the 'Jungle' were evidently worthwhile as every thing went smoothly on the east evening, December 16th. Numerous songs and dances presented 'for every it seems' delighted the audience at R.H.S. The real skills of the entire evening were the co-starrers, played by Hall Norton, Larry Teasdale and Hans Dunnewind. The weird moans groans and lack of harmony they managed to produce had every one in stitches from the beginning.

THE CAST

King Montmorency - Tom Smith
Queen Florinda - Candace Sherk
Prince Karl - Bill Callas
Princess Rose - Pat Norton
Princess Lulu - Rose Feenstra
Darnell Twin - Norman Dibben
Mr. McPipp - Henry Rudyk
Mrs. McPipp - Linda Feenstra
Pamela McPipp - Sandra Good
Count Galoudi - Tom Hutton
Belladonna - Patsy Hurley
Count von Popova - Bill Norton
Peperetta - Hans Dunnewind
Trombastius - Larry Teasdale

The chorus consisted of Joy Jeffery, Peter de Jong, Georgia Garrett Gree Lee, Kay Fugate Margo Husby, Merle Morgan Sharon Anderson, Robert Anderson, Ellen Walkenhorst, Lorna Webb, Phillis Sears, Nancy Hill, Florence Chorna, Janice Cooper, Donna Lee Webb.

The members of the cast and backstage crew would like to thank Miss Fulcher our director, and Miss Jordan our pianist for all their work.

DISAPPOINTING CROWD

The only disappointing part of the whole evening was the lack of people. Everyone worked very hard to prepare this operetta for public presentation and the small crowd present was a let-down to them. Certainly there was no lack of advance advertising and there are few people who did not know ah out this drama. Perhaps when our next play in the month of March there will be fewer activities the same night and attendance will improve. The date for this play will be announced early in the year. Those who did attend the play on the Thursday thoroughly enjoyed themselves really you don't know what you missed.

We wish you a mer-ry Christ-mas.

The Bible Has Special Meaning

Like so many things really important to us, we too often take the Bible for granted. Even on Christmas one of the year's most sacred times, the Bible — our source for the story of the birth of Jesus Christ — is often of less interest are we on the more material aspects of the holiday.

Yet there are millions of people all over the world to whom the Bible is a dynamic force. Ask the American Bible Society which distributes more than 34 million scriptures a year and hopes eventually to get a Bible in every Christian's home.

As they can tell you, the demand for Bibles and Scriptures in different languages and dialects is ever mounting. So far translations have been made in 1,200 languages — including Yiddish, Bhoal, Laghara, Amahuaca, Hanunoo, Korowe, and Esperanto. Yet hundreds of other languages exist in which translations must still be done.

To millions of Christians the Bible is such a powerful book they will even endanger themselves to get a copy. Just recently for example, it was reported that Wattui refugees came out of hiding to get supplies of salt, medicine, hymn books and Bibles.

The Bible is important to man's people's lives and work. To archaeologists it is a prime source of information as to where to concentrate their efforts in digging. To historians it presents the best picture yet of the 4,000 years of ancient history embraced by the Old and New Testaments. And the Bible is also the best source of information about the beginnings of Christianity.

LET WORK

Scholars find in the Bible a life-time work. One famous scholar of modern times, Dr. Albert Schweitzer, spent years writing his monumental "The Quest of Historical Jesus" which put Jesus into history at perspective.

From the Bible comes practically all our rules of basic behavior as does our most repeated prayer the Lord's Prayer. Also literally hundreds of famous quotations. "Love thy neighbor as thyself". The wages of sin is death". "Get thee behind me Satan" and "God is love"

CHRISTMAS BLESSINGS

CHRISTMAS is the time for families to be together, for children, and home, and love. Christmas is the time for all of us to give silent thanks that we live in a land of plenty and peace. A land that holds promise of bountiful tomorrows, and happy Christmas times to come.

My sincere wishes to each and every one of you for a Christmas blessed with happiness and contentment, and prosperity in the New Year!

ASHLEY COOPER, M.L.A.

Vermilion-Viking Constituency

Celebrations Reflect Customs From Far and Near

Celebrating the happy holiday of Christmas is an almost universal custom and many of the traditions belonging to the day are universal too. Gift giving, merry-making, gaily decorated trees and brightly glowing lights are holiday habits that have found their way to almost every corner of the globe.

Along with the similarities in the way people observe Christmas go just as many differences. From country to country, from city to city, from family to family, holiday customs vary, sometimes just enough to show the touch of individual imagination, and sometimes as greatly that it seems hard to believe the same day is being commemorated.

GIFT GIVING

It's traditional to receive gifts during the Yuletide season, but the time is not always December 25, and the gift-giver is not always Santa.

One of the earliest Christmas gift giving times takes place in the Netherlands according to the Book of Knowledge. Here the children receive their gifts from St. Nicholas on December 5. The date, appropriately enough, is called St. Nicholas Eve, in honor of the real St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop.

Christmas gift giving in Italy comes on January 5, which is known as Epiphany Eve. The traditional gift giver is Befana, a Legend says that Befana missed the wise men, and now she seeks to atone by giving gifts about the world doing good. . . . The day when traditionally the wise men came to Bethlehem, are given on St. Lucy's Day, December 13.

The time for gift giving in Puerto Rico and Spain is January. This custom is also practised, of baking special Christmas Eve cakes spiced with caraway seeds.

Board of the School for Exceptional Children

The members and teachers of the Board of the School for Exceptional Children are shown at their regular monthly meeting. The Board, which is fully antonomous, finds plenty to occupy them during regular meeting nights, with an occasional special session held. From the left are shown Alex Callas; Harry Sherk, School Superintendent; Mungo Forbes, County Councillor; Mrs. Frank Young, teacher; Gordon Ross, chairman of the board; Clarence Nes; Ross Taylor; Jim Filyate. Mrs. Myrtle Senz, school principal; Mrs. Doris Greenwood, secretary-treasurer of the board. Miss Mavis Wisdom, a Health Unit Nurse, also attends the meetings, but was absent when this picture was taken.

NIGHT OF CARES

In Ireland Christmas Eve is often called the Night of Cakes. This name is based on the custom still practised, of baking special Christmas Eve cakes spiced with caraway seeds.

Greetings

We've come a-caroling to bring us all the joy, happiness and gladness of heart that goes with Christmas. To our song of good cheer, we add a special note of thanks for your kind patronage throughout the year. We are deeply appreciative. May our warm friendship continue for many more years.

"Christmas At The Club"

"You're a bunch of silly old fools, and that's my honest opinion!" Ben Addams flicked his half-used cigar unerringly toward the center cuspidor.

A moment of sudden silence enveloped the Park City Men's Club lounge as each member present, silent as church mice, Ben Addams was the eldest man in the room indeed he had found out the club for retired business men. Years ago he stepped aside from active participation in affairs and this was the first such command he had made in five years.

John Wheeler broke the awful silence that had settled many a surly bon vivant. "Now Ben, what's so silly about it?" Not a man there but knew any plans for Christmas. I asked you myself and you said you weren't going to do a thing. What's wrong with us having a little party?"

John Wheeler spoke up, "Now, Ben, what's so silly about it?"

NOT PLEASED

Ben Addams answered without looking up from the new cigar he was lighting. "Passing out presents like a bunch of school kids. Then with a Santa Claus too, by golly. I don't believe in that foolishness! Not a man here un-der 70, and you're acting like they was kiddie land!"

Wheeler turned his head to laugh effectively, hiding a smile that turned the corners of his mouth. "Maybe we are a bit childhood Ben. Indulge us this year. Maybe the fun of old Christmas will do us all some good."

AGREED

Ben Addams flicked his half-used cigar away. "Very well, gentlemen, I'll go along with your little game. But don't think you'll rope me in on a birthday party next week, or a welcome to spring celebration. And if you have any such plans for next Christmas, count me out. I have more important things to do."

Wheeler with the look of an approving parent that won a case before the Supreme Court, or won his challenge cup at the annual regatta, clapped his hands. "Splendid you, Ben. We do appreciate your decision to join us. And now Gentlemen, shall we retire? Santa will be here soon."

It was a signal. Santa appeared followed by a small, bashful collection of youngsters. Ben Addams sat upright. The cobbled ranged in age from two years to twelve or so. They were neatly dressed, obviously freshly-washed and Ben knew every one of them. They presented some of the really unfortunate families in the community.

They gathered about the tree and a small girl stepped forward, then pound mysteriously her speech suddenly forgotten. "Merry Christmas" prompted Santa.

The two new symbol "Merry Christmas, Mr Addams. Merry Christmas gentlemen. We have only a song to offer but it comes from our hearts and with the whole club, with the wish . . . that the spirit of Christmas remain with you always."

FADE OUT

All too soon, it seemed, the song was ended. The members of the Park City Men's Club applauded roundly as the youngsters bowed then disappeared the way they had come When once again the house was still. John Wheeler pointed to an empty chair Ben Addams was gone too.

Outside, it was snowing even so softly. Officer Pat McGinty tossed on the side of the black limousine "Evening Dwight."

"Hi, Pat. How's things?"

"Quiet as Christmas Eve. Wait'll you see the turn up along with your little game But don't think you'll rope me in on a birthday party next week, or a welcome to spring celebration. And if you have any such plans for next Christmas, count me out. I have more important things to do."

John Wheeler with the look of an approving parent that won a case before the Supreme Court, or won his challenge cup at the annual regatta, clapped his hands. "Splendid you, Ben. We do appreciate your decision to join us. And now Gentlemen, shall we retire? Santa will be here soon."

The Evergreen Is Undisputed Favorite

In Christmas trees it's the spirit that counts

Almost anything can be — and is — a Christmas tree in Minneapolis Minn., they even made a tree out of water pipes. Decorated like spokes to a telephone pole, and appropriately decorated.

In Wilmington, N.C., a live oak more than 300 years old is adorned at the Yuletide with hundreds of Christmas tree lights. In Indianapolis Ind. they decorate the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument with electric candles and stars

The U.S. National Christmas Tree, officially designated in 1926, is not an evergreen but a giant redwood located in Kings Canyon National Park, Calif.

Most successful tree, so far, called the "General Grant," is 1,500 years old.

Many families prefer the "pet" Norway Spruce, often the home of squirrels.

Despite all this, the time-tested favorite tree is still the seven-green Most people, if asked, would probably vote for the "Fir tree."

Actually, there are nearly 60 species of the popular "fir tree."

Found in the mountainous regions of temperate and Northern Europe, Asia, north of the Himalayas and North America

A frequently seen Christmas tree variety is the "balsam fir" also called "Canada balsam" or "Balm of Gilead," according to the Encyclopedia Americana. This is one of the most common trees of eastern North America, commonly from Virginia and West Virginia to the United States to Labrador and Newfoundland.

The balsam fir may grow to 40 or 50 feet tall. The southern fir is of about the same height and is found in the mountains of Virginia, North Carolina and in Tennessee.

Other American firs are essentially Western. They include the Pacific silver fir, the white fir, the grand fir, the Alpine fir, the red fir, the Shasta red fir and the noble fir These firs may attain 250 feet in height.

In Canada, the exporting of Christmas trees, including firs, spruce and cedars, is important business Seven provinces export trees, to most, for us far away as Venezuela.

Famous People Call Yule Their Birthday

A young farmer's wife in England gave birth to a son in 1642. In 1821, a baby girl was born in the Massachusetts village of Oxford In 1895, the wife of a militant Christian crusader gave birth to her fourth daughter And in 1961, in Paris an artist's model bore a baby boy

What did these four births have in common? In each case, the child was born on Christmas Day, and grew up to become a famous person, According to the Book of Knowledge, these well known "Christmas babies" were Sir Isaac Newton, Clara Barton, Maurice Utrillo and Sir Isaac Newton.

FOUNDER OF RED CROSS

Clara Barton Civil War nurse was born on Christmas Day in 1821. It was her warm thoughts of Christmas that led her when she set off to visit her brother a prisoner during the Civil War to offer to take presents not only to him but to the prisoner relief of all her Oxford Mass neighbors

Subsequently Clara Barton was instrumental in founding the American Red Cross and served as its president for many years

EVANGELINE BOOTH

Born on Christmas Day in 1865 Evangeline Booth was the fourth daughter of the Salvation Army founder, William Booth By the age of 23, she was head of the Salvation Army in Los Angeles, and in 1904 she took over operations for the entire United States

During World War I the Salvation Army lassies under her jurisdiction spent Christmas as well as many other days ministering to the needs of American doughboys in France The sword "Joughboy" stems from the celebrated Salvation Army doughnut, a World War I staple

EQUITY FOR FAITHFUL

One Christmas-born child had little cheer in his life, on holidays or otherwise. This was the French painter, Maurice Utrillo, born on December 25 1883

Son of an unknown father and a mother who was a model for many of the Montmartre bohemian artists of her time young Maurice was shy and withdrawn, not only in childhood but throughout his life.

Ironically reproductions of many of his paintings, particularly those of the sparkling white dome of the Montmartre Church of Sacre Coeur, are used by the thousands every year on Christmas cards.

SIR ISAAC NEWTON

Sir Isaac Newton, English physicist, mathematician, philosopher greeted his first Christmas and his first day, in Lincolnshire, England, in 1642.

Frail and sickly as a youth he devoted many boyhood Decembers to inventing and making Christmas toys.

A FIFTY YEAR

The New Year comes to Jupiter once every 12 years the time it takes the huge planet to orbit the sun.

Add Punch to your Holiday Party

Spanish Midnight Punch featured at gala holiday party.

What are you doing this holiday season? Giving a party to another party? Same plans, same food, same drinks, just like last year? This season, make it a real party! Celebrate with a Spanish theme for a party that's different, exciting, festive — a party with punch.

You'll need a few basic "props" which you can buy in any five and ten-cent store. The color scheme for a Spanish party is red and yellow. A red crepe paper or linen tablecloth immediately sets the theme Add something Spanish to surround the punch bowl: dolls wrapped in peasant skirts, or perhaps toy bells. Check your stock of Fiesta rewards and fill in if necessary. Suggested red and yellow favors: mad straw for guests — both men and women — and you're all set for a party everyone will remember.

The focal point of the party, be it the punch — Spanish Midnight Punch is the specialty of the house. The punch bowl has served throughout history as a traditional, year-end drink. It does wonders for a party, automatically taking care of introductions as everyone gathers 'round the bowl. Some of all party goers can enjoy a goodly supply at a minimum of cost to the hostess

For Spanish Midnight Punch you'll need two bottles of Spanish cream sherry, a bottle of Angostura bitters, ¼ pint of brandy, a quart of club soda, ½ cup of sugar and a block of ice Combine all ingredients except soda the night before and chill in the refrigerator. Just before serving, pour over ice in punch bowl, adding soda at the last moment This will fill a 12 quart punch cup servings.

When you toast the future with Spanish sherry, you are drinking the world's most historic wine — enjoyed by almost every personification in human history from Napoleon and Napoleon.

Franklin Suggested Daylight Saving

The first known proponent of Daylight Saving Time was an American acknowledged by his contemporaries to be "ahead of the times" in which he lived. His name was Benjamin Franklin.

Franklin, a man of many recorded talents, was additionally a thrifty man. He hated to see anything wasted . . . even time. The story is told that Franklin, while Ambassador to France, awoke one morning to see daylight streaming through his window while all Paris was yet asleep.

In typical fashion, Franklin suggested Parisians "save" daylight hours by turning their clocks ahead one hour; the next morning the Ambassador to France was awakened by the clamor of countless housekeepers who would have ill feelings adopted the suggestion.

Nobody took Franklin seriously. Some 200 years later, however, Daylight Saving Time is a timeless saving suggestion followed in many cases unwillingly by millions of Americans in various parts of the country.

FIRST MESSAGE

The first message was radioed across the Pacific on January 1, 1936. The cable ship "Silverton" arrived in Honolulu laying down 2,400 miles of cable from San Francisco to Honolulu.

PARADE . . . Christmas parades have become traditional in most American cities and the bright procession usually marks the "official" opening of the Christmas season. The scene above represents Christmas in California as found Hollywood Boulevard becomes "Dickens Lane."

"Merry Christmas" All Through The Town

Merry Christmas . . . In these two familiar words, often heard and often repeated, there lives and glows the meaning of the first of all Christmases on that Holy Night nearly two thousand years ago. As the happy day approaches, this community, like many hundreds of thousands of other towns and cities around the world, proclaims the spirit of the season in ringing bells and happy carols in gleaming lights and festive decorations.

Through all the celebrations community, church family, the simple words of greeting run like a glowing thread, weaving together into one joyous whole all the many glorious things that Christmas stands for "Merry Christmas" The second season that Christmas is traditionally a time of merriment a time for family and friends to gather together.

"Merry Christmas" The words remind that Christmas is indeed more than merry. The lights and the laughter, the fun and the feasting are but the surface symbols of all Christmas truly means It is a time of giving and sharing a time to remember others, not only family, friends and neighbors, but all mankind and especially the less fortunate among us.

As gaily wrapped packages make their way to and from trees around our town the gifts of friendship recall the spirit of giving that began with the gold frankincense and myrrh of the Wise Men and the fragrant evergreen trees . . . symbol of the message of the Christ Child the inspiration of His eternal

"Merry Christmas" we say and with the words we seek to share our deepest wonder at the age-old story, our joy in our present blessings.

HOW CELEBRATIONS BEGAN

"Merry Christmas" The words are simple familiar, even old-fashioned, yet they still contain a newness and freshness a significance to thrill the heart of mankind

Where did they come, these familiar words? As a holy day and a holiday Christmas means a festive merry-making and prayerful worship and both meanings are expressed in the traditional greeting "Merry Christmas"

Christmas commemorating the birth of Christ derives its name from the words of "Christe Masse" the mass of Christ. Yet, the first centuries of the Christian church there was no celebration of the birth of Christ in Christmas

The December festivals of those days were pagan in nature the Roman Saturnalia in South-ern Europe, the Yuletide festival of the winter solstice in Northern Europe

When, in the fifth century A.D. Christmas began to be celebrated on December 25 the old customs of the pagan festivals were connected with the Christmas feast The merry making continued, but it gained a deeper meaning as pagan traditions were hallowed by association with the Nativity

Thus Christmas became "Merry Christmas"

SENDING GREETINGS

"Merry Christmas" The custom of extending holiday greetings to friends, undoubtedly goes back many years but the Christmas card as a means of expressing these greetings is a relative newcomer to Christmas traditions.

Christmas cards had their beginning only 122 years ago in England but despite the comparatively recent start, sending "Merry Christmas" in card form was a custom that very quickly caught the public fancy.

This wish to say "Merry Christmas" to friends and neighbors is strong and the ways of expressing it are many. The modern edition of this newspaper further is one big "Merry Christmas" to all those who are the customers, friends and neighbors of this newspaper and a sincere appreciation to them for their loyal friends

"Merry Christmas" we say and with the words we seek to share our deepest wonder at the age-old story, our joy in our present blessings.

May all the traditional joys of Christmas be yours . . . good friends and good times, gifts and greetings. And know that our greetings are warmly sincere, with grateful thanks for your loyal patronage.

Home for Christmas

By MIKE BENNETT

The wintry wind brought snow flakes and sent the flame of the campfire dancing up and down, creating eerie shadows against a background of water pailings and overhead wires.

Billy Smith jr. had the fire with a stick. "I don't know, Teddy, maybe we ought to go back home. I never been away from home at this time."

Teddy answered with some thing like a grunt. He had pulled his mackinaw over his head until only his nose and eyes were bare and was nonchalantly studying the flickering shadows on the underneath of the railroad trestle overhead.

"I know we made a deal, Teddy. But I didn't think you would decide to leave home just before Christmas. Couldn't we wait a while? We can run away from home right back just for Christmas. Then I'll be ready anytime you are. How about it?"

NO DICE

Teddy pulled down his jacket, lit a cigarette and peered his fire. "We made a deal little boy. And I don't think you would decide to leave home just before Christmas. Couldn't we wait a while? We can run away from home right back just for Christmas. Then I'll be ready anytime you are. How about it?"

[illegible] I don't know. I'm not going to be told to do anything by [illegible] don't see about [illegible] we would have some trip around the place. We're going to [illegible] something for [illegible]

"That's good to us, Teddy. You know that. And I think she would want us to. I know how much I'm enjoying having had [illegible] her own. It's like [illegible] I would be like that's what [illegible] life. Things [illegible] better when [illegible] You said so yourself."

Teddy began to poke the fire. I think she knows we planned [illegible] as it.

The wind was even stronger. The boys lapsed into silence. Teddy stood up. "I gotta find some more firewood." He plunged into semi-[illegible] disappeared.

"You kids got anything to eat?"

He was a big man, tall and heavy. His voice was gruff and unpleasant. Neither boy could speak or move.

The man moved to the fireside. He reached down and lifted Billy with one hand. "Let's see what's in that pack you're sitting on, kid."

Billy moved to the side almost into the darkness.

"Come back here, kid. Get back in the light where I can see you. You gonna try something? I don't recommend it."

SEARCHING

The boys watched in silence as the man rummaged through the pack and began to munch greedily on the chicken and said when he found there.

"You boys running away from home? Eh? You don't have to answer. I know you're not my size. Where do you live? Not getting out to be like me. I ran away just about your age, too. Was gonna find a job and get rich. I was. Didn't work that way. Never does. A fella pulls up roots, and never really sets em down again. I been in jail more times than you boys been in Sunday School."

The man finished eating took the pack for a pillow and then stretched out on the ground. "I'm gonna take a little rest. You boys stay put and stay quiet."

Moments later he was snoring and alone. The boys had disappeared into the darkness.

Deputy Sheriff Clint Parker dropped a nickel into the cross roads pay phone. "Miss Smith? Deputy Parker I found 'em. When you said you wanted to catch a freight I knew just where to look. I think they're on the way home. You'll probably be hungry. You're welcome and a Merry Christmas to you too."

Unique Holiday Message Begins Greeting Cards

It was the Golden Age of Christmas. The exchange of good wishes, visiting homes to meet a friend's good health card—singing bringing in the Yule log and great family dinners were a-la-mode.

A new book was published in that year. It told of Christmas games and plum pudding of happy family parties. It presented old-time mummers' plays, and wassail. Bob Cratchit and Tiny Tim. The book was Charles Dickens "A Christmas Carol" and the year was 1843.

Most probably during this "Golden Age of Christmas" the now universally popular custom of sending Christmas greeting cards began.

The very first card, authorities now agree, is the celebrated Cole-Horsley-designed and printed in London in 1843. Only a dozen of the original 1,000 copies are known to exist, and two of these, including the only unsigned and unposted specimen are part of the Hallmark Historical Collection.

When not on display in museums and similar institutions, the collection is filed in a specially constructed vault at Hallmark Cards in Kansas City, Mo.

Sir Henry Cole, a wealthy London gentleman, and founder of the Victoria and Albert Museum, asked his friend, John C. Horsley noted artist and member of the Royal Academy, to design the now-famous card as an unusual means of expressing his kind wishes to friends at the holiday season.

Holiday Observance Aided Washington

An important step was taken towards colonial freedom when George Washington used his knowledge of Christmas celebrations as an aid in planning his attack on the Hessian soldiers under the command of George III.

At that time (1776) many if not all puritan settlers in the new world disapproved of Christmas festivities. Not new for the mercenary Hessians fighting for King George against the colonists. They made the fatal mistake of observing Christmas just as they had done at home. The result was, [illegible] of the credit due to Washington's knowledge of Christmas customs through out the world that on December 25-6, 1776 American troops crossed the Delaware, attacked, and got to rout the surprised Hessians who were drunkenly sleeping off the effects of their holiday cheer.

To one and all, we extend our greetings for a holiday filled with joy and merriment.

MR. and MRS. DALE HANSEN

Dewberry United Church is Scene Of Pretty Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Dewberry United Church, Nov. 13th, 1965, when Beverly Ann Lemp, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lemp was united in marriage to Mr. Dale Earl Hansen of Bargaude. The Rev R. D. Richardson officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of mauve gladi and yellow roses.

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of satin and lace with a three-quarter length train. Her three-quarter length veil was held in place by a double crown of pearls and rhinestones. Her only jewelry was a double strand of crystals and earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley and white satin streamers dotted with rhinestones.

The bridal attendants were Miss Penny Braitwaite as maid of honor; Miss Marion Smith as matron of honor bridesmaid with Miss Joanne Ward of Edmonton as junior bridesmaid. They were identical street-length gowns of turquoise satin and lace, and semi-trains. Their headpieces were a single satin rose. Satin shoes and full length gloves completed their ensemble. Their gifts from the bride were single strands of crystals.

The groomsmen were Mr. Sandy Robinson of Dewberry, Mr. Dennis Lemp brother of the bride, and Mr Johnny Hansen brother of the groom.

The bride's mother looked lovely in a teal blue two piece crepe dress, with accessories of white. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a navy crepe suit with white accessories and pink roses on corsage.

A reception was held in the Dewberry Hall catered to by the United Church ladies of Dewberry.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake surrounded in blue lace and flanked by four candles in crystal blue.

Rev. Richardson acted the blessing and Mr John Anderson acted as the very capable master of ceremonies. He called upon Mr. Don Braithwaite to propose the toast to the bride. The groom made a suitable reply and thanked everyone for a very enjoyable day. Then the cences called on Mr. Allan Kennedy to say a few words. He replied very fittingly.

A dance followed in the Dewberry hall attended by a very large crowd of friends and relations, dancing to the sounds of Barb Swan.

Out-of-town guests were from Edmonton, Lodo, Sangudo and Winterburn.

The bride and groom left for a short honeymoon trip. They are now making their home in Vermilion.

If you are planning an outdoor holiday display for the first time this year here are some suggestions which should be helpful.

Don't use old lighting sets unless necessary. If you do, check carefully for loose connections and defective bulbs.

If you want use a combination of old and new light strings use the new strings, with new bulbs, in decorating the high or hard-to-reach places such as the top of the tree or on the roof. Use the old strings and new bulbs are less likely to burn out.

Don't use the small series wired bulbs, for outdoor display. Wrapping for defective bulbs in the indoor tree is bad enough, you certainly won't like to take on this task outdoors. Use the larger bulbs which burn and indicate which and replacing the bad ones will take but a moment.

Don't overload your extension cord. Your house circuit is no doubt equipped to carry an extra load if single strands of lights are used a few capacity no one more than one extension cord if you use a number of strings.

Russian And Frosting

Through the ages, Christmas has always been a time of romance and revelry.

In this country Christmas is not considered complete unless the entire family gathers at mom's or "grandpa's." Turkey on the table is a tradition and so is [illegible] Now a candlelight a necessity.

In the time of the Saxons, the festive board was spread with a lord's dish," and the guests wassail magnanimity for the occasion that marked Christmas time the peacock and the boar's head.

Provincial News

The Farmers' Union of Alberta convention definitely took the cross spotlight in Edmonton last week. The volume and variety of subjects covered makes it impossible to deal with anything but a few highlights.

One of the more interesting political debates began even before the convention. It had to do with the peculiar cabinet situation in Ottawa. The traditional speech by the federal minister of agriculture had to be dropped — simply because there is no such man since the defeat of Harry Hays in Calgary on November 8.

The health minister, Judy LaMarsh, was asked to speak but she withdrew. FUA officials termed the action discourteous, at best; irresponsible even. The evening discussions among many of the 400 delegates dealt with the lack of a western farm voice in the government at Ottawa and the possibility of getting one.

Mr. Hays could still be agriculture minister if the Prime Minister names him to the Senate — or lets him win a safe seat in eastern Ontario. But most delegates agreed neither possibility was quite the same as having a representative elected by prairie voters to do the job.

And the majority added that recent Liberal farm policy hadn't been entirely satisfactory, regardless of who held the agriculture portfolio.

MARY STRON PLEASES

At the provincial government level Harry Strom seemed to have after a little sputtering pleased everybody.

He said the 800 people who lost monies in the Verdi bankruptcy would get fair compensation.

He said the province is working on a scheme called PRIME to insure the best distribution of Alberta water, particularly in the southern drought and irrigation areas.

He said the schools of agriculture were doing a fine job and were growing.

He said roughly the same for the new work of the agriculture research fund.

He said the crop insurance scheme would be studied by the province to take in both the Peace River and southern areas previously excluded.

And he added that Ottawa would probably be along with the Alberta government to help the northern farmers hit by recent crop failures. An ARDA scheme might even be applied to new sections.

MORE MONEY NEEDED

A couple of sobering notes were injected by Dr. Gordon Burton of Claresholm, an economist famous andrewsmen of the provincial committee studying expenditures and revenues.

Even with continued good luck in obtaining revenue from new oil leases, Alberta is going to need vastly larger sums of money to meet expenses — particularly in education, he said. And in the same way the municipalities will have to obtain more. Will it come from another dip into the property owners' pockets, or borrowed a sales tax?

CONCERN OVER INCOME

The 400 delegates reserved their deepest concern for the problem of diminishing farm income. There is no question that farmers are receiving less for what they produce and are paying more for what they need.

There was virtually unanimous agreement that the federal government must help them out of this sorry state of affairs. The action they voted for was to march on Ottawa in step with other farmers from all parts of the country.

OTTAWA BOUND

The decision came only after extended debate. Opponents said the farmers would make it—the others look foolish and that the public would be alienated. Supporters said many strikes have been won before real or imagined hash cares about the problem across the farmers themselves would be put in before the country.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

What will the farmers do when they get to the capital? The proud of the National Farm ers Union probably put it best. He said they will show the federal government that the farmers are the primary producer and the function of agriculture in the national economy is at stake.

Where will they march? The word seems to be set by the national body is after the action gets approval from other provincial farm groups. But a good guess would certainly put it within the next year.

To all the messages of good cheer that ring out during this holiday season, we'd like to add our own, wishing you a very merry Christmas. May you find an abundance of the real joys of Christmas filling your heart and home, bringing you peace and contentment.

TREASURE CHIMNEY IS A REAL TREAT

Remarking for the children? Of course. A Christmas decoration that's good enough to eat. All you need is assorted cookies, butter frosting mix, and a jolly toy Santa to add special fun to the smallfry's holiday

Treasure Chimney

2 1-lb. boxes Sunshine Sugar Honey Graham Crackers
2 7-oz. packages butter frosting mix
1 8-oz. package Sunshine Fig Bars or 2 1-lb. packages Sunshine Assorted Cookies
Small Santa.

To make the farm around which the chimney is built: tape together side by side the two 1-pound boxes of graham crackers after removing the paper wrap-ping from each. Leave crackers in the boxes until the chimney is completed. Prepare one of the packages of frosting mix as package directs. Spread one side of the taped boxes with frosting. Arrange fig bars flat with bottom sides down, pressing into frosting to look like mortar. Let chimney dry completely several hours; on this side. Repeat process on the other three sides of farm. When all "bricks" are covered firmly stand chimney on end. Cut away cardboard ends of graham cracker boxes at top and remove about a third of the crackers. Prepare second package of the frosting mix. Drizzle it down corner edges and top of chimney to resemble snow and icicles. Fill chimney with assorted cookies and top with a Santa

Lost Generation

You probably don't think it could have happened in our country but it did. An entire generation of American children grew up without Christmas! From 1659 to 1681 puritan leaders banned Christmas celebrations. The disputes arose over the absence of Christmas, these almost reached a fever pitch in the 17th century England and the result was the forbidding of the yuletide ceremonies by the puritan parliament in 1644.

This is one of numerous examples to illustrate the point that in the course of Christmas celebrations has not run as smoothly as one might ordinarily think.

A century or so ago, the picture was very different. Even the Christmas tree itself was not as likely to be a part of the holiday scene. Around the middle of the nineteenth century, the Sunday school movement had begun to popularize the idea of family Christmas trees, but a tree at home was still not something a child would take for granted.

As for the toys, under the tree or not, the usual gift might be only one toy, and that one not a toy that modern children would recognize

This is not to say, however that nineteenth century children were to be pitied.

In a single toy the "Noah's Ark" then highly prized as a special Christmas gift, nineteenth century children found entertainment in great variety.

Today, the Noah's Ark has disappeared from the wonder world of toys, but in the days of its popularity, nearly every home with children also housed a Noah's Ark in some form, however crude.

Like modern toys, the Ark was available in many versions, from the simple to the complex. Basically, this toy consisted of the ark itself, in miniature of course accompanied by gaily painted wooden figures representing Noah, his family, and animals in pairs.

The more elaborate the toy, the greater was the number of animals included. One nineteenth century Noah's Ark set, now a part of the New York Historical Society's collection, includes more than 300 animals. Everything from little birds and domestic cats to elephants, camels, lions and tigers is represented.

'Noah's Ark' Disappears From Holiday Scene

By ANNA MANG

Where there are children, this holiday season, there's usually a Christmas tree—brightly lighted, gaily decorated, its fragrant branches bending low over a veritable "forest" of gifts from Santa's lavish pack.

Those days, the variety of toys is exciting, entertain and instruct the youngsters is practically limitless. The toy pack holds, it seems, everything and anything that a lucky child might see his little dreams.

Santa and Uncle John

(By CHUCK POPE)

The big clock on the wall indicated that it was almost closing time for Shanbury's Department Store. No one could be more happy about this situation than Santa. He'd spent a long and tiring day. He'd talked to so many youngsters, heard so many requests that his head was spinning. Hours ago, it seemed, the children had started to look all the same.

Three more children were in the line but he could last through three more. The last one seemed a bit nervous. Maybe he wouldn't stay. Perhaps it would be two more. Yet, for some reason or other, this last one didn't look like all the others. There was something; maybe a twinkle in his eye, the half-smile on his lips. Santa found himself hoping the lad would not leave. Maybe he would finish the day as Santa so he started it.

The lad smiled and extended his hand. "Hello Santa. My name is Johnny."

"Hello to you, Johnny. Where are your parents? I didn't see them come in with you."

WAITING

"They're in the cafeteria, having coffee. They said I could have ten minutes to visit with you. We have to get back to the airport to see if our plane can fly yet."

"What's wrong with your airplane?"

"It really isn't our plane. We're just riding in it, but it was grounded."

Santa smiled. "I'm not surprised. We've had a real winter storm today. It's ideal for before Christmas Eve."

"Yeah, one less. I gotta get back to Three Corners before you get there with my sled and other things."

Santa sat upright. "Three Corners? Sled?"

"Sure Santa. Remember the letter I wrote to you?"

"Sure, Johnny. I remember. From Three Corners. Is this the same Three Corners I used to know, Johnny? With the paper mill and the swinging bridge?"

"That's right. Like I told you in my letter but from the paper mill."

FORGOTTEN

"I forgot about that. Did you tell me about your uncle too?"

"I don't have any uncle."

"No uncle?" Santa seemed shocked.

"Well, not really. Dad says I have one somewhere. Uncle John. He's pretty rich and all that, but dad says they never get along. Uncle didn't like my mommy or something. Anyway, dad says it's been more than ten years since he last saw uncle. Probably be ten more, he says."

"Has he tried to reach your uncle?"

"Don't think so. Mom says he's too proud. That he should learn to forgive . . ."

Particularly at Christmastime, Johnny. Christmas is the time for forgiving." "I think I would like your mother."

REMEMBERED

John and Mary Carter looked up from their coffee, each hesitatingly extended hand as Santa was introduced.

Santa sat down without invitation. "I've been talking to your son Johnny — surprise you named him that. He tells me about your plans."

John Carter smiled. "And Mr. Stanbury just stopped by to tell me about his old friend who likes to play Santa in the department store."

Santa laughed. "No secrets anymore."

John and Mary responded. "No secrets."

"Except maybe one." said Santa. "Someone also told me you folks will have a guest other than Santa this year. Want to you think of that?"

The Carters as one replied. "That would make it a merry Christmas indeed!"

"Uncle John?" asked Johnny

"Indeed," the other three responded

Early Romans Had Practical View On Gift Giving

"Christmas is getting too commercial!"

This modern complaint while it may have force is somewhat lacking in originality

"I hate the crafty arts of giving presents," said the witty Roman poet Martial who lived and wrote from about 40 to 104 A.D. "Gifts are like snares."

His complaint was expressed in a series of poems written for a wealthy patron, at the time of the Saturnalia, the pagan festival from which come many Christmas customs.

Martial, however was not always averse to presents. After issuing a large number of small gifts such as toothpicks figs napkins, which had been delivered to him he pointed out that it would have been much easier for the messenger to bring him "five pounds of silver plate."

Fruit cakes can be kept almost indefinitely if they're properly wrapped and stored. Simply sprinkling orange juice over the cake periodically keeps it from drying out and adds a touch of flavor as well.

Yule Music Blends Joy, Reverence

Across the centuries, man has spoken of God and expressed his happy feelings at Christmas time.

From the medieval "Hayl, Mary, full of grace" and "Mervele ouerall" to the modern "White Christmas" and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," songs have been a favorite part of Christmas celebrations.

In the tradition of Christmas music, there are simple carols, blending reverence with the quiet joy — Martin Luther's "Away in a Manger," for instance, or the mid-nineteenth century hymns, "It Came upon a Midnight Clear," "We Three Kings of Orient Are" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

There are merry songs, celebrating the jolly mood of the Yuletide such as the time-honored "Deck the Halls" or the modern "Rudolph" and "Frosty the Snowman".

COMPOSERS INSPIRED

Famous composers have found in Christmas inspiration for some of their most treasured music. At Christmas, and Easter, too, people gather to hear performance of Handel's "Messiah," Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" and Berlioz' "L'Enfance du Christ" are other examples of "serious" music often specially performed at Christmas.

Twentieth century composers, too, have written music around Christmas themes. Probably the most familiar example is Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," an opera commissioned for television and performed annually. Honegger's "Christmas Cantata" and Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" are other notable examples.

'TO HONOR BY BARIL

It was William Billings more than any other individual who managed to popularize the Puritan New England's settlers that singing songs at Christmas was not sinful

SOURCE OF SONG

Among the well-loved Christmas hymns is "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." The words for this one were written by a Unitarian minister of Weston, Mass named Edmund H. Sears. Time: Just about a hundred years ago says the Book of Knowledge

One melody for this hymn was composed by a Detroit journalist and editor; another melody was adapted from an old British folk tune by a composer better known for his long string of light-hearted operetta hits by the team of Arthur Sullivan, of the team of Gilbert and Sullivan

Easy Eggnog

Today's delicious dairy eggnog eliminates all that stirring and mixing the housewife once had to do. Keep it chilled, pour it into a large bowl and sprinkle lightly with nutmeg. It's ready to serve. The first ingredient is a tray of butter cookies made with butter for good keeping qualities and stored in an airtight container or an airtight plastic or foil wrap they'll keep for weeks, enabling you to make your Christmas cookies well in advance of the holiday rush.

May you be gifted with the precious gifts of love, peace and understanding during this holy season of Christmas.

Christmas Story

By LEA WALKER

Blinky Ames slipped through the window with the ease of long experience, flicked on the pencil flashlight and surveyed his new surroundings.

Nothing fancy, but there should be several items of value about the place. After all, he didn't want much for this Christmas . . . cash, if he could find it; if not a few trinkets, enough to look for the price of a fancy meal and a little something in cheer his insides.

He moved silently to the bureau. The right drawer produced some cuff links, a tie pin and a few other items, none of apparent real value. Nothing on the left but a collection of old letters neatly wrapped. He put them back. He didn't have time for reading, even if they might be love letters. He was on business.

Second drawer Shirts. Wrong size, but no matter. Blinky could turn them into a fence or two if nothing else turned up. Nothing did in the third drawer; pretty much the same

DISCOVERY

Blinky let the beam of the flashlight play about the room. Now this was more like it. A portable typewriter. If there's nothing smaller this one will take care of everything. No need to appear too conspicuous walking down the street. With the case closed, he could be a businessman returning home from a late engagement. Just the ticket.

He reached for the typewriter, paused, extracted the paper from the roller and set it aside. Then, cautiously he picked up the paper and began to read the neatly typed letter

Dear John:

How's this for a sad story. We were all set to make our annual visit to the folks down on the farm. Everybody comes for the holidays you know. This was two weeks ago. That's when I lost my job. Old Skinflint let us go, without a days notice or even a day's pay. Before I can park and get out the car falls to pieces, the house is on fire. One of the kids got into the closet with a lighter and everything's up in smoke. The kid is in the hospital. I have been looking for a job, when I lost the job and I didn't have any insurance on the house. And now it's Christmas Eve. It seems I have had all this and more. I'll go away. I am going to leave the kids here long enough to see my wife and then I'll give you the grand finale

REPORTED

Some hours later Joe Jamieson himself into his hotel room. The movie had lasted longer than he'd planned. He'd have to get right back to work. He didn't notice anything wrong until he sat down, ready to whip out the typewriter. A moment later he was reaching for the phone. "Harry, the craziest idea you ever had was for me to rent [illegible] this hotel room and stay here until I get the plot worked out for that New Year story.

"Have I got it? Well, I thought I had. But I want to take a new turn. I can give you a real human interest angle, and I mean so great you won't believe it

"No, it isn't Lenore. It's for real. It actually happened. Let me give you the picture. Listen to what I had picked out on my typewriter earlier this evening Ready . . ."

COMING UP

"You're right. Without an ending it's nothing. But do I have an ending. You won't believe it. I left this message in my typewriter and went out for a while and guess what I found when I got back? Someone had been in my room

"There I am at a typewriter. I've also got five dollars and a note that says "Buddy, you need it more than I do."

"All right. If you won't buy it as a New Year story I'll save it until next Christmas. Yeah Harry. Merry Christmas to you too."

A wish hearty, and most sincere, with greetings glad to you and yours, from all of us,

Carolers Were Once Dancers

The first Christmas carols were danced in procession, in Europe during the Middle Ages. In the 12th and 13th centuries little girls who requested dolls for Christmas usually had to settle for crude clay ones. Little boys of that era got toy horses and knights as gifts.

The earliest carols were songs of the Nativity the Incarnation and the Annunciation. Later, came an obedience themes and the Epiphany were composed, and there were also many of folk origin on the festivities of the Christmas season.

These latter included such songs as "The Holly and The Ivy." Many of the surviving old carols were originally part of the pantomime dances performed by

These latter included such songs as "The Holly and The Ivy." Many of the surviving old carols were originally part of the pantomime dances performed by

FIRST IN LATIN

Christmas carols first were written in scholar's Latin. The Franciscan Jacopone of Todi, of the Franciscan order led the way to a wider enjoyment and appreciation of joyous Christmas songs by writing musical poems in the language of the common people.

The saint who lived from about 1230 to 1306 A.D. had a good reason for his interest in carols in St. Francis himself. St. Francis is loved the creation of the first creche or manger scene in 1223 A.D. Villagers gathered around the scene and sang hymns to the Christ Child.

THE BOAR'S HEAD

"The boar's head in hand bear I Bedecked with bays and rosemary"

The Boars Head Carol is the source of the quotation appeared in the first collection of English carols, printed in 1521, and is still sung on Christmas Day at Queens College, Oxford.

Other colleges of Oxford had their own versions of the same song. "The boar is dead, in here is the head prepared this carol merry at St. Johns," while "The boar's head in hand I bring, with garlands gay and birds singing" was the version heard at Balliol.

Even in early times the "boar" was frequently referred to as traditional as the feast was probably a one. The wild boar is believed to have been extinct in Britain early in the 13th century.

PUDDY OF PEPPERS

Good King Wenceslas looked out on the feast of Stephen."

This familiar carol commemorates two famous men. One is King Wenceslas, who ruled in Bohemia in the 10th century A.D. He was noted for his generosity to the poor and practiced this generosity on Christmas and on St. Stephen's Day, December 26.

In company was the first Christian martyr, noted in legend as a follower of Christ who, at the time of the Nativity, had been in the service of King Herod. When he was permitted to see the Star he left Herod to serve the Child.

Today the "feast of Stephen" is remembered primarily because of the carol. Good King Wenceslas. His day is now more commonly observed, especially in England and Canada, as Boxing Day when presents are given to servants and others who have rendered services throughout the year.

SHEPHERD MUSIC

Shepherds are familiar figures in Christmas plays and carols, such as "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night."

Most colorful and realistic remained in tradition, is the story of the shepherdesses who visited the stable on the first Christmas night.

"Tyrus vienes-te, bergere?" (or, "Whence Come You, Shepherd Maiden?") was brought to Canada in the 17th century, by early French settlers. In the song a questioner asks the shepherdess where she has been and what she has seen, and she in turn, describes the manger scene.

EARLY LIGHTS

Barrel-shaped glass lights were among Christmas tree ornaments used before th. turn of the century. Themselves shone brightly through the various-colored glass: amethyst, moon and emerald green, blue and gold balls and strings of tinsel.

POINSETTIA CARE

Proper care will insure a long life for the poinsettia plant. Here are some suggestions

Place the plant in a sunny window well away from drafts and excessive heat. A temperature of 70 degrees is recommended.

Examine the soil twice daily and keep it uniformly moist. When it starts to dry out, apply enough water to wet the soil to the bottom.

LIGHT UP HOPE. The scene above will be as appropriate as ever during the coming holiday season. This photograph, taken a few seasons ago, shows Christmas lights glowing across the town square from a tree erected by West Ham Rovers at the Broadsbury Gate (Stockbridge), on the border of Middlesex, border of the United City. Every year, citizens of West Ham decorate a tree at the border as a symbol of their Yule-Tide hospitality to all who visit and remember that their stand is the last town important to the east.

Santa Pierre

(By JAMES CLYDE)

Pierre LeBlanc signalled with his finger and the head waiter bowed the dove behind the last customers. The waiter came back to the table where Pierre was sitting and waited patiently for the sign to be finished.

"Do you like it, Jacques?"

"If you will pardon my saying it sir, you are not the best of sign painters."

"Indeed not, but it serves the purpose place it on the door."

The head waiter obliged and soon customers were moving away after reading the message:

TONIGHT ONLY

10th ANNIVERSARY PRIVATE PARTY

The party was not so private. Old friends, customers for many years were entering by the back door almost as soon as the front was closed.

Pierre greeted each affectionately wishing everyone a most Merry Christmas. They were old friends, all of them. As Pierre liked to put it, "We grew up together." Most of them were starting out struggling artists, writers, young lawyers and actors, when Pierre opened the small coffee shop that he was to build into a restaurant of international reputation.

For some, Pierre had a special greeting. Fred Addams was one. Fred was a writer, a good one. He had lived upstairs, over the coffee shop long years ago. He had survived on deserts and coffee mostly on credit, until his first novel had set him on the road to becoming one of the country's most popular mystery writers.

"Merry Christmas old friend," greeted Pierre

"Joyeux Noel, to you, Pierre. And then tell me why an old rascal like you gives up holiday business to give a free party?"

"It is my anniversary. Can I not play Santa if I pleases me?"

"You apparently can."

Pierre smiled his best smile. Seriously old friend, I give this party also because I know you will be in town this holiday. I say to myself, 'Pierre, you must play Santa.'"

"As you did seven years ago?"

"Ah, you remember; how well do I recall. Two people who were meant for each other I brought them together. Romance what a wonderful thing. Would you turn back the pages of time, old friend?"

"I would, Pierre; I am older, wiser I know that there can be love and marriage and a career as well."

"And Anne . . ."

"Wherever she may be. I think she knows it too. I hope things worked out well for her. She was so eager, so anxious to become a great singer. She loved me, as I loved her, but I am afraid we were both selfish. I hope — and I believe — that she has found her happiness as I still seek mine."

Pierre smiled again. He tapped on the table before him until all was quiet. "My friends," he began, "I have not been in business 25 years, only 23. I began in August, not December. I am also a poor sign painter. On the door it should say 2 plus 5, or seven for seven years ago I introduced two wonderful people on Christmas Eve They fell in love, then went separate ways. Tonight I shall re-introduce them . . . after the orchestra plays and we are led in 'We Wish You A Merry Christmas' by my dear friend, Anne Grayson. Anne has just completed seven years of study in the finest schools in Europe Tomorrow she auditions for the Met Tonight she sings for you."

Confident, radiant she stepped into the spotlight and every voice was raised in song.

MECHANICAL TOYS

The first crude mechanical toys appeared as early as 1000 A.D. They were first equipped with clockwork in 1672 by the toymakers of Nuremberg Germany, already famous for their dolls. A French sailor who had fought the losing battle of Trafalgar with Napoleon was the unlikely pioneer of mass-produced clockwork toys.

Golden Age Club Enjoys Christmas Party

The Christmas party of the Golden Age Friendship Club was held in the Legion Hall on Wednesday, Dec. 15th with a good attendance of sixty members.

As the president, Mr. Carl Johnson is ill, Vice-Pres. Mrs. Wm. Steele gave a sincere welcome to all, after which community singing of Christmas carols was much enjoyed, with those present making the choices.

A duet by Mrs. Lena Williams and Mr. Jack Hurst was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Marion MacPhee favored with a solo, Danny Boy. Mrs. Helen Bell was the accompanist for the afternoon. Honored guests were Mayor Carl Hechbert and Mrs. Hechbert, and Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., editor of the Standard who took a number of much appreciated pictures.

Two short skits by four members of the Club. Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Waldenberger, Mrs. Wemp and Mrs. Armstrong, dressed specially for the occasion, were much enjoyed. Several musical items and trios were rendered by Mrs. Williams, Mrs. MacPhee and Mr. Hurst.

A pleasant surprise was the presentation of fresh fruit and cheeseplates by Mr. Marshall Jackson on behalf of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion

Santa Claus (Mrs. Mabel Lee) made a very good job as jolly old St. Nicholas.

A nice lunch was served by the committee. The theme song and national anthem brought a very enjoyable afternoon to a close.

The Golden Age Friendship Club takes this opportunity to thank the Cooper Brothers of the Vermilion Standard for their kindness in giving space in the paper for stories of all of the activities of the Club. We wish them a merry Christmas and much prosperity in the New Year

NEXT MEETING

The next meeting of the Club will be held at the Vermilion Valley Lodge.

Welcome Window

Let your picture window see your guests in your home. Place a candle a wreath or a spray of evergreen in the window, remembering at the same time that too much of any of these will spoil the effectiveness of your window. The children might enjoy trying a stained-glass effect with easily-washed of colorings and artificial snow sprays. A real treat for children is working with bubble paints; they enjoy admiring their handiwork on those snowy blowy days.

IN OLDEN TIMES

Ancient Romans rang in the New Year much like Americans today All work stopped schools closed, courts handed down no sentences; revelers gamboled in masquerade; and gifts such as sweet fruit, candles and dolls were exchanged.

NATIVITY SCENE IN BAS RELIEF adorns a marble pulpit in the Church of Santa Maria Novella at Florence, Italy. The early-Renaissance work was completed and placed in the church only after a court dispute by two families, both of whom claimed the rights to the pulpit.

Florentine Art Tells Story of Christ Child

In the Dominican church of Santa Maria Novella at Florence, Italy, stands a pulpit of white marble which bears in bas relief scenes from the story of Christ's life on earth: the Annunciation, the Nativity, the Presentation in the Temple.

Like many a building in famous Florence, the cradle of the Italian Renaissance, this ancient church is rich in the treasures of art and history, and its art and history combine in the story of the white marble pulpit, a story that lives across the years.

The pulpit first was placed in its present situation, on a column of the west aisle, in 1488. Early Renaissance theories of art are reflected in the bas reliefs. For instance the Nativity scene presents lifelike figures with the warmth of humanity, rather than the more stylized, ornate forms that a sculptor of an earlier era might have chosen to create.

FAMILIES FEUDED

Full of very human feeling, too, is the story of how the pulpit came to be created: the story of a feud between two great families.

The Rucellai family undertook to have the pulpit designed, executed and placed in the church, and Filippo Brunelleschi, the first great architect of the Italian Renaissance, was commissioned. It seems it Brunelleschi is best known for his designs of the exquisite ribbed dome of the Florence Cathedral. Among his other works are the Pazzi chapel, the churches San Lorenzo and Santo Spirito, and the Pitti Palace all in Florence.

Designing the pulpit for the Rucellai family may have been one of Brunelleschi's last works, for the Florentine architect died in 1446, two years before the pulpit was completed and placed in the church.

Maestro Lazzaro history says, was the sculptor chosen to execute Brunelleschi's design.

CLAIMED COLUMN

Up to this point there is nothing unusual in the story of the pulpit. It was common in its 30 days for parts of a church to become the "appropriation" of a particular family.

For instance the chapel with in the church of Santa Maria Novella where the pulpit was to be placed was the property of the Pasquali family. The Rucellai simply claimed one pillar of column within the chapel and no objection was received by the Pasquali.

The Minerbetti family however felt differently. When the pulpit was completed and ready to be put in the column representing the Minerbetti claim, forcibly and with the claim that this particular column belonged to them.

DECIDED IN COURT

The matter was taken before a court composed of Bishop Antonio [illegible] and other judges. The court found that the Minerbetti had no claim to the column, which was their property. The court ruled that the Rucellai could remove it while even the Minerbetti agreed [illegible] pulpit of equal [illegible] was a fair [illegible] court ruled that the Rucellai could place the pulpit in the church on condition that the Rucellai would remove it when ever the Minerbetti agreed to replace it

TAKE TIME!

By K. E. Reeves

Yes, "take time," the precious commodity we are given when we come into this world. For some, time is measured in hours for others, it is often more than four score and ten.

What we do with that "Time" rests solely with us. We can either make it something to be proud of, or something that, when the end of the span comes we hang our heads in shame for the precious "Time" we have wantonly wasted.

In this season of giving we should take "Time" to think of those around us less fortunate than ourselves. Just a little "Time" spent with a senior citizen who perhaps cannot get out to see the lights of Christmas, the beautifully decorated homes. How much "Time" would it take to call on them and perhaps take them for a ride to see the splendor that depicts Christmas.

Barring this, you could share your own hopes and yes, perhaps even your fears, and they in the wisdom of their years would be happy to listen, to comfort, to encourage and even offer advice out of the years of their experience They might even tell you of their Christmases long past and in so doing, travel back in "Time" when they were loved and needed and were happy, not lonely as now

Then there are those confined to hospitals who would be so happy and perhaps uplifted to think that someone in the busy rush of the season took "Time" to look in with a cheering greeting perhaps a jolly card or a small remembrance

What about those friends far away who haven't heard from you for such a long time? How much "Time" does it take to sit down and pen a few lines, just to let those friends know they are in your thoughts.

Dickens wrote, in "Martin Chuzzlewit" "The precious moments are a dying fast." Do your moments fly? And as they fly has each one added to the rest been the accomplishment of some worthwhile task?

There is "Time" for relaxing and it is well spent when one sits quietly, thinking of the blessings that are his. And the blessings are innumerable in this land which we are so fortunate to live in

An abundance of food so no one needs to go hungry to bed. No one lives in fear for their lives This is all so because many people used their "Time" wisely in thinking of others thinking and putting into practise what "Time" and patience and study had done to the betterment of their fellow men

In your round of your daily work, take "Time" to think "What can I do to make this world a better place the world in which I live?" No matter how rushed you may be, or how pre-occupied, like "Time" take to give those you meet a cheery smile, a gentle reply to those you deal with and your "Time" for all. Then your "Time" will have been well spent.

Above all, take the "Time" to be generous in thought, in word, in deed, and follow that great commandment "Love thy neighbor" "Time" then will never hang heavy and it will be time well spent. At the Christmas season, let us all take "Time" for all things. "Time to the Christians and God bless us every one"

"Safe cars and safe roads will never provide immunity from highway accidents so long as drivers, through ignorance or neglect, completely disregard proper driving practices and common courtesy," said W. A. Woodcock, chairman of CHSC's Automotive Engineering Committee.

In its 20th year of service, CARE is helping to feed more than 37,000,000 hungry people on four continents.

To victims of war and disaster, CARE brings food for survival. To victims of the ancient cycle of poverty, disease and ignorance, CARE brings food as a tool for building programs. School lunches turn listless children into alert pupils. Daily milk saves pre-school youngsters from permanent physical and mental damage. Family and hospital rations give health and energy to the sick and undernourished of all ages. Funds for work projects yield economic improvements.

Donations of farm commodities are the mainstay of this vital endeavour. The countries help too: Over the years CARE has developed Partnership Programs whereby local governments supplement possible pay all or part of the costs of bringing these things to their needy.

But the lifeblood of CARE's work is still the individual donor who acts out of compassion and good will, to help persons less fortunate. For millions of the hungry, the CARE package is the only source of help. It is the donor's name and address, presented with the CARE package, that gives it meaning. Packages are made possible by contributions from Canadians are marked with a green Maple Leaf, signifying it is a gift from someone in Canada who cares. To provide CARE's 1965-66 feeding plans will require 8,000,000 food packages, at a dollar per package. Contributions may be addressed simply to "CARE of Canada, Ottawa."

More Job Opportunities

Does automation really mean fewer jobs? At one time not so long ago the majority of people believed that it did, but this attitude seems to be changing. A recent survey conducted among high school students by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce shows that, while a small majority of these young Canadians feel that automation means that there are still fewer jobs available, there is a growing number who regard automation with less fear than before.

The facts seem to justify this change in thinking, too. Despite harrowing automation in the past few years and despite the increasing numbers of people (particularly young people) entering the working force, the number of unemployed at mid-August of this year stood at only 2.8% of the available labour supply. This is remarkable, too. In addition, salaries and wages are the highest in Canada's history and prices are relatively stable, denoting a higher living standard than ever before. It may be that the automation which Canadian industry needs to successfully meet the challenges of world competition will result, not in fewer but in more job opportunities.

FARM ACCOUNTING

By now we shouldn't have to convince anyone of the advantages of keeping accounts and records. It might just do any harm, however, to list some of the less obvious reasons for keeping records.

The most often thought of reason is for income tax filing purposes of course. Records which simply list income and expenses are sufficient for this, but to really know where your farm business is going these records have to tell you the enterprise which was responsible for that income or expenditure. Records can also tell you whether your pig is worth more or less than you were last year, but a simple statement of income and expenses here won't.

A Farm Business Analysis done by the Alberta Department of Agriculture Extension Branch is probably the ultimate in making use of your records at present but a good set of records will tell you an awful lot of the same things without so much digging. For instance, if you add all your grain sales and harvest your steers, a list of farm expenses and income will show a profit overall, but good records would show a profit for your cropping enterprise and a loss on your feeders. Your planner would tell you what you should have done.

Because there is quite a difference in the type of records kept and in what the different types can tell you, it important to use a good account book. The Feed Grain Previews Farm Account Book is a very good one. You may obtain one at the District Agriculturist's office for $1. The time to get it is now.

TREES

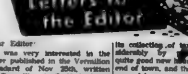
Order your trees now for planting next spring. Delaying longer will order too long may mean that you'll miss out altogether or not get all the trees you want. Most types are in good supply.



Dear Editor:

I was very interested in the letter published in the Vermilion Standard of Nov. 18th, written by Councillor A C Underdown. I was hoping that someone other than myself would answer it as I do not like controversy.

First of all, I must remind you that the most important people in a town are those who pay taxes and they are deserving of more kindly thought and consideration than is usually given them. If a town has failed to get a taxpayer, it has not lost anything.

I expect you must know that most of the people who pay taxes in this town are elderly people, some quite old, and some very sick. My wife and I could give names, be censored of the letter.

You complain that the number of persons at the Nov 11th public meeting were less than those signing the petition to call a meeting. Did it never occur to you that some elderly people find that they are not physically able to attend a meeting, as much as some, but are quite able to sign a paper in their own home. I have a very close relative in that unfortunate physical condition. These people although they are only taxpayers, have not lost interest and quite aware of the facts that many letter says they do not finish. These facts were quite clearly stated in the Vermilion Standard some time before the Nov 11th meeting.

The letter indicated that you do not like attending council meetings, complaining about attending some twenty of these dealing with the problems of the town by laws. You surely must know Mr Underdown that it's not compulsory for you as a councillor to attend any council meeting and it's a fact that councillors are paid for those meetings that they do attend and it's also a fact that ten or fifteen years ago the council raised the pay to themselves for attending those meetings and perhaps it's a fact that you were a member of the council at that time and it's also a fact Mr Underdown that councillors can, if they wish, resign from the council.

Your letter states that if the taxpayers would look favorably on the by law for water and sewer work to be done at the west end of town that this property which serviced with water and sewer and built on, would increase the assessed value of town property and because of this, the taxes would collect more there.

I agree with you that it should and because of this it should stop the increase of taxes in the old part of town. But it will not. The following sentences will perhaps prove to you to figure that you and I are wrong in this. Mr Underdown.

During the last few years the town has been able to increase its collection of taxes very considerably by [illegible] quite good new additions at the east end of town, and there has also been several large new store buildings added to the town, and taxes on [illegible]

In the year 1965 my tax notice from the town office indicated that my taxes were nearly that I owed the town $236.86 for that year. The tax notice for 1966 had the same property taxed at $280.35, an increase of $62.39. These figures do show that you and I can be wrong on what should happen, or perhaps it shows poor management on the part of the council of the past few years.

There are other things in your letter that could be drawn to the attention of the readers of the Standard, but to stated before, I do not like writing letters so will conclude by signing my name.

H. J Payne

(A taxpayer who has paid taxes for perhaps a longer period than anyone now living in Vermilion.)

I am sure many others wish to [illegible] the Standard for publishing this letter and I hope that every member of its staff will have a happy new year

FORMER DERWENT MAN DIRECTS SAFETY LANDING AT SYDNEY, N.S.

Department of Transport officials, under airport manager Doug Willmer, displayed great coolness in a crisis one Tuesday recently when an American super constellation landed at Sydney with a reported b o m b aboard, according to press reports.

The news item in the Sydney Daily Herald goes on to unfold in lengthy story of all the precautions initiated were taken as officials ready in a very short time, every possible emergency taken care of, the passengers all removed by vehicles which were waiting, and the big super plane thoroughly searched. Mr. Willmer comes in for praise and commendation throughout the whole story.

Mr. Willmer, whose sister Mrs. Harold Cornell resides at Derwent, became manager of the Department of Transport airport just seven months ago, coming from Yellowknife, N.W.T. He had previously served at Grande Prairie and Fort Smith. The airport at Sydney is being entirely renewed and rebuilt at a cost of some two million dollars.

Personal income taxes represent less than 20 per cent of the total of all taxes paid in a year.

Trinity Lutheran Church Scene of Pretty Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Trinity Lutheran Church, Edmonton, Nov. 27th when Jannette, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin McLean of Edmonton and formerly of the Kinsboe district, south of Vermilion, was united in marriage to Mr. Daryl Kantz, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kantz of Edmonton.

The Rev. Ian Hunsbein officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with red and white carnations. Given in marriage by her father the bride looked radiant in a floor-length gown of peau-de-soie and satin fashioned with a bell-shaped skirt and cardinal train. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a rhinestone crown, her only jewellery was a pearl pendant, a gift from the groom. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses with rose buds on satin streamers.

The bridal attendants were the Misses Lorraine Makl and Bernice Schneider who wore identical gowns of shocking pink satin with bell skirts, bow tops and floral headpieces. Each carried a bouquet of white roses.

Wanda and Wendy, twin sisters of the bride, acted as flower girls, wearing timeless aqua peau-de-soie over satin dresses and carrying baskets of red and white roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. James McDonald and Mr. Dennis Park. Ushers were Mr. Wilton McLean, brother of the bride, and Mr. Scotty Whitworth, brother in law of the groom.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece dress in aqua with white accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

The groom's mother wore a two-piece blue and gold dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the Meadowlark reception r o o m where the bride's table was covered with a three-tier wedding cake.

The toast to the bride was given by Mr Allen Anderson to which the groom ably responded and thanked the attendants, parents and all who helped make the day such a memorable one.

A dance followed in Meadow Ark Hall to the music of Chuck Skinner and his orchestra.

After a honeymoon trip to the west coast the happy couple are residing in Edmonton where the groom is employed by the CN Railways.

Out-of-town guests were from Neilburg, Wainwright, Vermilion, Swan Hills, Calgary, Calmar Devon and Mulhurst.

He will be off his feet for sometime but luck is stated for him for a complete recovery.

EXCELLENT CONCERT

The annual school concert was a rising up program. The carol. lers were good, accompanied by Mrs. Roebuck at the piano Each item was a well rehearsed one and admirably played. The "Truth Machine" really worked, finally the dad's untruth made it blow up. The fun lady played by Dale MacFadyen was well done and so it was by everyone Much credit is due the teachers and pupils who really co-operated to produce a fine program. A very heart warming part was when the very tiny tots and the Grade 1 were offering to share their bag of treats with some of "us" grown ups. Santa, looking quite, not as never to grow older.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

The Alberta Liberals may but have convinced themselves but they seem to have themselves sold on the idea that they can put up a powerful showing in the next provincial election — wherever that occurs. Four candidates are now in the running for leadership of the party with the winner to be chosen at a Calgary convention in a few month.

The most optimistic of the four, 35-year-old Bob Russell of Edmonton, who has built up a small town appeal may help, says the party wants 33 seats in the next provincial election. The others seeking the post left vacant by Jack Harriet last spring are Richard D. Broughton, a Peace River lawyer; Andrew Barry, a Calgary alderman and Wilner J. Pronland, a lawyer from Three Hills.

While he has never run for office Mr Russell is probably the most familiar with the party organization and election problems. He has been chief liberal organizer for the past couple of years. Mike Maccagno, the MLA for Lac La Biche-McMurray constituency, is the party's executive secretary. Mr. Hunter's resignation, is not in the running.

HEAVY WATER PLANT

Three Alberta areas are in the running for a $63,000,000 heavy water plant, which would include its construction in Edmonton, Calgary or Lethbridge. For weeks ago because Dynamic Power Corporation of Calgary couldn't meet all the terms.

Cold Lake, Lac La Biche and Grande Prairie are the areas interest in acquiring the plant which will produce heavy water used in nuclear reactors.

SUNDAY AT THE ALLIANCE CHAPEL

Pastor J. H. Bell was in charge of services at the Alliance Chapel on Sunday, Dec. 19. The pastor's topic in the morning was "What About the Angels?" Special music was provided vocally by Russell Rogers, a solo, "I'd Rather Have Jesus," a duet by Mrs. J. H. Bell and Don Swanson "Father Planned It All". A trio consisting of Mrs. Bell, Don Swanson and Russell Kuptz sang "According To The Riches" Mrs. Bell played by Lyle Swanson and E. Schultz "It Took A Miracle" Piano solo by Jacqueline Swanson and E. Schultz "Christmas Story". Special music was provided vocally by Russell Rogers, a solo, "I'd Rather Have Jesus," a duet by Mrs. J. TO HELP SMALL INDUSTRY

The Department of Industry and Development will expand its research services to small and medium-sized Alberta industries.

While the legislature must still approve the final scheme it seems that it could breathe new life into secondary industry in the province. Basically it would provide reports on what can be manufactured economically in Alberta and where there may be markets for new products. Anyone wishing to go into business would have access to the information on which to base a decision. Meanwhile oil and gas authorities say they can see no slow-down in the record activity and record revenues in the industry.

The skyrocketing of construction costs again figured in the news last week. The health department said it would help alleviate the shortage of hospital beds about 2,000 by building the lowest tender received for the job next year — more than twice the estimated $100,000

By R. WILSON

We have read of the devastation that has been wrought in many areas of the world as a result of water erosion, and have probably thought that this could never happen to us. Now it has happened.

Early in the summer of 1965 heavy rains washed the loose, unwanted soil from hundreds of slopes that had never known the feeling of a plough. Gullies like open wounds gape at the bottom of many of our slopes and mar the beauty of our landscape. Drainage these scars, and effectively preventing their occurrence will be a major problem.

On many farms the gullies are neither long nor deep, and may easily be filled by the farmer with his own equipment. In other cases after the land is leveled and reseeded it will be as productive as before provided that reasonable care is taken to cultivate and to sow across the slopes rather than up and down them. Where the gully is deeper however are gouged out so deeply that it is impossible for machinery and even hazardous for livestock. In order to treat properly this type of gully, help should be called in.

Your District Agriculturist at Vermilion, and your Agricultural Fieldman at Kitscoty are available to assist you with this problem. Where it is deemed necessary, County equipment may be hired at a reasonable rate and the work supervised by your agricultural fieldman Gully control is also available at a reduced price when it is to be used for gully control.

We suggest that anyone with a gully problem contact your District Agriculturist Morley Dowhin at Vermilion or your Agricultural Fieldman Ralph Wilson at Kitscoty

TREES FOR 1966
By R. WILSON

Once again trees are available free to farmers through the Alberta Department of Agriculture Order now. The deadline is January 31. Trees for 1966 spring delivery.

All that you do is to decide on the kinds of trees and the number of each that you will require. Fill in and sign the application form that is provided at the D.A. Office in Vermilion or at the County office in Kitscoty. The trees will be delivered at your farm by a County truck free of charge. The County tree planting machine will be on hand to plant the trees where you want them at a nominal charge.

In the past weed control in shelterbelts has been a worry to some and sometimes a rather discouraging business. It is now possible, however, by means of the new chemicals mixed properly and effectively prevent weed growth from getting started under the trees without harming the trees themselves. This may be worth your investigating.

Through the winter months the Agricultural Office will be in the office in Kitscoty most of the time. You are cordially invited to come in and discuss your tree planting plans with him Our phone is 846-2241. Kitscoty

Will 1966 Be A Healthier Year?

The odds are it will be. Each new year brings important medical discoveries. We can already control Polio, Diphtheria, Smallpox, Mastoids and Tuberculosis. 1966 will unveil new medical miracles. We stock new drugs as soon as available.

FEEDING HABITS
How Can I Guide My Child's Eating Habits?

(Concluded)

So there may be a mother who has developed a habit of correcting and eliminating the causes and her child remains an obstinate feeding problem.

The first thing to remember is that this problem did not develop overnight and consequently will not be corrected overnight. The second thing to remember is that eating is a basic instinct. People like people who eat and at the moment, your child will not deliberately starve himself to an indefinite period And finally the third thing to remember is that because the child does not react at once is normal.

One parent began a corrective program of proper food habits. She carry it through firmly and logically and do it in a way that your child does not feel he is being belittled.

Offer small portions of tasty food. Be prepared to add more to your child at the regular meal-time. Make certain you do not receive snacks between meals. Allow a reasonable time (20 to 30 minutes) at each feeding and at the end of this period, even though your trumb not have been eaten, remove all of the food from the table. It is most important that no comments be made and that your child does not suspect any worry on the part of the parents.

During this corrective period make sure that the child drinks plenty of water at all times. A period of 48 hours is usually the maximum period of corrective training required to achieve the necessary results Beyond that, your doctor's care is advised

Paradise Valley Christmas Capers

After several days of careful planning and preparation by the active Valley Hall committee a lovely tree and supper was provided in preparation for the annual Christmas Capers dance on Dec. 22nd.

In the centre of the gym floor stood a real Christmas tree decorated with hundreds of white lights and colored balls. Gifts for trees were placed intermittently under the edges of the dance floor. Each was adorned with blue lights, artificial snow and was tied with blue ribbon. At the back of the gym a huge fireplace had been constructed. On the back wall two series of three small Christmas trees each had been put up. The side walls were filled with appropriate drawings. On one side was Santa in his sleigh pulled by his reindeer On the other were huge carnival scenes centring around the ferris wheel. A huge sign "Santa Claus Sleigh" had been refinished and painted red and was also used on the stage with Santa sitting proudly in it By means of artificial lights each individual part of the decorations was featured to its best advantage

Music for this gala event was adequately supplied by the Meridian Lamplighters who began at 8 p.m. and continued at approximately 1:30 Through out the evening a delicious buffet lunch was provided by the canteen class who kept the tables in abundant supply.

Opportunity Classroom To Be Provided In County

At its December meeting, the School Committee of the County of Vermilion River accepted the principle of providing an "Opportunity Classroom" if enough students to warrant it are available in any centre. This decision was made following a study of the needs for special education by the Superintendent of Schools, County school principals, and the senior nurse of the Minburn-Vermilion Health Unit. Dr. R. E. Rees, Director of Special Education, Department of Education, was in the County recently in this connection.

Speaking at a Principals' Association meeting in the County office, Dr. Rees recommended that consideration be given to the special educational needs of slow-learning pupils who cannot cope with a regular school program.

Opportunity Room Classes normally have quite small enrolments, usually from 10 to 14 students. Nevertheless, it is anticipated that it may be difficult to assemble sufficient numbers of children who might benefit from such a class in any given center. Although there are thought to be two or three dozen children who could be candidates they are scattered throughout the considerable area of the County.

If an Opportunity Room is to be established, it is probable that Vermilion would be its location. Children from other parts of the County might be boarded in Vermilion so that they could attend the Opportunity Class. In this case it is probable that a boarding allowance could be obtained through the County to assist parents or guardians in meeting the additional expenses involved.

Anyone desiring further information or clarification in the matter of the proposed Opportunity Class are invited to contact Mr H G Sheck, Superintendent of Schools for the County.

Brave New World

Ready or not, Saturday is the big day for millions of us who will start paying into the Canada Pension Fund. And with the big day so close, it's absolutely amazing how much misunderstanding and confusion surrounds the matter especially in the offices where payroll deductions and contributions are to be made.

It becomes quite obvious that the two million dollar advertising campaign of some months ago was merely to popularize the program and not to explain it. Which is ridiculous, since it didn't need to be popularized in any case — its tax and contribute fits in like it is not.

What should have been important was getting out the proof — estimating the flaws, and improving the whole structure. It becomes increasingly obvious that opposition in Parliament was doing a good job in trying to improve the legislation and the program was launched a month too soon. Business could survive if it offered [illegible] which was so complicated, so biased in its operation so unsound in financing, and so poorly guaranteed.

Of course time will no doubt straighten out many of these problems, but not before they've cost us far more than they need have [illegible]

Change of Emphasis Needed

The 'debunker' is riding high these days. Everywhere you turn verbal sharp-shooters are telling us that Canada has nothing worth celebrating in 1967. Our government is inept, our schools inadequate, our churches worthless and our homes disturbing, so they say. These critics are skilful and they score some direct hits. They also get a ready hearing. There's a sadistic streak in most of us, and we like to watch the other fellow squirm.

No one would deny the need to scrutinize our institutions and our ethics carefully. We must constantly reform and readjust, but it's time to ask where all this destructive mania is taking us.

Much as we may chafe at their limitations, we live by and through these time-tested social groupings. Without them we are homeless and lost. The late Dr. Lothrop Stoddard of Harvard pointed this out clearly. "Civilization is characterized", he wrote, "by political and social organizations composed of individuals capable of sustaining the elaborate complex and handling it as. It will progress just so far as that people has the ability to bear the burden which it entails."

Caustic criticism is easy and interesting but alone, it is unproductive. Nothing could be further from the temper of our founding fathers. They were men of faith — they believed in God, as this country, in themselves — and fortified by that spirit they carved out a nation.

Building workable social structures is a slow, frustrating, unspectacular process — the work of teachers, pastors, administrators, parents. They have a right to ask the attachers for blue-prints and solutions, above all for personal involvement. If they cannot produce the first and are unwilling to dig in themselves, let them hold their fire.

4-H TURKEY SALE

Our most hearty congratulations to Harold Tupper and Vermilion Poultry Club on a very excellent 4-H turkey project sale and equally commendable is the support given the sale by local merchants and businessmen and the population in general.

Tom class: Peggy Snelgrove, Marion Dicke, Lois Pilgate, Brent Dixon, Robert Dixon, Emily Herman, Douglas Stevenson, Susan Good, Eric Snelgrove and Wendy Cameron.

The champion bird was purchased by Harvester's Tom Boy store for the record price of $80.00. The reserve champion was bought by the Vermilion Co-op Association for $60.00. Other large purchasers were the Canadian Legion, Snelgrove Construction, Jas. Green, Craig's, Vermilion Auction Mart, Mrs. Van Waveringe, Dr. Pyne and D. E. Hines. The average price for the sale was about $12.25 per bird or 50 cts. per pound.

So once again congratulations club members and a sincere thank you to the buyers.

A YEAR IN RETROSPECT AND IN PROSPECT

As we look back over the past year we find many things to be thankful for. Farm prices were generally good — not over last winter was there the weather was quite favourable. Heavy rains in spring delayed seeding for the sale was about $12.25 and moisture conditions couldn't have been better. A short period of extremely hot weather along with a mild rust outbreak reduced yields but hastened the maturity as a result many late sown crops escaped severe frost damage. The good growing weather resulted in excellent pastures and a crop of heavier than average calves. Some extremely poor harvest weather eventually gave way to one of the finest harvesting years. The past year looks pretty good in retrospect.

Now what about the year to come? Let's hope the predictions are right with regard to prices for most farm produce, wrong in a few cases and that the weatherman sees fit to please most of the people most of the time — and that will keep him busy.

A very happy and prosperous New Year to all.

THE BUSINESS OF FARMING TELECONFERENCE

Means of reducing risk and stabilizing farm income will be stressed in CBC television course "This Business of Farming". Produced by the CBC in cooperation with the Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba Departments of Agriculture, the program will be carried on CBC and affiliated TV stations from 10:30 to 11:30 every morning during the week of January 10 to 14.
In addition to government and university personnel, many farm operators will take part. Of importance in the course, "This Business of Farming" again this year. A considerable amount of the filming was done on a number of farms and the views of the operators vary from brief appearances to fairly comprehensive commentaries on their operations. More emphasis will be placed on the many similar farms this year than has been done in the past but the same principles hold true for any type of farm.
Monday's program deals with farmstead planning from the point of view of beautification and labor conservation. Emphasis will be placed on such important factors as economy, wind direction, shelterbelts, tree planting drainage, water, snow drifting and roads.
The Tuesday program will be devoted to wintering the beef herd. Among the topics discussed will be new ideas for fodder storage, feed requirements and ways to produce an ample feed supply.
Wednesday will feature the small farmer and opportunities that are open to him for increasing his income. Among those suggested are expanding livestock enterprises, the use of credit to obtain an economic unit, off-farm alternatives, either full or part-time and student work.
Thursday's program concentrates on the selection of enterprises which offer the greatest income stability.
On Friday, "This Business of Farming" will deal with business organization including partnerships, leases, minimizing risks, estate planning, wills, and so on.
This cold weather we are having right now makes all of us want to eat and also hot drinks but not neglect those fruit beverages that are good on any day, at any time, and wake-uppers as well as being nutritious.
If you have been wondering what the difference is between a number of these drinks, perhaps this will clear up the situation.
FRUIT JUICES — These are the juices from real fruit. Most fruit juices are sweet. Some have pulp added. Prune juice is the exception where water is needed to thin the thick rich pulp. Each label tells if the juice has been sweetened.
FRUIT DRINKS — These contain little or no actual fruit juice. They are made mainly of water, sugar, water, fruit flavoring and color. They are not the same as fruit juice.
FRUIT NECTARS — These are fruit juices with some pulp, pulp, water, sugar and citric acid added.
BLENDED FRUIT JUICES — These are combinations of sweetened fruit juices with orange-grapefruit and pineapple-grapefruit as the two most familiar.
VEGETABLE JUICES — Pure tomato juice probably is the most popular. Mixed vegetable juices are also available. Those labelled "cocktail" mean the juice has been seasoned.
A wide array is available in prices as well as quality. Most of the juices and drinks are reasonable.
Make use of these drinks to add interest spice to your meals as well as good nutritional value to your menus. Remember that a fruit drink is not the same as a fruit juice. Read the labels on the cans to see what you are getting.
Buy powdered, liquid or frozen juice, whatever is most convenient for you. Canada's Food Guide calls for two servings of fruit or juice including a source of vitamin C among the day's meals. Tomato, pineapple, unsweetened apple juice.

VERMILION HERITAGE HOUSE

(Opening in the Spring)

What a wonderful thing it is to have a great and noble heritage! Do we always give due honor to what we have?

There is a well-known saying:

"It is a great heritage for a man to come of good stock".

For many years there have been those who with filial loyalty have sought to preserve for posterity the spirit and achievements of our forefathers. They have wanted their children and their children's children to know something of the stuff their forefathers were made of, to understand the ventures they undertook, to appreciate the courage, the foresight, the hard work and the resolution with which they faced and solved the problems of their day. They have wanted them to see and know the handmade tools, which at first were about all the pioneer had, the log cabins where the rains beat in between the logs, the loft where in winter a person sleeping could wake up with a pile of drifted snow on his bed, the early primitive machines which began to lighten farm labour, the early crude stoves on which the housewife struggled to prepare meals, the heirlooms which every family treasured, the hand-worked quilts, the knitted garments, the embroidered table linens taken out only for special occasions and the old pieces of furniture, most of them handmade and many of them the product of some member of the family. How better can one tell the story of our fathers and mothers than by preserving and exhibiting things so intimately associated with their lives. We need your items to add to the hundreds we now have in order to place a good museum in Vermilion.

WANTED

Clocks, watches, lamps of all kinds, old dishes, shaving mugs, moustache cups, toilet sets, tobacco pipes, eye glasses, army medals, hat pins, odd trinkets to make up displays. Old furniture, phonographs, washing machines, churns, old clothes, irons and telephones, old pictures, books, brass, copper and iron pots, sleigh bells, cow bells, Indian relics, old guns, regardless of condition, player pianos and spools, organs.

ALSO WANTED

Old cars, trucks, machinery, anything that can be restored. We need a few more old car license plates. We would appreciate names and history of articles if possible, to create interest to all local people and those who may be passing through.

Dewberry Hi-C Organized; Present Christmas Pageant

In the early part of November the Dewberry tree-agers met with Rev Richardson of Kitscoty and Mrs. Allan Farberg as councillor, to form their first Hi-C Group. An executive was voted in and meetings have been held weekly since that time.

TOBOGGAN PARTY

On Dec. 11th the social event was a tobogan party, followed by a casserole supper, sing-song and games. The Kitscoty Hi-C Group were invited for the afternoon and evening. Mrs. Georgina Probst, Mrs. Daphne Gardner, Mrs. Eernice Applegate and Rev. Mr. Richardson were chaperoning guests.

CHRISTMAS CAROLLING

After several rousing games the Hi-C Group journeyed to Chandonald on the evening of Dec 19th where they carolled from door to door. Cars were supplied by Don Braithwaite, Ron MacLean and Tom Applegate.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN DONATION GIVEN TO THE

Donations given to the cured lves amounted to $20.21 and this amount was forwarded to the Crippled Children's Association in Edmonton. The cash donations though welcome, weren't half as enjoyable as seeing the happy faces of the little children, in their night attire brought to the door by their parents. This really enthralled the teen-age carollers with the true sense of the Christmas spirit.

APPRECIATE KINDLY ACT

The young people were grateful to be invited into the Kade

GIFTS TO CHILDREN

The week before Christmas gifts were brought to the secretary, Lynda MacLean, and sent to the children in the Oliver Mental Hospital.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

On Wednesday, Dec 22nd, the Hi-C presented the Christmas Message in the Dewberry United Church, taking the form of a pageant. The carols were arranged to fit in and around the Christmas story. Rev. Richardson opened the service with prayer. The Hi-C Christmas message emphasized the simplicity of the Holy Birthday reminding us not to lose this simplicity with over-celebration. The four young people narrating the story from the Bible were Miss Rhoda Fleming, Miss Frances Brath, Miss Sy Sims, Appa Zak, and Mr. Randy Weed.

The choir of the church was arranged to look very effective with the young people in their usual manner and the Public School Choir was also seated in the audience. The Choral Reading was ably rendered by Mrs. Monica Hunter, Mrs. Wednesday Anderson and Mrs. Jack Morhood. The Shepherds entering from the back of the church were greatly enhanced by their costumes. The Wisdom Three were Gail Rosa, Bobbinson, Those inside were Jeannie Bellewood, Lorna Bellewood, Lorna Bellewood, annual outside participated in by the congregation assisted by Misses Phyllis Braithwaite, Jean McDermider and Jackie Pearson. After the carols and the shepherds entered dressed in gold mantles and bearing large cone gifts from tenders their gifts to the Christ Child. They were Melvin Bates, Danny Rosalie Bellewood and Miss Zonia Robinson. While the Hi-C Group, in position, sang "The First Noel" the three kings entered through the main door of the church, and up the aisle to the stable. The brought gifts of myrrh, frankincense and gold. The kings were Dwaine Rainey, David Applegate and Gloria Bates.

Due to the fact that Mr. Bill Hoover had broken his leg prior to the evening of the pageant, the revised backstage and assisted Mrs. Geraldine Farberg in

Robson High Basketball Teams In Twin Victories

(By Margo Husby, P.R.O.)

On Thursday, Dec. 16th, the R.H.S. Marauders played host to the Wainwright Commandos.

GIRLS VICTORIOUS 50-49

For their first game of the season, the Wainwright girls certainly gave the Marauders a lot of trouble. Red-headed Margi McMaster, with her continuous passing and quick movements, kept her team in the game, even when it was losing. There were several moments during the game that a Vermilion victory seemed doubtful. For much of the first half few Marauder plays came off and the accuracy of shots was sadly lacking. But the girls perked up and the score rose. Scoring was spread fairly evenly throughout both teams. Lynn Brimacombe from Vermilion and Erika Fuerger of Wainwright were the only players fouled out.

SCORING

Vermilion W. Brown 8, F. Waldenberger 7, G. Kennedy 6, L. Brimacombe 3, Richardson 2, M. Minchuk 2, Anderson 2

Wainwright B. Fleming 7, F. Fuerger 4, B. Taylor 4, M. Mellado 2, S. Stone 1, D. Ishiro 1

BOYS TAKE GAME 57-42

There was little doubt in the first minds that the Vermilion team would win after the first quarter but the game was not a walkaway by any means. The Commandos put up a valiant fight and stopped many plays that could have meant points for the Marauders. A fast move by Lowe of Wainwright intercepted a pass from Blake Tolsbury to Vic Gillman and put the Commandos in the race. Outstand the Vermilion players were high scorer Blake Tolsbury and Vic Gillman.

Both were exciting games and the next time these two teams meet sparks should fly.

Vermilion B. Tolsbury 23, V. Gillman 15, P. Montreuil 9, K. Pilgate 7, H. Stevens 3, L. Dorey 2, P. Mowchesin 2, R. Herbert 2

Wainwright Marchand 16, Lowe 8, Martin 6, Johnson 4, Baskin 3, Skinner 2

BOYS PARTICIPATE IN VEGREVILLE TOURNEY

There are few basketball fans that win the Marauders to cross the 50's A.A.A. But many have witnessed them at the Vegreville Tournament this Dec. second to have made it into the final of the ball team sport was at its peak.

The first game was played against Salisbury at 12 noon. The Marauders were down one point at the end of the first quarter but led by the scoring of Vic Gillman pulled ahead in the second quarter and remained there throughout the game. At one point Salisbury was only 3 points behind but Vermilion widened the gap considerably and defeated the other team 53 to 31.

WATERFOWL DEVELOPMENT

One of the most remote water fowl developments established by Ducks Unlimited is the Flatbed Lake project 50 miles south of Lloydminster. The project takes in 1,839 acres and an impounded water shoreline. It is in a forest reserve remote to the extent that outboards difficult to reach even with a 4-wheeled drive vehicle. The evidence is strong it is an exceptional water fowl producer.

Vermilion scorers were V. Gillbury. By the end of the third quarter the Marauders had narrowed the gap to 9 points. Victory was in sight! But the Fort Saskatchewan team surprised everyone by scoring 26 points in the final quarter to the 12 made by Vermilion's Vic Gillman and Keo Pilgate. The game ended with Fort Saskatchewan on top 80 to 58.

Vermilion scorers: B. Tidsbury 19, V. Gillman 18, K. Pilgate 6, P. Moncrief 6, R. Hebert 3.

LOSE SECOND GAME

The Fort Saskatchewan team began scoring in the first quarter and the Marauders could do little against them. But as the game progressed the plays began to click and points mounted. It possible the team was playing better than it had against Salisbury. By the end of the third quarter the Marauders had narrowed the gap to 9 points. Victory was in sight! But the Fort Saskatchewan team surprised everyone by scoring 26 points in the final quarter to the 12 made by Vermilion's Vic Gillman and Keo Pilgate. The game ended with Fort Saskatchewan on top 80 to 58.

Vermilion scorers: B. Tidsbury 19, V. Gillman 18, K. Pilgate 6, P. Moncrief 6, R. Hebert 3.

SHARE WITH OTHERS

By
Commissioner Edgar Grinsted
Leader of The Salvation Army in Canada and Bermuda

Sharing is one of life's privileges.

If we could not share Christmas with friends and loved ones, the season would be blank and barely indeed.

In fact, we enjoy most what we share with others . . . the holiday meal, gifts, decorations and festive preparations at home and office. And indeed it is only as we share, that Christmas has real meaning for us, as in this commemorate the Wondrous singularly favored Season, we call Gift that was given to mankind as very centuries ago.

The season's festivities have a warmer glow when we include in our Christmas sharing those who are usually might be forgotten in the rush and pre-occupation of Yuletide preparations . . . lonely senior citizens, homeless men, underprivileged children, shut-ins, mothers, families in need and many others.

It is my prayer that you will make this Christmas a truly a time of sharing, not just in a monetary sense, but in a most personal way, sharing your very best of mind and spirit with others. As you do so, I am confident the miracle of this celebrated season will bring to you as it did to Dickens' Scrooge the true joy of saying

"And to all a Merry Christmas"

Riverton News

We hope that all our readers had a happy Christmas and will go blessed with health and happiness in the New Year.

The weather in the few weeks before Christmas was very good but took a decided turn for the worse on Christmas Eve with snow and fair below zero temperatures. The holiday weekend was very cold but at time of writing had moderated slightly.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Riverton Community held its annual Christmas tree and party for the children of the district on the very fine night of Dec 17th. The hall was filled with parents and children and a most enjoyable evening was spent watching films and singing carols. The highlight of the evening for the children was, of course, the visit of Santa Claus with his bonnie bag overflowed with ice cream for everyone We hope this longtime custom of a district Christmas tree and get together is one which will never die out

WEDDING AND RECEPTION

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Pace who were married on Dec. 20th. The wedding conducted by Rev. Richardson was held in Riverton Hall, followed by a reception for relatives and close friends. Later in the evening open house was held and friends and neighbors gathered to offer congratulations and good wishes to the happy couple

CHRISTMAS VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Len Phillips, Joan and Trustee Clark were home from Mr. Dunnin's in Dewberry. # 10,223 Students Enrolled At University Of Alberta

Final enrolment figures for the [illegible] of Alberta were announced [illegible] of almost 1,000 over last year's figures. In addition, part-time and extramural students and students at affiliated institutions bring the total winter enrolment to 12,754.

It is significant to note that the Faculty of Graduate Studies enrolled 1,128 full-time students, an increase of almost 200 over last year's figures, plus 263 part time and extramural students, making a grand total of 1,408, over 10% of the total registration Dr. A. O. McCalla, Dean of the Faculty, attributes this increase in part to a greater emphasis today on some disciplines within the humanities and social sciences and to the increasing expansion of post graduate work on campus which he estimates will continue to increase steadily for a number of years, especially as new buildings become available with more facilities for graduate research.

The Edmonton Faculty continues to have the largest full-time enrolment with 2,724, followed by Arts with 1,601, and Science with 1,257. The other full-time enrolment figures are as follows: Engineering 890; Business Administration and Commerce 638; Medicine 215; Physical Education 284; Agriculture 201; Pharmacy 212; Dentistry 182; Nursing 177; Law 170; Household Economics 152; Rehabilitation Medicine 91; Medical Laboratory Science 62; and Dental Hygiene 37.

Advantages of Competitive Enterprise System

A study of comparative economic systems can be a valuable vehicle for making Canadians aware of the benefits of our system.

Some of the advantages of our competitive enterprise as it functions in Canada as opposed to the Russian business system include:

- Freedom to start own business;
- Freedom to choose one's occupation;
- Better products at lower prices;
- A higher standard of living;
- Freedom to change one's job;
- Freedom to buy where you want.

Canadian Students Appreciate Automation

Canadian high school students appear to have a better understanding of automation and its values than do American students.

A 1964 survey of American senior high school students indicated that 78% believed automation means fewer jobs whilst a 1965 Canadian Chamber of Commerce survey of graduating high school students indicates only 55% believe automation means fewer jobs.

The Canadian student response indicates a growing appreciation that automation does not necessarily mean fewer jobs but it emphasizes the need for more extensive academic education and skill training.

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

TOO MANY FAT HOGS

Livestock Supervisor A. Rod-don says that 60% of the hogs being sold at the Vermilion Sale-ring are too fat. Of the 1,200 hogs graded in B 50% could have graded A if they were not over-finished. Instead of nearly half of the hogs grading B only 4% would and there is an aver-age spread of $4.50 per hog be-tween grades A and B regardless of the price level. Can we afford to overfinish hogs and then take a loss of $4.50 on top of the extra feed costs?

Mr Reddon points out that marketing weight is another fac-tor in hogs missing A grade. About one-quarter of the B grade hogs are either too heavy or too light. Hogs should be marketed between 180 and 210 pounds with the ideal weight range be-tween 190 to 200 pounds.

Hogs are a business in Al-berta. In numbers marketed Al-berta exceeds the combined pro-duction of B.C., Saskatchewan, Manitoba and the four Maritime Provinces. On that number of hogs the extra money for grade A hogs is really worth taking a look at and striving for.

DAIRY COW TESTING

Do your dairy cows pay their way or are they just boarders? The latest information on the Dairy Herd Improvement Associa-tion of the cows on test Elm 11,128 pounds, with an average butter-fat production of 501.0 lbs. The provincial average milk produc-tion per cow was 6275 lbs.

Dairy farmers making use of the Cow Testing Service are able to build a more profitable dairy herd and individual records of milk and butterfat provide the only safe basis of measuring the profits of a breeding and selec-tion program. Fees for this ser-vice are nominal. Consult your lo-cal district agriculturist's office.

Clandonald Parishioners Farewell Beloved Priest

CLANDONALD - The pa-rishioners and friends of Father Purcell were indeed sorry to learn last week that he was being transferred to Innisfail. Besides the Innisfail Parish, he is being challenged by his work as pastor to some 200 kids between 13 and 18 in the Bowden Boys Institute. His always friendly chat, and ever-willing hand and prayer to help any of us, will be greatly missed in Clandonald.

A farewell party held in the high school auditorium on Tues-day night took the form of a card party, followed by a little concert put on by Sister Lucy and her small pupils. Denis McCormack acted as M.C. Short speeches were made by several. Lynn Mc-Cormack, on behalf of the pupils of the school, expressed how Father Purcell had helped them. Little Siobhan McCormack pre-sented him with a gift on their behalf. Others to speak along the same note of sorrow, were Fr. Kenny of the Vermilion Parish Podiatry on behalf of Derwent parishioners. Sandy MacMillan for St. Andrews Parish and last-by Joe Ryan of Dewberry. Mr. Ryan, on behalf of all, expressed how sorry we were to have Fr. Purcell go, and presented him with a purse of money.

Father Purcell thanked all and assured other things, said how much he had enjoyed his four years here.

Many items were sold out in stores across Canada this week as shoppers rang up their last-ever Christmas sales. The Pharm-aceutical Post reports. Some industry officials say sales volume was even higher than at Christmas in 1964. However, others say the figure is "conservative." An ex-ecutive of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada said "De-partment store sales are a good indicator and on their showing we have enjoyed an unprecedent-ed season." Big-selling items were toys, clothing and expensive giftware such as jewelry

Tigers Outroughed And Outscored By Vegreville

The Vermilion Tigers were outroughed and out-scored 5 to 3 by the Vegreville Rangers on Monday night in the playing of the game postponed from Jan. 3. The visitors thereby increased their lead at the top of the league to 3 points. The game was rough with the heavier Rangers the aggressors. Thirty two penalties were handed out, with the Tigers getting 9 and Rangers 23.

Goalies Ken Brown for Vermilion and Heesing for the Rangers gave sparkling exhibitions of net minding.

Scoring for Vermilion were John Bellcourt from O'Donnell; Townsend unassisted, and John Bellcourt again from brother Lynn and Chwchuta.

Scoring for the Rangers were McArthur 2, Cowan, Halat, and Zukewsky.

Maidstone plays in Vermilion Wednesday, Jan. 12th, while on Wednesday, Jan. 19th Lloydminster meets the Tigers on Vermilion ice. Game time 9 p.m.

Kinsmen Pontiacs Win Two From Jasper Place Lions

The Vermilion Kinsmen Midget Pontiacs won two exhibition hockey games over the week-end, taking both ends of a double-header from the Jasper Place Lions.

The local Midgets looked sharp in both games with three goals Jones, MacLean and Woywitka had two each, while singlers were to R. Fenske, Eddy Welsh, Heinemann, Gilbertson and Gibson was the big gun for the visiting Jasper Place Lions with 4 goals Lazarus scored twice and Foster rounded out the scoring with his lone tally. Although outweighed by the Lions, the Kinsmen Pontiacs were not outplayed. A good combination of offensive power and defensive ability paid off

SUNDAY GAME 3-1

The Sunday game proved to be much more interesting. The Lions looked like a different team and led 1-0 at the end of the first period. At 14:15 mark of the second period, R. Farkas put the Lions ahead with assists going to Gibson and Gilbertson on unassisted goal by Malin early in the third stanza, the Pontiacs were ahead 2-1. The Lions were also more even from Malin's stick, his second unassisted goal at 13:55. Pins were variously treated to a fine game of hockey and congratulations are in order for the local Midgets Coach Ernie Sinclair and Manager Burl Bodnarek

VISITORS BILLETED AND ENTERTAINED

On Saturday night the Lions were billeted with players of the Kinsmen Pontiacs. After Sunday's game Jasper was served supplies in the Kinsmen Play room from both Kinsmen members and wives, various refreshments were served and a brief visit. The ball room is prepared for the Lions, was much appreciated and Bellcourt sent to Pina Colada, Amy Brewer and Irene Smith for helping.

It is hoped that in the future a return visit may be paid the Lions. Undoubtedly they will, at that time be a much improved team.

Fans who have not seen the local Midgets in action have missed some excellent hockey. How about making their next game your game?

MRS. E. MARRYA BLADES Wainwright — Phone 842-3464 Vermilion — Phone 853-3953

There is no substitute for being well dressed. All you want is clothes which are becoming to us, suited to our way of life and at a price we can afford to pay. Today's designers and manufacturers have done a great deal to make this possible. Just compare the easy - care fabrics and simple, functional styles we have today with those at the beginning of this century.

The ideal wardrobe need not be large, but should provide appropriate and becoming outfits for each of the usual occasions in your life. This means that you have not only the right dress, suit, or separates, but also the required accessories, to complete the ensemble. The following should help you to plan a functional and attractive wardrobe.

WHAT DO YOU DO?

Climate, location, where you go, what you do, and the people you are with all have bearing on the kind of clothes you need.

A BLUE TOWN COLORING

Skin, eyes and hair. Then experiment with colors and color combinations before a mirror until you discover those most becoming to you. You may find it practical to build your wardrobe around one or two colors so that everything will be harmonious.

For a taller more slender look, wear vertical lines, one color outfits or subtle color contrasts. For a taller more slender look, wear vertical lines, one color outfits or subtle color contrasts. Avoid dull finished fabrics, smooth or slightly uneven textures. plain fabrics or those with small all-over or indistinct patterns or prints.

For a shorter, more rounded look, wear horizontal lines, two-color outfits or sharp color contrasts, rough, crisp, bulky or napped fabrics; large prints or patterns, stripes, checks and plaids.

Dynamite Twins Beat the Juveniles

(Vegreville Observer)

Vegreville Juveniles lost a hockey game Thursday, Dec. 23 in the Recreation Centre to two players by the names of Dave Beattie and Darrin Heinemann, who could be called the Dynamite Twins of the Eastern Alberta Juvenile Hockey League.

Playing the league leading Vermilion Bob Cats, the Vegreville boys more than held their own in the first twenty minutes of play against the opposition, and when the first period ended the tie score was tie 3-3, but that was it as far as Vegreville was concerned. Vermilion, led by the "Twins", took over and romped in four unanswered goals in the second period. The third period was scoreless.

After a first period which saw Vegreville hold its own on goals by Rick Hay, Ken Skoropad and Don Ihary, Beattie and Heinemann ran wild with Beattie scoring five goals and Heinemann assisting on them all. Vermilion came out on top by a score of 7 to 3.

A.G.T. Reduces Long Distance Call Rates

For the third time since 1958, long distance telephone rates for certain types of calls will be reduced.

Alberta Government Telephones, on behalf of the Trans-Canada Telephone System, announced Monday that on March 6th it will reduce rates for night time and Sunday, station to station calls over distances of more than 600 miles. Rates for weekday, person-to person and "short haul" calls will be unchanged. Trans-Canada is made up of Canada's eight major telephone organizations.

Reductions will range from 5 to 35 cents for the first three minutes. The new maximum rate for a three-minute call between any two places in Canada will be $1.95. At present the maximum is $2.50. This means that a night time or Sunday station to station call between St John's, Nfld. and Victoria B.C. or between Halifax and Yarmouth will cost $1.95.

This reduction will be the 5th in Trans-Canada telephone rates in thirty years. For example, an Ottawa-Edmonton call that cost $5.25 in 1935, cost $2.50 in 1945, $2.40 in 1950, $2.30 in 1962 costs $2.25 now, and will cost $1.95 under the new plan. Savings to telephone users under the plan are estimated at $750,000 annually.

Reduced "long haul" long distance rates against a background of increasing prices for commodities and services have been made possible by increase in volume of long distance call by the use of Direct Distance Dialing facilities and the more efficient transmission methods

NO SKYLON

It was announced by H. C. Colborne, Minister of Public Works, that after careful consideration of all factors involved the Government has decided not to proceed with construction of a Centennial Saxion Restaurant, originally proposed as part of the Provincial Centennial Museum and Archives project.

Many factors in the decision was the announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway, Husky Oil Company and other private interests would build at Calgary a Skyline Restaurant of substantially greater proportions and cost than was contemplated by the Government.

It is the view of the Government that public funds should not be used to compete with or in any way which private enterprise is prepared to carry out.

1966 License Plates Royal Blue on White

New Alberta motor vehicle license plates, on sale March 1st, 1966 will retain the present white background but letter and number colour will change from red to royal blue.

The two main factors influencing this decision are the ease of identification that the white background affords and considerable economies possible in production costs by standard printing basic background plate colour. During an current year it is often necessary to order additional supplies of the current year license at a time when the following year plates are being manufactured. With a standard background colour the production costs remain constant and no change in production methods is required to be made.

First letters for the year will be "H", "J" and "K" and it is pointed out that although these letters are not intended as indication of registration in geographical areas, it has tend to work out this way due to the manner in which the plates are manufactured by ordered and distributed. Thus if your it will be found that most Edmonton vehicles will carry the letter "X" Calgary will have "J" plates, north of Highway 16 will carry the letter "Z" while points south will have "K". After the initial distribution, plates are issued as available and may bear no relation to location.

|---|---|
| Private cars 1964 | 493,638 |
| 1965 | 508,677 |
| Commercial 1964 | 164,050 |
| 1965 | 169,351 |
| Motorcycles and Scooters 1964 | 6,500 |
| 1965 | 6,771 |

Based on the record for the first nine months of 1965 the number of new vehicles registered in the province is expected to reach the 100,000 mark before the end of the year. The number will be over.

Alberta Tour of Centennial Caravan No. 7

Eight huge caravans, each composed of eight 72-foot truck and trailer units, will tour Canada in 1967, taking the story of Canada to the people of Canada. Inside the trailers, exhibits, dioramas and pictures will trace the history of Canada's exploration, exploitation and development from the time before the coming of the white man to the present day.

The Centennial Caravan No. 7 will visit 20 communities throughout Alberta, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon in 1967, entering the province at Milk River on May 1, and leaving from Drumheller on November 2.

During its tour the Caravan will travel 8,000 miles, and will make 85 exhibit stops. All sites have been surveyed and recommendations for improvements made where necessary. In addition to the caravan's own exhibits, a grandstand will be provided, and the chief of the Wains and Caravans Division of the National Centennial Commission, Mr. J. J. Malden has expressed the hope that this area will be used to present local talent of a nature suitable to the occasion. Folk singing, dancing, pageants plays or musical presentations would enhance the exhibit, and other local celebrations pertaining to the commemoration of Canada's Centennial of Confederation may be planned to coincide with the Caravan's visit.

Any further information pertaining to the caravan or other Centennial events planned for 1967 may be obtained by contacting Mr. J. R. D Findlay Centennial Coordinator for Alberta 421 Legislative Building Edmonton

Capital Report

By John Warren

Well, winter finally got around to the capital. And the work of 30-below weather seemed to have about the same effect on political activity as it did on vehicles — both were pretty impossible to start.

Only one opposition spokesman made himself heard at all — and he really would had been bothered. It seems that talk about a formal residence for the Lieutenant-Governor got Social Credit thinking a little. The Calgary Liberal suggested that, if he said, the wealthy city

Health Unit Notes

THE FACTS ABOUT THE COMMON COLD

Has your cough been hanging around for a month or more? Then you have a chronic cough. It doesn't matter that you cough only in the morning when you get up, or only at night when you lie down. If you have been coughing for a month or more, your cough is chronic. Maybe you cough only during the winter and you feel fine the rest of the year. That means enough is a chronic cough.

But I bet everybody coughs from time to time. The common cold, for instance, is often followed by a cough that can last as long as two weeks. But if your cough following a cold hangs on longer than usual, it may be developing into a chronic cough. If there is a [illegible] of fresh, with enough [illegible] pain, or blood in the stuff you cough up, you should see your doctor immediately, even though your cough may not have lasted more than a few days.

CIGARETTE COUGH

Do you smoke more than a pack of cigarettes a day? If you do, you're considered a heavy smoker. Heavy cigarette smoking can cause a chronic cough. But don't dismiss a cough that hangs on as a "cigarette cough". That cigarette cough of yours is serious. Indeed it means that your excessive smoking has damaged your breathing passages.

You may be so used to your cigarette cough that you won't tell when something new has been added, like you coughing more than you used to." For surgery at a time? If so, you're coughing up more phlegm (mucus) or streaks of blood. Any of these happenings may be a sign that something is wrong in addition to your cigarettes.

A chronic cough is not a disease in itself. It is a sign of something wrong with the breathing system. That's why it isn't smart to take cough medicine for more than a week or two unless your doctor tells you to. Medicine may help with the cough, but meanwhile the underlying illness can be getting steadily worse. The most likely causes are: bronchitis (inflammation in the lung tubes), tuberculosis, lung cancer, bronchiectasis (in which pus pockets form in the lung tubes) and other respiratory diseases.

The instant you realize that you have a chronic cough go to your doctor. The doctor can make a number of tests to find out if a respiratory disease is causing your cough. Then he can start treatment early in the game, which is when most respiratory diseases can be successfully dealt with. If your cough is not [illegible] but not why. It may be something major or it may be serious. Until you know for sure, it's nothing to fool around with. Don't neglect it. Be sure or you may be sorry.

Support The Hockey Leaders And Coaches

The enthusiastic group of leaders and coaches active in the Vermilion Stadium and the Arena make it possible for every youngster in town and district to have an opportunity to participate in hockey under properly supervised conditions. Not only do they provide facilities, but they make available to our young lads, proper instructions and leadership so that the boys may develop their hockey skills. Who knows but that someday one or more of our boys will be playing with Canada's National team.

But there is more to minor hockey than developing good players. Participation in this great sport provides exercise that will improve the body, training that will improve the mind, and an opportunity to learn co-operation, discipline and a respect for rules. These are characteristics which will stand them in good stead throughout their lives.

"Alberta's Schools of Agriculture" An Interesting History —

The Standard was pleased to receive a complimentary copy of the recently published volume entitled "Alberta's Schools of Agriculture". This is a most interesting book, telling the story of the Schools of Agriculture from the moment that they were first thought of right up to the present day. The Vermilion School of course plays a leading part in the story.

While the volume is based on facts and history, it reads for the most part like a good fiction story. It is brought vividly to life by mentioning prominent figures in the life of Alberta, and so many well remembered V.I.A. teachers of the earlier days, including S. Carl Hechbert, currently Vermilion's Mayor.

The book has been published by the Alberta Department of Agriculture as a centennial project. It was completed and edited by Mr. Ed Swindlehurst, himself a graduate of the V.I.A. in 1930. He later became a member of the staff of the Department of Agriculture, and for 10 years prior to 1964 served as Research Information Editor and Supervisor of the Radio and Information Branch.

Mr. Swindlehurst spent many hours searching the files of the Vermilion Standard for material for the book, and numerous quotations are contained from the columns of this newspaper.

Innisfail, Alberta.
Mr A. Cooper, M.L.A.,
Editor, Vermilion Standard.

Dear Mr Cooper

In my hurried appointment to Innisfail and Bowden Institution I was unable to have said "Good bye" to so many friends at Vermilion Centennial, Dewberry, St. Andrew's, Derwent and Myrnam. I am grateful to so many persons which I made individually yourself. Thank you for your many kind services. I thanked my parishioners before leaving Centennial Parish. I wish to thank Father Keenan for kindness and fatherly advice Father Ling and other friends including Rev R Hart. Am sorry to be leaving the Lions Club at Vermilion. They have accomplished much for Vermilion so far. To the Vermilion Hospital for their graciousness and sacrificial-minded ness I am deeply grateful. Likewise to other hospitals.

To all many thanks and best wishes in Christ.

Sincerely yours,
Rev. I. F. Purcell

The Snow Problem In The County Of Vermilion River

(By RALPH WILSON)

Cases again blocked roads are the order of the day and the County snowploughs are next to useless for into the night. Once again we must study ways and means by which we may cut down on this costly maintenance work.

The new high graded roads with their bark edged ditches are much more easily kept free of snow than are the older roads. When however there is a heavy fall of fine driftwood wool back from the road, very little snowfence is required. The snow is retained in the field where it belongs. The road remains passable. The beauty of the farm stead is enhanced. The value of the property is increased.

For information on tree plant ing, weed control in shelterbelts or related subjects, contact your county foreman. He is willing to call at your farm or to attend meetings anywhere in the county at any time. The phone number is 846-2244. Kitscoty

Centennial Projects Approved for Grants

Mr. J. R. D. Findlay, Centennial Co-ordinator for the Province of Alberta, states that many groups and associations throughout the province are developing ideas for celebrating Canada's Centennial of Confederation and have advised the Centennial Office of their need for "dollar support".

There are also many businessmen and companies in the province with available promotional money who are looking for a Centennial project.

One of the purposes of the Centennial Co-ordinator's office is to bring together the project and the sponsor and Mr. Findlay will be happy to assist any businessmen or firm with this in mind.

Interested parties could contact him as follows: Mr. J. R. D. Findlay, Centennial Co-ordinator, 421 Legislative Building, Edmonton or by telephone 228-3887, and he will be pleased to discuss the available project list and provide any other assistance possible

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

ANYONE FOR MITCHINO MOUSE?

According to W. H. T. Mead, Livestock Commissioner, there may be new life in prospect for the horse industry in this area. A laboratory in Eastern Canada is investigating the possibilities of establishing centres in the west to collect urine from pregnant mares. The urine is used in preparation of hormones. What is required is a number of animals able to hitch fifty or more mares at a time. Hitching in this case meaning the attaching of equipment to collect the urine. From present information which is somewhat limited the economics of this venture look very interesting. The Alberta Department of Agriculture is at present compiling lists of people who are breeding mares, who may have facilities for stabling mares, people who may be interested in stabling mares as speculative venture, etc.

Interested persons are welcome to contact us at the D.A. office.

FARM LABOR EXCHANGE

The success of last summers labor exchange program is unquestioned. Almost every farmer who employed one of these young people from the Scandinavian countries is anxiously waiting for the replacement this spring. We haven't been contacted by the organizers of this program, however, because of last year's success we certainly believe it will be continued in 1966. Farmers interested in employing one of these Scandinavian young people as farm help should contact either R. Wilson, County Agricultural Fieldman at Kitscoty or the D.A.'s office in Vermilion.

ECHO RAPESEED

It appears that some rapeseed growers are selling commercial Polish rapeseed and calling it Echo "cash in" on the premium for this variety. Echo outyields Polish by 15-20 per cent, has greater straw strength and less tendency to shatter.

There are no royalties at present to prohibit sale of commercial rapeseed under varietal name, providing a loophole for unscrupulous growers. The only way to protect yourself when buying Echo rapeseed is to buy certified seed which is guaranteed as to varietal purity. Certified seed also assures germination and purity within grade.

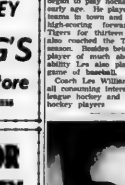
Les Williams, who has been coach in charge of Minor League hockey for the past two seasons. Last winter, in company with Stan Manyluk, he coached the Vermilion Bantams, the team which won the 1964-65 provincial championship.

Les was born in Vermilion and began to play hockey at a very early age. He played on junior teams in town and then was a high-scoring forward on the Tigers for thirteen years. He also coached the Tigers for a season. Besides being a hockey player of much above average ability Les also played a good game of baseball.

Coach Les Williams takes an all consuming interest in minor league hockey and little league hockey players



FRED BRIMACOMBE

Chairman of Recreation Com.

Fred Brimacombe has a long record of outstanding recreation achievements to his credit. He has, as a Vermilion born boy, who contributed much to hockey, baseball and track.

Besides the chairman of the Recreation Commission for Vermilion Fred is a member of the town council.

Five Vermilion Teams Entered In Provincial Playoffs

Last year there were two teams from the minor leagues in Vermilion entered in the Alberta provincial playdowns. This year three of these have been doubled and Vermilion has six entries in the playdowns for Atom, Midget and Juvenile divisions. In fact the only class not represented is Junior hockey which is 18 years and over.

Besides the four entries in minor league hockey, Vermilion also has an entry in the intermediate A division of senior hockey.

TWO CHAMPIONSHIPS

Last year Vermilion made a clean sweep of the Bantam and Juvenile championships of the province provided the first time in hockey history of Alberta that two teams from the same rural centre have won two champion ships. This indicates that the boys are being well trained and well coached under Vermilion's minor league hockey organization.

Parents should give all the help and encouragement possible to the coaches managers and those who give so liberally of their time to see that the boys can take part in Canada's national game

EVERY BOY playing hockey in Vermilion will play in the Stadium during Minor Hockey Week in Canada.

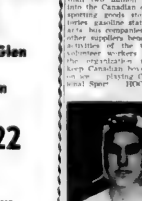
He acted as coach for one year and managed the Tigers for three years. Following that he was an official referee in the E. A. H. L. for six years.

He too like Les was a baseball player and a strong supporter of recreation generally.

Minor Hockey A Two Million or More Dollar Business

In addition to the showing out line of minor hockey expenditure shown below, the various affiliates of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association branches collect and expend revenues on their own. Raised by entry fees, private grants draw tickets and ubeviable bar sales etc. they have budgets run as high as the $16,000 reported by the Ontario Minor Hockey Association. On top of this may be added the almost fantastic amount spent by more than 12,000 teams and by the parents of more than 200,000 boys.

It is conservatively estimated that minor hockey players their parents their teams and the governing bodies pour much more than two million dollars back into the Canadian economy. The sporting goods stores and factories gasoline stations restaurants bus companies arenas and other supplies benefit from the activities of the thousands of volunteer workers who provide the organization necessary to keep Canadian boys having fun on ice playing Canada's National Sport HOCKEY.



BARRY WALSH

CRAIG'S DONATE HAT

Jim Stewart manager of Craig's Store in Vermilion has donated a hat to the Vermilion Minor Hockey teams and scores a goal. In the North-Sask A-1a Hockey League this includes 7 arena and has caused a limit of [illegible] to each player.

Barry Walsh at ex-Tiger has scored once a season but freely claims it to mostly four goals because Goaltender stands on his own net. Joe Lee when he was coach dressed the Blades 8 to 5 and was pelted the side of the house and also won himself a few steak dinners and the title from two Lloydminster business men.

Sick Babies Are Research Problems

Unfortunately babies can't talk and tell their physicians where the pain or just what is troubling them. The best they can do is cry a distress signal.

Physicians use their senses of smell, touch, sight and hearing very expertly. Guided by experience and sometimes aided by X-ray and diagnostic tests, they diagnose the cause. When medication is needed we can fill any prescription.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Attend Program of Minor Hockey Week in Canada

Every citizen in Vermilion and district should make it a point to attend the minor hockey week in the Vermilion Stadium. This is a Canada-wide National Week in which every boy who plays hockey in Vermilion will take part.

Practically every community in Canada, from Newfoundland to Victoria, has a minor hockey organization of some kind and will be actively participating in Minor Hockey Week. The minor hockey organization here in our town does not take a back seat to any, and Vermilion is probably fortunate that the local organization is probably on a par with the best in Canada.

Chambers of Commerce Are Prescriptions For Tomorrow

(By Mrs. E. Laidler)

Sixty five guests attended the annual banquet of the Manville and district Chamber of Commerce held in the Anglican Church basement on the evening of January 20th.

Rev Richards of McQueen Memorial United Church asked the blessing. The Anglican ladies catered to the banquet and the menu of roast beef, brown gravy and all that goes to make a delicious meal was much appreciated.

HEAD TABLE GUESTS

Head table guests were Mr. Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. for the Vermilion - Lloydminster constituency Mr Ronald Heed, a representative of the Provincial Government relation and guest speaker; Mayor Hasinoff and Mrs. Hasinoff; the president of the Manville and district Chamber of Commerce Bryan Corkery and Mrs. Corkery, the Rev Richards and Mrs Richards, the Rev W. A. Swinton, Rector of Christ Church at Manville and Mrs. Swinton; the mayor of the Manville and district Chamber of Commerce and Mr Harold Dodds a member of the Board of Directors of this C of C and well known rancher from north of Manville

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Mr Corkery as M.C. introduced the head table guests and expressed his appreciation of their presence and of the excellent attendance at the banquet, especially from the rural areas despite the severe weather

As president of the Chamber of Commerce Bryan proved to be a most able and well informed speaker.

During the course of his address he touched on the following

A Limited effort by all Chambers, produce more results than one or another — Manville and district Chamber has already been asked for support in matters of mutual interest by other Chambers in Alberta

2 A Chamber of Commerce is not for business men alone Farmers have an equal stake in the progress of the community

3 Lady members are able to add much to the value of the Chamber of Commerce not only as members of the community but as mothers and housewives

Mr Corkery is the owner of the Retail Drug Store in Manville although he is a company employee in Manville he is taking an active part in the progress of the community and was given a hearty round of applause at the conclusion of his address

PROGRESS IN MEDICINE

Mr Heed was then called upon to speak Using as the title of his address "Prescriptions for Tomorrow" he told the audience of the progress made in the field of medicine mentioning the figures 30 339 and 347 These amounts will be brought to mind later as he used the 30 to show that more progress has been made in the field of medicine in the last 30 years than in the previous 30 centuries

To say 30 be called a million makes it 30 000 which is the amount of dollars that the Pharmaceutical Association spends annually in research programs

The 347 was arrived into $2.47 this is the average cost of each prescription

He also pointed out that persons 65 with pensioners a low years old could expect to be hospitalized at least two weeks with the danger of possible death Today because of the new drugs that have been produced these patients may be successfully treated at home

There were many other interesting or progress pointed out by this interesting speaker all showing that though we may be confused at the high cost of some prescriptions we should recognize that they are "prescriptions for tomorrow" for a child born in this day may look forward to a considerably longer life than those of us who were born as recently as 30 years ago.

Mr Heed's talk was much enjoyed as was evident by the attentive audience and the applause as he took his seat

M.L.A. GUEST OF CHAMBER

Mr. Cooper was the next speaker, and in his usual convincing earnest, manner expressed his appreciation for the invitation to attend.

He also expressed the pleasure he had experienced when he learned of the reorganization of the Manville Chamber of Commerce

He stressed the desirability of a Chamber of Commerce in any community also stating value of a Chamber in speaking with the local government

The president thanked Mr. Cooper for his thoughtful words of advice He then called upon Doctor David Hasinoff, the Mayor of Manville to speak

INTRODUCES NEWCOMERS

Though totally unprepared Manville's genial Mayor rose to the occasion He invited the more recent residents of Manville to arise and be introduced These guests were Mr and Mrs Booth who have come to Manville from Saskatchewan Mr Booth is the manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce at Manville; The Rev and Mrs Richards; Mr Richards is the minister of McQueen Memorial United Church at Manville Mr and Mrs. John Riehers Mr Riehers is the new owner of the Manville Hotel coming here from Smoky Lake

BUSINESS POSTPONED

The annual meeting that was to be held after the banquet was postponed until the February meeting on February 17 due to the severity of the weather

Give the Manville and district Chamber of Commerce priority on February 17th and attend their meeting in the Hotel banquet room at 8 00 p.m.

Crucial Issues At Stake

Will Canada's 27th Parliament be up to the challenge of the imposing workload listed in the Throne Speech? Not unless the politicians finally learn the lesson of the Nov. 8 election — that Canadians want results and not hot air. The measures now proposed raise some crucial issues. What system will give Canadian savers and borrowers the best service at the least cost? What new institutions are needed to encourage healthy economic growth? What is the most effective way to encourage Canadian ownership and control of Canadian industry and resources? If government and opposition will confine their debate to these and other very important questions raised by the measures now proposed, the Financial Post comments, the program set out this week could prove to be a working blueprint for much real progress — and a less jaded public image for Parliament.

Encourage Industrial Expansion For Job Opportunities

The Economic Council of Canada has again emphasized the importance of developing employment opportunities for the constantly expanding Canadian working force. The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today pointed out that in literally hundreds of Canadian communities, Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade are working to encourage industrial expansion and to seek new industries and so to expand the job opportunities in their respective communities. The Canadian Chamber emphasizes the importance of the Chamber and Board efforts where it suggests that 100 new factory workers means the following benefits for the community. 400 more people, 125 more households, 80 more school children, 175 more motor vehicle registrations, 100 more workers employed in other than manufacturing, 375 more telephones, 3 more retail establishments, $1 million more retail sales per year.

The efforts of Canadian businessmen through their Boards and Chambers across Canada to expand the business in their community now becomes extremely important and affects the welfare of every Canadian.

District Agriculturist

AGRICULTURAL POLICY

The County of Vermilion River set up a new Agricultural Committee Jan 23rd consisting of Councillors Jim Stone Chairman, Johnnie Anderson and R.C. Gallaghty. Their responsibility will be County Agricultural Policy. This committee assumes the role formerly performed by the Agricultural Service Board. District Agriculturist Morley Douglas is the provincial government representative and agricultural advisor to the committee. Mr Ralph Wilson, formerly field supervisor for the county will now be the county agricultural fieldman working under the direction of the Agricultural Committee.

The chief changes from the former Agricultural Service Board are the addition of two officers on the committee have a vote and they've no former members. The committee has the same powers in respect to agricultural Policy as the School Committee has with regard to School Policy.

MINBURN PASTURE

A long awaited pasture improvement project at the Minburn Community Pasture will be launched in 1966. Provision will be let to clear 800 acres of brush in February. The cleared land will be sown to improved forage grass varieties. Mr Jack Kerns, Chairman of Land Utilization, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, says this is a first step toward improving the carrying capacity of Minburn pasture. He said that the speed with which the pasture is improved will depend on whether or not local people want the carrying capacity improved.

LIQUID FERTILIZER

Liquid fertilizer now offered for sale in Alberta is a good product. It will make plants grow better than when no fertilizer is used. Liquid fertilizer used at high enough rates will equal the growth achieved by other chemical fertilizers. Before a farmer buys liquid fertilizer he should know that it costs more to use than most dry fertilizers. Most of the trials conducted at the Lacombe Experimental Farm and the U. of A. would indicate that it costs at least twice as much to obtain the same results.

FARM PROFITS

Most farms could use an efficiency expert. At least this is the last remark farmers will make. I suppose they are thinking of the efficiency experts available for other business concerns which set out ways to increase net profits.

Farmers may run an efficiency check on their operation and for a lot less money than a businessman pays. A simple management of Agriculture will check out a 1965 farm operation for $10. The farmer needs a complete inventory of assets and liabilities, an account of cash receipts and expenses. The check will show the farmer his net worth, net income, the interest charged on investment and his labor returns. The check will do one more. It will show the farmer what enterprises are paying and how he stands with the average farmer in the district. The D.A. office is the place to contact for this service.

Double Wedding Held at Derwent

DERWENT — On November 6th, 1965, at 3.00 p.m. Mr. Matt D. Charchun and Mrs. Verna Charchun (nee Podlubny) recited once again their marriage vows of 25 years. Rev. Father Serwin performed the ceremony at the Ukrainian Catholic Church in Two Hills. Later a reception was held at the Mirror Catholic Hall to celebrate this gracious occasion, and also to celebrate the marriage of their eldest son Ben Marshall Charchun to Gladys Marjorie Charchun (nee Thomas), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Thomas of Calmar, Alberta. The young couple were wed at Calmar, in the St. Margaret Marys Roman Catholic Church, on October 22nd, four days and 25 years after the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Charchun, which was performed by Rev. M. P. Kaluzny, who also performed the marriage of Ben and Gladys.

Entering the hall on the arm of her husband the young bride wore a full length gown of French embroidered white satin, with fifty point sleeves, and clusters of sequins and jewels emphasized the scalloped neckline and three tiered scalloped gown length. The pearl studded veil was held in place by a jewel and pearl drop crown. The bride carried a bouquet of bright red American roses accented by an imported lace fan with trailings of rose buds studded with fern and ivy leaves She wore a matching cultured pearl necklace and earrings, a gift from the groom.

The maid of honor was Miss Doreen Thomas, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Lillian Podlubny cousin of the groom, and Miss Judy Thomas, sister of the bride. They were identical floor length gowns of gold peau de sole styled on the A-line featuring sparkling rhinestone and jewels on the bodices, with softly folded bows holding in place the flowing back panels. They wore white matching shoes and gloves. Miss Sandra Thomas, was her sister's junior bridesmaid. Her gown of gold peau de sole featured a natural length gathered skirt, rhinestone and jewel studded bodice, a folded bow in the back panel, with white matching shoes and gloves. The girls carried cascade bouquets of white gardenias, pink and mauve apple blossoms on a French imported lace, and wore pearl drop earrings and necklaces, a gift from the bride.

Attending the groom were Mr. Stanley Charchun, cousin of the groom, and the best men were Mr. Mike Hancar, uncle of the bride, and Mr. Clayton Brodby, friend of the groom. Junior best man was Mr. Clemment Charchun, brother of the groom.

Following the bridal procession were the groom's parents. Mrs. Charchun looked very elegant in her chocon jacket dress of green and gold blended brocade, with green accessories and a corsage of yellow apple blossoms. She was attended by Mrs. C. Algot of Derwent and Mrs. T. Curson of Edmonton. Attending Mr. Charchun was Mr. C. Algot and Mr. F. Nester of Derwent.

The head table was centered with two four - tier wedding cakes with twisted vines and trailing roses; red roses to match the lovely wed bride's bouquet and yellow roses to match the bride of 25 years' corsage

Mr. Clarence Algot, master of ceremonies called on Rev. J. Cherkawsky to say grace. The toast to the groom was also given by Mr. C. Algot. About 150 guests attended the celebration and they extended their joyous wishes to the celebrants of this unusual occasion.

SMYKNESS — How Can Your Child Be Helped?

Your child needs to learn to be "belongs" to you, that he can count on you for understanding; come what may. While he was a helpless baby he needed your complete protection and loving care. Now, as he is growing up he still needs affectionate help and direction as he begins to take over activities, decisions and responsibilities for himself. The security that comes from knowing that you, his parents, are standing by with approval, understanding and interest is the bread-firm base from which your child steps confidently forth to meet new people and new situations.

There are some common pitfalls into which even the best-meaning parents often fall, thus failing to give their children this security even while loving them dearly. Telling your child "I won't love you any more" or angrily calling him a "bad boy" can have consequences you would be very anxious to avoid. On the other hand, avoiding unpleasantness for him (and yourself) by failing to help him face the need for self-control and restraint can be a serious matter too. Some parents, anxious to raise "a perfect child" criticize too frosty and overwork the "no's and the don't's. They feel they have raised a child that is always ill at ease because, drawing back from any kind of action or decision.

Indulging a child one minute and scolding him the next doesn't provide a firm base of security, either. Restrain and control him on the important issues until he learns to control himself. You can do this in such a way that he has docile that you love him, or that he himself is all right, even though he's got to stop what he is doing.

The second essential the shy child needs is the feeling that he is able to do many of the things he wants to do and to be many of the things he wants to be.

The shy child needs to feel more capable, adequate and important. There are there are many ways in which parents can, almost from the child's birth, weaken his faith in his own abilities to be and do like others. Some of the more obvious situations for parents to avoid in this regard are as follows:

1. Limiting his experiences, such failing to allow sufficient time to sit up, crawl stand failing to make suitable play provisions; failing to let him help feed wash and dress himself before he is able to take over completely or cautiously.

2. Using him to your own advantage keeping such a close check on him that he can't learn anything for himself

3. Making all decisions for him

4. Too much don't touch, stop that, don't you do anything at all", wherever he tries something for himself in his way

5. Expecting too much from the child in the way of memories, tablets or cleanliness.

6. Making facetious remarks or laughing at his childish, awkward attempts to learn. Also neglecting to praise and make suitable comments when he achieves success.

7. Overdoing the emphasis on the child's cultivation of artistic activities to the neglect of helping him learn handicraft skills, so that he feels unequal among his friends and playmates.

8. Humiliating or embarrassing him with a remark because he's signed a place at a party, for example, so that afterwards he feels unseen in social situations. A bright child interested in new, long words, may be driven by adult laughter to limit his speech drastically. Too much emphasis on a child's size — He's so big, or he's unusually small, may make him feel he is different. Even the choice in naming a child may contribute to shyness in a variety of ways.

LABCOURSE-STYGRA

MANNVILLE, — Rev. Richards solemnized the double-ring ceremony recently when Mary Margie, second daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Sydora of Manitora, became the bride of Leslie Harold, only son of Mr and Mrs. Ernest Labcourse of Manville. The ceremony took place at Queens Memorial United Church at Manville. Soloist was Mrs. Diane Betty.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white net and lace. featuring a fitted bodice with square scalloped neckline trimmed with sequins and finished with illusion sleeves. The skirt was a cloud of nylon net and net, lace tulle veil was held in place by a sparkling crown of sequins and brilliants, and she carried a cascade bouquet of crimson Better crystal autumn boreala jew. Mary was a gift of the groom.

The bride had five attendants. Mrs. Elizabeth Beckett as matron-of-honor was dressed in a sheath of embossed taffeta in platinum lace, with net over skirt and featuring a matching ring hat and veil. She had white accessories and carried a sheaf of variegated yellow roses.

Little Rhonda Beckett as flower girl was sweet in a dress of matching taffeta in that of the matron-of-honor. She had a headband of sequins and pearls and carried a tiny basket of miniature roses.

The three bridesmaids, Misses Lorraine Boe, Elaine Rudd and Wendy Whitmore, were identical sheaths of deep turquoise brocaded taffeta, featuring a low back enhanced by a bow. They had white accessories and carried a sheaf of variegated yellow roses and wore a matching corsage.

Attending the groom were Messrs. Myron Yewchuk, Gordon Syre, Harry Rathje and Barry Chrysler

At the reception for over 250 guests in the Orange Hall at Manville, the bride's mother received, dressed in a rose-red sheath and bolero of crepe and lace, complemented by a head piece of white flowers.

The groom's mother wore an afternoon frock of powder blue embroidered brocade with a jumper blue Both mothers were corsages of pink roses.

At the reception, the bride's table was laid with a hand-crocheted table cloth which had been done by the groom's great-aunt Mrs. Labcourse. The three-tier wedding cake, made by the groom's sister and decorated with bells and yellow roses, centred the table and was flanked by white tapers and scarlet roses in an invitation fountain spray. The pillars used for the cake had been previously used for the fifteenth wedding anniversary of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Labcombe.

The guest book was in the care of Miss Heather Morrison, each guest being presented with a one-flower corsage

Proposing toasts at the reception were both of the groom's grandmothers, Mrs. E. Dearle and Mrs. E. Labcombe

Rev Richards asked the bless ing, the bride cut the cake and at advice to the newly wedded cou ple

Mr. Henry Beckett proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom appropriately replied

During the reception the bride's parents served refreshments at open house and hosts of friends attended the dance The Myrnam Rhyth Riders supplied the music

Out-of-town guests were from Flin Flon, Calgary, Kelowna, Edmonton, Viking, Mannora, Myrnam, Innisfree and Minburn.

LEGION BOB CATS ON TOP OF LEAGUE

Vermilion Legion Bob-Cats are on the top of the heap in Eastern Alberta six-team juvenile loop.

Last Saturday night the Bob-Cats trounced the Lloydminster Nelson Loggers 4 to 2 at the Vermilion Stadium in a two-game league schedule fixture.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Lee Kreller, the Bob-Cats came out fast and Jim MacLean opened the scoring assisted by Derek Beattie and Jim Gannon. A few minutes later MacLean again dented the mesh, assisted by Kevin Gannon, and this put the Bob-Cats two up at the end of the first period.

Evan Hughes added another goal with Jim Halterman and Pat Carney helping. Garry Tidsbury finished off the Bob-Cat scoring, assisted by Brent Williams and Beattie.

Scoring for the Lloydminster Loggers were D. Mcland assisted by R. Bittner, and F. Mazlowski unassisted.

NEXT HOME GAME THIS THURSDAY, JAN. 27th

The Bob-Cats next home game is Thursday night at the Stadium against St. Paul, and they should be a good crowd out to witness these two fast teams in action. The Bob-Cats were last year's provincial champions, while St. Paul won the league title. See these two teams meet this Thursday, and battle for first place in the league stand ing. Game time is 8:15 p.m.

THREE HOME GAMES LEFT

Automatic Automotion The Year's Oddest Story

MANNVILLE — Mannville residents do not have to watch a television to see driverless cars in action, they have them in their own hometown.

A overly but nonetheless amusing incident took place here on the morning of January 21st.

CAR RUNS AMUCK

Gwyne Morse left his newly purchased automobile idling on the street in front of the M.D. office, set at the "park" position.

COLLISION — GOING SHOPPING

In the process, it hit another car this one had a driver, the impact turned Gwyne's car around so that it started in a forward direction and proceeded through a large window in the front of Malik's Jr. to $1.00 store. Here, all the bargains offered at the current sale at Malik's destroyed the westerncome machine long enough for its started owner to overtake it.

The moral of the story -- Do not block your wagon in a store -- hitch it to a hitching post.

Skilled tradesmen are readily available during winter months and can give particular attention to your project. Householders desiring to have their repair work, rebuilding and remodelling done should plan it for the cold winter months when men and materials are available. By doing so you will avoid serious inconveniences and delays on your project and ensure employment for more people when they need it.

Employment Campaign Provides Work & Wages

"Most unemployed people want to work; they want wages, not a subsidy," W. C. Stewart of Winnipeg, prairie regional director of the Unemployment Insurance Commission declared today. He strongly urged both householders and employers to get behind their local Employment Committees and Winter Employment Committees which have completed plans for winter employment campaigns across the prairies. The "Kick-off" for most of the community employment drives is set for January. The National Employment Service works closely with the committees.

"The unemployed person who really wants to work but can't get a job suffers a loss of morale as well as a financial loss", stated Mr Stewart. "Any job, no matter how small will help and there is so much work which can be done more cheaply in winter when qualified men and materials are more likely to be readily available"

HIRE PEOPLE

The UIC official paid high tribute to "the public spirited committee members" who combined final details before Christmas for their campaigns. "The efforts of these people deserve current our full support," he stressed. "It is virtually impossible to gauge the number of jobs found through these campaigns, but we do know that last winter's campaigns were a great success, and early indications are that this season's employment campaign will turn up even more jobs."

FALSE SECURITY

Mr. Stewart warned against any tendency to become "lulled into a false sense of security" by comparatively buoyant employment conditions on the prairies. Although the latest DBS figures on unemployment for the prairies at 2.7 per cent of the labour force, there are pockets of unemployment across the country and these will increase as winter progresses, he stated. The U.I.C. director urged householders and employers alike to study their needs with a view to doing work which might just as well be done now as next spring.

WHEN EVERYBODY WORKS EVERYBODY BENEFITS

"When everybody works, everybody benefits from what we come a rather trite expression, but it is nonetheless true," said Mr. Stewart. "The provision of any winter job, no matter how small, boosts the purchasing power of your community and so bolsters the general economy."

In winter, men are available. Materials are available. And special off-season discounts are often available. So, doesn't it make a lot of sense to have those repairs and renovations done now. Not simply construction and building jobs—but things like having the lawnmower fixed and the drapes cleaned and the rugs shampooed; having the furniture re-upholstered and the electrical appliances repaired. All jobs which can call for a long wait come Spring-time—but which can be handled quickly, efficiently and easily during the winter season. What's more, government-sponsored low-cost Home Improvement Loans are available through your bank, to assist you in carrying out all kinds of renovation jobs you've been meaning to do—up to $4,000 with up to ten years to repay!

No doubt about it—winter is the best time to spruce up your home or place of business. Do it now!

Everybody benefits when winter work is increased

Report From The Capital

F. U. A. Present Annual Brief To The Cabinet

Alberta farmers, at least those who belong to the FUA, had their annual audience with the Cabinet last week and they had lots to say.

The FUA brief asked the provincial government to set up commissions to investigate taxation and car insurance. On the former subject the FUA said: "Agriculture is bearing a somewhat larger share of property taxes than are other segments of our society, particularly when we recall the farmers disparity in income".

The brief repeated the oft heard lament about the low price system but added that it would bring depression conditions by 1972. It suggested a food price increase to boost the farm income, something of course which, a provincial government has no control.

Comments on car insurance seem to fall into line with growing agitation for a provincial car insurance scheme, or at least, a thorough investigation of its possibilities. And the brief asked that an investigation commission determine "whether all the present rates are justified."

In one case the new instanevet that Alberta farm spokesmen agreed with the people of Quebec the FUA submission asked that the government take a look at the eastern province's anti-poverty campaign. It said Quebec was attacking poverty "with courage and imagination".

If the farmers themselves painted a pretty bleak picture of conditions, the statisticians also had a story to tell.

They figures show that Alberta farmers last year benefited from a boost in livestock marketings even to realize their greatest gross cash income in seven years. The total was $632,000,000.

For those who don't have livestock, a Brooks horticulturist, Dr. I. L. Nonneckc, suggested that they go in for orchards and other specialty crops. He added that western farming is no longer a way of life. It's a business and time people concerned realized this.

DOCTORS, DENTISTS AND DRUGGISTS ALL HIT NEWS

Alberta's doctors, dentists and druggists all hit the news last week.

The druggists took a proposal for a prepaid insurance plan covering prescriptional drugs before the cabinet. And spokesmen for the pharmaceutical association as the "pharmacare" plan got a good hearing. No commitments were made

DENTISTS UP FEES

The dentists announced an increase of up to 25% in their fee schedule. But Dr Gordon Gleave a dentist MLA and university teacher, was quick to point out that it's possible to not adhere to the schedule which is merely a advice. Some of them have been charging the higher rates all along he explained.

As for the doctors, a committee from Quebec gave them a large part of the credit for Alberta's medical care scheme. The study group said it was impressed by the medical care made available by doctors on a voluntary basis through MSI before the government scheme was set up. The Alberta plan, of course, provides assistance to low income families for medical insurance premiums

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Two other programs that aid Alberta's less fortunate residents also got attention. Public Works Minister Fred Colborne said his department hopes to extend its community development program into new areas. He said the two-year trial with Trochu Indians and Metis in the Hay Lakes area proved remarkably successful. And it has put people to work, not just provided them with handouts, he said.

INCREASE IN ADOPTIONS

Welfare department officials noted a huge jump in adoptions last year, particularly of children of mixed race. They say an advertising campaign appears to have paid off. We can look for more of the same this year. Meanwhile a new hassle appears to be brewing on the subject of religion in adoptions. More of that will kindly come out during the session.

The 113,841 companies in Canada subject to the corporation income tax in 1963 made $7 per cent profits after taxes on gross sales.

Local Tradesmen And Businesses Support 'Do It Now' Campaign

In the not so distant past, winter in Vermilion and district, as in the rest of Canada, was a time to be dreaded by the tradesman, salesman and employer. No one ever thought of getting any normal "warm weather" work done, or of buying or arranging anything needed in the warm weather.

As a result of this attitude of "you can't do anything outside (or in) during the Canadian winter", employers and employees did little all winter but sit at home and think thoughts of the long hours of work ahead in the summer, doing jobs that could just as easily be done in winter

New materials, new techniques and most important of all, a new attitude on the part of everyone has resulted in a "spreading out" of the work throughout the cold months.

Today, everything from a redecorating job to a complete building is being done during the winter months costing the work load, enabling the contractor, worker and customer to plan their activities to give the satisfaction to all

But the "Do It Now" idea for Canadians in the winter is on IT NOW!

Strong Demand For Farm Credit — Increase 50% Last Year

Farm Credit Corporation loans to Alberta farmers are up approximately 50% over 1964. Since the start of 1965-66 fiscal year on April 1st, 1965, the federal lending agency has approved 2,900 loans for a total of $56,614,000.00 to Alberta farmers.

The local Farm Credit office at Vermilion, which serves an area from the North Sask. River to the Battle River and from the Sask. border up to and including range 3, reports that 91 loans were made in 1965 totalling $1,371,900. Mr. L. R. Rose District Supervisor from Wetaskin in forecasts that in 1966, loan applications will increase 15% over the 1965 level.

The majority of the money was used by farmers to buy additional land, with leases of loan amounts going for farm development, machinery, equipment, new buildings, construction, building renovations, purchase of basic herd livestock and other miscellaneous items such as drilling wells, installing water and sewage systems and other permanent improvements.

The Farm Credit office at Vermilion also handles loans under the "Farm Machinery Syndicate Act" which enables farmers to form a syndicate for the joint purchase and use of farm machinery This requires a minimum of three farmers who are farming independently of one another to form a syndicate and thereby share costs of farm machinery Both new and used machinery may be purchased with this type of loan. It is pointed out that this is not a mortgage loan

The Legend of Groundhog Day — February 2

On this day, commonly known as "Ground-hog Day" the woodchuck or marmot, emerges from hibernation in his hole-in-the-ground. He comes to the entrance and surveys the outside world for the weather forecast If the skies are dull and dark, he prepares to stay up and take up life where he left off.

If the sun is shining and he sees his shadow, he decides that there will be six more weeks of winter. So back he goes and tucks himself in again. At least, that's the legend.

Safety Measures In The Home

A protective measure in the home is to familiarize every adult member of the family with the phone numbers of police, fire department and family doctor. A list of these should be kept handy to the phone. Each member, including the bigger children, should learn how to turn off electricity, gas and water at the main where these utilities enter the building.

FARM BUSINESS

Farm Business arrangements from farm purchase to cereal planning occupy about half a D.A.'s time schedule in 1965. In 1959 Farm Management was a very minor part of the Extension program

Two farm business discussion groups are functioning and a possible third may get underway before seeding time. The extremely cold weather has played havoc with schedules but the D.A. staff has ready long journeys in 70 below zero weather. New discussion groups were through mail, the relationship of farm prices to those costs, tractor power cost of operation of cereals, forages, pasture, and livestock. Cost figures are taken from the group, orientated examples to local conditions. The groups are organized wherever enough farmers get together to make the effort worthwhile. Both functioning groups this winter have more than 20 families involved.

FARM BUSINESS ANALYSIS

Farmers may check their efficiency of operation simply by contacting their local D.A. The analysis will provide the open letter an accurate account of how much enterprise on the farm worked in 1965. It provides a method of future planning which eliminates guess work. There is a service charge for Farm Business Analysis of $10 and the farmer must know his inventory liabilities, cash costs and receipts Businessmen pay about $100 for a similar service

In the Sunday School session pupils of the primary department met unny two selections led by Mrs. L. Mcintosh.

Special announcement w a s made of the showing of the film "The Paul Carlson Story" in the chapel after the Sunday evening service on Feb. 13th. This is the story of the missionary to Stanleyville Congo, when several missionaries including Dr. Paul Carlson were murdered.

Visitors in the services included David Tebsbury and Russell Kupin Edmonton who visited their families for the weekend also David's guest, Ray Cranston of Fort Saskatchewan, who accompanied the boys home

Pleasant Valley

At last the weather is a little nicer and with the longer days it will not be too long to spring and gardening

A letter received recently from the Waterfields in Victoria tells us that some people are already working in their gardens. Snowdrops are in bloom and the grass is a lovely green.

We travelled with friends from Manorville recently on a lovely drive to Bear Island.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Buddiks families in their bereavement.

Wayne Gould was home for a few days recently.

Arthritis, one of the most common diseases, is still somewhat of a mystery as to cause and cure. However, much is known about successful treatment of the disease in its various forms If it is treated in its earliest stages. A doctor should be consulted as soon as symptoms are noticed.

85 Years and Still Playing a Good Rock

Graham Skinner, 85 years young, still plays a dandy rock and curls steadily. All this week he has been playing in the bonspiel at Wildmere where his rink won a prize. Wherever there is a curling game Graham is ready for it, and win or lose, he enjoys it immensely.

Wheat Varieties 1965

The accompanying map shows the 1965 distribution of the wheat varieties in Western Canada. This annual survey made by the Searle Grain Company reveals a further slight decrease, in 1965, in the percentage of Thatcher. The percentage of Selkirk increased slightly. These two varieties together still occupy more than three-quarters of the total wheat acreage in Western Canada.

Thatcher increased for more of the wheats acreage, 35.7 million acres or 38.3% of the total, than any other single variety. This percentage compared to 41.1% last year. Selkirk was assessed for a considerable acreage in many crop districts but it was not dominant.

The main Durum wheat variety accounted for 8.7% of the total wheat acreage. Other varieties accounting for the balance of the wheat acreage in western Canada included, Garnet, Lake, Pembina, Red Bobs, Saunders and some miscellaneous varieties.

The leading variety in each province with last year's percentage shown in brackets was as follows: Alberta, Thatcher 38.0% (41.4%); Saskatchewan, Thatcher 38.0% (41.4%); and Manitoba Selkirk 75.5% (71.6%).

Jim Barr came by the negative, was curious and developed it, the Standard scanned it — now who knows them? The Standard guarantees that it could have been a team from Kitscoty. Would anyone who can tell the Standard anything about this team please do so.
